One-Time Cowboy Congressman, Percy Gassaway, Dies Suddenly

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—Capitol Hill heard with sadness today that the one-time cowboy congressman, Percy L. Gassaway, was dead.

Singularly, the congressional friends of the picturesque Oklahoman—and he had dozens of them—asked one another the same question—a subject that Gassaway often talked about:

"How did he die?"

With a touch of the poet about him—old Gas, as he called himself—would often tell his friends in Washington that the way he wanted to go was riding the range against a western sunset.

Gassaway didn't die that way.

He was stricken at 8 a.m. today in his ranch home near Coalgate, Okla., and death came while a motored ambulance was taking him to the hospital at Ada. He was 51.

Gassaway had his own ideas about how to represent his constituents. He maintained to his intimate friends that his horse-back riding and other stunts about the capital were the best method of bringing to the public's attention measures he advocated, or measures he didn't.

"There are 434 congressmen up here

WE ATTENDED a big Broadway movie opening the other night, and it was all right, but it was not to be compared with our movie openings down in Dade county, Florida.

They had great lights spraying the front of the Broadway theater where we saw this opening the other night, and swell limousines rolled up to the door and let out nicely dressed ladies and gents who seemed to be somebody, and Colonel Jay Flippen was running here and there employing his choicest Arkansaw accents trying to get folks to step up to a mike and say something.

There were cops along the sidewalk, and autograph seekers and all that sort of business, but the opening lacked the general aplomb of our Dade county openings. Like one at the Lincoln theater, on Lincoln road, in Miami Beach, for instance.

Of course, we do not get many movie openings in Dade county, but when we do get one, we try to make something of it. You can always tell when an opening is coming up on Lincoln road, by the way Mr. Sonny Shepard, the manager of the Lincoln theater, goes about in a state of suppressed excitement.

Mr. Shepard has his dinner jacket newly pressed for a big opening, and the pretty girl in the ticket wicket gets a fresh hair-do, and the genial doorman, who always tips you off

REORGANIZATION OF GOVERNMENT FOLLOWS REVOLT OF ANARCHISTS

Stern Francisco Largo Caballero Undertakes To Set Up New Regime

TO BE PATTERNED AFTER ONE FORCED TO RESIGN

Nation's Temporary Capital Bombed By Fleet Of Insurgent Planes

(By Associated Press)

Stern, gray-haired Francisco Largo Caballero undertook last (Saturday) night to form a new "win the war" Spanish government.

His second cabinet of the civil war fell yesterday (Saturday) morning; four hours later he again was intrusted with the task of ministry-making.

The government crisis was traced to the anarchist revolt in Catalonia, still not entirely suppressed.

Largo Caballero, extreme Socialist, however, said he would try to form a new administration with the same political elements as the old—Socialists, Left Republicans, Communists and Anarcho-Syndicalists.

While the premier worked in Valencia, the government's temporary capital was bombed by a fleet of insurgent airplanes. Several persons were reported wounded.

In north Spain, insurgents pressed on in their offensive against Bilbao, Basque capital and important seaport.

Insurgents reported the northern wing of their army had reached the outskirts of Munguia, seven miles northeast of their main objective.

The southern wing was stated to have encircled Amorebieta, in a valley 10 miles southeast of the seaport.

Five hundred children of the refugee-swelled population of the city, the Basque mission in Paris announced, will be evacuated to the United States.

Insurgents in the University City sector of Madrid, besieged while besieging the capital, carried on a war within a war.

Government militiamen held their fire as reports ran the length of the government trenches that a revolt had broken out among their foe.

They hazarded a guess a group in Santa Cristina hospital wanted to surrender to the government forces against the wishes of the force in the clinic hospital.

The British destroyer Hunter, disabled by an explosion that killed eight men and injured 14 Thursday off the coast of Spain, was towed stern-first into Gibraltar harbor.

A mixed investigating commission of British and Spanish officers continued a search for evidence of the cause of the explosion, which British authorities earlier laid tentatively to a floating mine.

'NO COMPROMISE' STAND TAKEN BY ADMINISTRATION SIGNAL FOR WAR

Leaders Of Opposition Quickly Accept Challenge Of Proponents

UNYIELDING 'DIE-HARDS' GRATIFIED AT SITUATION

Will Lend All Efforts In Attempt To Defeat Plan Completely

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—The administration's "no compromise" edict on the Roosevelt court bill was the signal today for opposing forces to square away from a senate battle that may go down as one of the historic debates of all time, or may suddenly be dissolved by a surprise development.

Leaders of the opposition quickly accepted the challenge of administration leaders, who declared that "the battle will go on" for the bill submitted by President Roosevelt more than three months ago.

The unyielding "die-hards" among the opponents expressed gratification that the issue would be drawn on the unmodified bill. But from the moderates who had hoped for a compromise settlement, came a defiant

A Louisiana Training institute clarinet player who escaped Friday night while the institution's band was giving a concert here was lodged in the parish jail yesterday on charges of burglarizng Hunt and Whitaker's store on DeSiard street.

The youth, George Lovett, 17, was captured shortly before midnight Friday by training institute employes who had trailed him to the Illinois Central yards. In his possession they found about $20 in silver and two automatic pistols which he had taken from the store.

Freely admitting his guilt, Lovett said he climbed to the roof of the Hunt and Whitaker building on a drain pipe. On the roof he found a

FOUR PRISONERS STILL AT LARGE

Armed Men Apparently Make Good Escape From Longview Jail

LONGVIEW, Tex., May 15.—(AP)—Four armed prisoners, including a man adjudged insane, tonight apparently had made good their escape from the Gregg county jail.

North and east Texas officers were on the alert for the four who fled the jail in a radio-equipped sheriff's squad car, later recovered near Overton. One of the men was last seen near Gilmer, officers said, and others were sought between Big Sandy and Pittsburgh.

The prisoners left a trail of three other stolen cars. A man fitting the description of Goldie Hariston, one of the prisoners, held up a salesman, stole his sedan and then wrecked it near Gilmer. He was last seen afoot near Gilmer, Deputy Sheriff G. E. Black said.

Officers said the other three, Laval Stephens, young life termer; Norwood McCall, convicted of burglary and declared insane; and Thomas Lewis, abandoned the officers' car, stole a taxicab at Big Sandy and another car at Pittsburg. They were last reported at Pittsburg, heading west.

Officers here believed Hariston was en route to Mt. Pleasant.

The men broke from their cells atop the county courthouse after Night Jailer Charles Davis was relieved of his keys and pistol at gun point after taking a soft drink to McCall.

INFIDELITY CHARGED BY WIFE OF BILBO

POPLARVILLE, Miss., May 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Theo G. Bilbo, wife of Mississippi's junior United States senator, answered his suit against her for divorce today by charging him with infidelity and abandonment.

Bilbo's divorce suit is based on allegations of cruel and inhuman treatment. It, as well as Mrs. Bilbo's cross-bill, is scheduled to be heard in chancery court here Monday before Chancellor Ben Stevens.

Mrs. Bilbo charged in her cross-bill that she had aided her husband in his many political campaigns but that he had humiliated her by becoming involved in bribery scandals and by "association with low, lewd women."

She alleged that when he was governor he "abandoned her room in the mansion and would never see or converse with her if he could possibly avoid it."

Contending that Bilbo had never properly supported her, Mrs. Bilbo asked the court to grant her a separation, $1,000 attorney's fees, not less than $2,500 to "put her on a comparable and equal terms with him" and at least one-third of his annual salary as senator.

Mrs. Bilbo challenged the jurisdiction of the court here, contending the case should be transferred to the Jackson court.

Child Talks After Years Of Silence

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 15.—(AP)—A new world unfolded today for chubby, blue-eyed Billy Payne whose first five years have been spent in silence with his deaf and mute parents.

For the first time in his life he romped and played with other children and happily prattled simple words as "mommy," "daddy," "ball" and "dog."

His kindergarten teacher, Osie Bennett, said he now has a vocabulary of 100 words and is learning rapidly. Billy, bright-faced and energetic, has lived in the mountains near Knoxville.

For years he heard no human voice. He had no playmates. He conveyed his simple wants to his parents, Mr

COUPLE DROWNED AFTER MARRYING

GREENVILLE, Miss., May 15.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wynn, who were married last night at Leland, died 45 minutes after the ceremony by drowning.

Their automobile plunged through guard chains at Slater's ferry, six miles from Darlove, Miss., and the couple were trapped in the car after it submerged in six feet of water in Sunflower river.

The couple were married by Rev. Dr. Moore, Methodist pastor at Leland and started to drive to Pickens, Miss., where they were to reside.

Their bodies were recovered from the water early today and taken to Pickens for burial. Mr. Wynn was 33 years old and his wife was 28.

LAW ON WAGES TO BE ENFORCED

Labor Department In Arkansas Told To Make Measure Effective

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., May 15.—(AP)—Attorney General Jack Hold held today that the state labor department could proceed with enforcement of the Arkansas minimum wage for women law, passed in 1915, and held unconstitutional by the United States supreme court in 1927.

This view was expressed in an opinion given State Labor Commissioner Ed I. McKinley, who asked the ruling after the United States supreme court upheld a Washington state minimum wage law last March 29.

"We do not presume to say what the supreme court of the United States might hold should some one now seek to enjoin the enforcement of our minimum wage act," the opinion said. "This is in view of the fact that it does not appear that the recent decision of the court expressly overruled its decision holding the Arkansas statute unconstitutional. . . .

"It is our opinion that you have the right to proceed with the enforcement of our minimum wage statute until such time as you are enjoined in a particular case by the

Three-Masted Canadian Schooner Towed To State Anchorage

BOSTON, May 15.—(AP)—New England counted eight persons dead tonight, more than a score injured, the racing yacht Ranger dismasted, and a schooner in distress, as wind and rain lashed land and sea.

Rivers were rising and in sections of Vermont, New Hampshire and western Massachusetts roads were flooded or damaged by rock slides as three inches of rain fell.

A crossing crash at Milton, Vt., cost the lives of four children and the driver of an automobile transporting them to school.

Automobile accidents in driving rain at Malden and Holbrook, Mass., cost two men's lives and possible fatal injury to another.

A skidding bus sideswiped a 20-ton trailer truck at Cromwell, Conn., with injury to 18 passengers and the bus driver.

In Boston seven members of three families were hurt when their automobile struck a post.

Continued rain was forecast for northern New England possibly ending with snow tonight.

Albert Graham Ober, Jr., member of a prominent Baltimore family, was pitched into the seas and lost 10 miles off Block Island, R. I., when the yacht Flying Cloud of Baltimore lurched as it plowed into a heavy sea.

AMOS 'N' ANDY VISIT OIL FIELD

Famous Radio Comedians Said To Have Bought Acreage In Lisbon Field

HOMER, La., May 15.—(Special)—Amos 'n Andy famous radio comedians, made a surprise visit to the Lisbon oil field Saturday morning, and are reported to have purchased, through an agent a 20-acre lease from the McDonald brothers, paying approximately $22,000 for the property. The radio comedians drove to Homer from Tyler, Tex., where they said they had flown from Los Angeles. They left Homer about 3:30 p.m. for Shreveport and expect to return to California Sunday night. They were accompanied by Harry Henbury, wealthy oil operator of Tyler.

Amos 'n Andy are "regular fellers" according to several men of those who met them here and their surprise visit to Homer was much enjoyed by everyone who came in contact with them. They expressed their delight with Louisiana and were very much impressed with the activity in the new oil field at Lisbon. Asked what he thought of the oil field, Andy replied that it looked very prospective. While in Homer the comedians visited several drug stores and made a number of purchases.

Amos 'n Andy, who achieved fame and fortune as the owners and operators of the Fresh Air Taxicab Company, drove from Tyler to Homer, with Andy at the wheel.

"It was by accident I learned he could speak, Thom said. "I blew my automobile horn and saw him jump."

Billy was placed in the home's kindergarten school.

It was lunch time at the school yesterday. Billy, in blue coveralls, was at a table with seven small girls.

He pointed and asked for "bread" and "milk."

One time he couldn't find a spoon.

"Spoon gone," Billy said loudly.

"He still points when he asks for something," Miss Bennett, his teacher, explained. "It's the old habit."

"Penny," said Billy, drawing a one-cent piece from h[illegible] pants pocket and proudly showing it. He didn't know what it could be used for. He did not know colors.

"He can repeat words plainly after me," Miss Bennett said, "but he has not learned associations or meanings. He tries to do everything the other children do and learns from them."

His favorite toys are whistles and balls.

Mrs. Payne, who gave her age as 44, stood by, watching Billy at play.

"We're happy he's learning to talk," she wrote on a piece of paper.

Miss Bennett estimated Billy will attain a vocabulary of 2,500 to 3,000 words in a few months—which is normal for his age.

LUMBERMAN DIES AT NEW ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—John Poitevent, 60, lumberman of New Orleans and Mandeville, La., died today at his town residence here from a heart attack. Funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at Pearlington, Miss.

Mr. Poitevant was vice-president of the Poitevent and Favre Lumber company and was active in its management. He always took interest in the development of Mandeville and St. Tammany parish and had one of the most pretentious homes on the Mandeville beach.

Mr. Poitevent was stricken suddenly today while in the bathroom and his home, but he had suffered from heart attacks for several years.

He is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Gordon S. Orme, Mrs. Frank B. Hayne and Mrs. Calla Poitevent of New Orleans; two brothers, Eads Poitevent and June Poitevent.

Animals, as well as human beings, are subject to snow blindness.

quietly when to save your money on a picture by holding his nose, assumes a manner of gravity, and importance.

We even had a world premiere down there last season, and we all thought that was something. A world premier is the first showing of a picture anywhere except about ninety times in Hollywood, California.

Mr. Sonny Shepard permitted the rumor to be bruited about that one of the stars of this picture was to be present the night of the opening right there in the Lincoln theater, in person, and in the flesh, and you bet we were all pretty much steamed up about that.

We do not get to see many movie stars in Dade county. It was reported that Mr. Gary Cooper was there last season, but nobody believed it. Someone pointed out a tall, gangling fellow in a yachting cap to us and said that was Mr. Gary Cooper, but he looked like anyone else in a yachting cap, so it could not have been Mr. Cooper.

Anyway, the very elite of our city turned out for the world premiere we are talking about, the ladies putting aside their slacks, and donning skirts, and the gentlemen wearing neckties, to make the occasion more formal. Some of the folks were pretty sore because Mr. Sonny Shepard boosted the price of admission a trifle, but overlooked it because they were to see a star. We are accustomed to a certain tariff on our movies in Dade county, and when there is any unexpected boosting, it tends to unbalance our budgets.

MR. JOHNNY HERTZ, Mr. Warren Wright, Mr. Billy Leeds, Mr. Nick Schenck, Major Albert M. Warner, Mr. George Ade, Mr. Harry Richman, and many other prominent citizens were present, and all were on tenterhooks of anticipation to see the star advertised by Mr. Sonny Shepard.

An announcer made a flowery speech from the stage, and said that it gave him great pleasure to introduce the star in question, and then out of the wings walked a fellow in a dinner jacket, carrying a big cigar in one hand.

We were a trifle shocked and disappointed, because the fellow was only Mr. Ben Bernie, who is not a movie star in Dade county, at all. But just one of the neighbors He is the same as Mr. Sailing Baruch, or Mr. Bill Dwyer, or Mr. Jorge Sanchez. You send over to Mr. Bernie's house to borrow a cup of sugar.

"Good evening, ladies and gentlemen," said Mr. Bernie, obviously slightly self-conscious.

"Oh, hello, Ben," came a mild response from all parts of the house. If the greeting lacked anything in spontaneous enthusiasm, it was only because we had all just left Mr. Bernie at the race track a few hours before, and would see him again a little later at the Royal Palm.

MR. BERNIE stood at the footlights for ten minutes chatting informally with individual members of the audience in the front rows before he remembered his role of picture star.

He had explained to Colonel Abe Hallow, who sat in the first row, that Hirsch Jacobs had given him a tip on Round Table in the last race, but that he got touted off on to something else, and was asking Mr. Donn, the landscaper, what sort of fertilizer he ought to use on Persian limes in that climate, when Mr. Sonny Shepard tapped him on the shoulder and reminded him what he was there for.

It was a good picture all right, because Mr. Walter Winchell was in it, but we all felt that Mr. Sonny Shepard had taken advantage of us by trying to put over one of the home folks on us as a movie star.

WE USED to have a mike out on the sidewalk in front of our Dade county movie openings, the same as they do in New York and Hollywood, but we have done away with that.

One night, at an opening, one of our neighbors, who is slightly absent-minded, accepted an invitation to say a few words over the mike, and while all he said was "hello, everybody," it seems that his voice was recognized by a cop listening in from New York police headquarters, and they sent down the next day and got our neighbor.

He had been a lammie, as the boys say, for five years. So the mike was discontinued, because it cost our Dade county movies a mighty good customer.

He was often unpredictable.

At the conclusion of a nation-wide radio address, he suddenly turned to a studio piano, planked himself down at the keys and burst into a rousing cowboy song.

Consistency, however, marked the oral tributes to him today.

COURT OF HONOR HELD BY SCOUTS

Fifty Awards For Merit Given Boys At Meeting In City Friday Night

A court of honor was held in the courtroom at the parish courthouse Friday night when 75 Boy Scouts of America were in attendance. Fifty awards were given. Olan H. Black, executive of the Ouachita Valley council, presided.

Second class awards were given by P. S. Mulhearn; first class awards were made by Tom D. Wafer; merit badges by O. A. Easterling; star awards by Charles Fleming.

The Louisiana Training institute band presented a concert as the opening numbers of the night's program.

Scout troops that were present were Nos. 28, 30, 31 and 33.

Scout Executive Black announced Saturday that Camp Ki-Ro-Li will open on June 6 and will close on June 27. There will be three periods of one week each. Accommodations are for approximately 60 boys.

Mr. Black stated that Ki-Ro-Li is being put into good condition for the camp periods. Three buildings have been demolished to make way for improved structures. The buildings to be replaced are the mess hall, kitchen and store house.

Material salvaged from the old buildings will be supplemented with new material secured through the efforts of Herman Masur, scout treasurer, and it is proposed to erect a new mess hall and recreation center. Work of construction will be initiated Monday.

The city of West Monroe has provided labor to drain and clean the pool and it is now being refilled and will be ready for the opening date.

The baseball diamond has been graded and re-seeded and is in much better condition than was the case a year ago.

On Saturday the annual camp rally will be held, an event in which all troops of the Ouachita Valley council will participate.

LIONS TO MEET AT ALEXANDRIA

Twenty-Five Members Of Monroe Club To Attend State Convention

A delegation of 250 or more Lions from the eighth district composed of 29 clubs in Louisiana will meet in Alexandria on May 18 and 19 for the annual convention. R. N. (Bob) Allen of Shreveport, district governor, will preside. Lions International will be represented by Bob J. Lyles, Austin, Tex., a director of the international group.

The names of two candidates for district governor have been announced. These are Ed Banks, Colfax, and N. Smith Hoffpauir, Crowley.

The Monroe Lions club will send about 25 members to the convention headed by past District Governors W. H. Anders and A. B. Clarkson and President E. C. Gibson and Secretary L. G. Hughes.

A banquet and dance for past district governors will be held on the 17th, and on May 18 registration will start at Hotel Bentley at 10 a.m., with luncheon at noon.

A business session is scheduled at 2 p.m. with a tea for ladies at 4 p.m. and the banquet and dance at 7:30 p.m.

On the concluding day of the convention, there will be a breakfast for presidents and secretaries of clubs with final business session held at 10 a.m.

Luncheon on that day will conclude the convention.

PURSER ART DELEGATE

Stuart R. Purser, head of the art department of Louisiana college, Pineville, was recently appointed by Governor Richard W. Leche as a delegate from Louisiana to the second national exhibition of American art to be held in New York city on June 16. Prof. Purser is a son of Ed Purser of Rayville.

DISTRICT LEGION MEETING PLANNED

Program For State Convention Will Be Talked At Winnsboro

The fifth district conference of the American Legion will be held at the legion home in Winnsboro today at 9:30 a.m. It is expected that there will be a large attendance and the meeting will assume importance as plans will be discussed for the holding of the department convention in Monroe in July. Sam Orchard, fifth district commander, will preside.

The program will be as follows:

Registration, members auxiliary and legion; joint assembly of legion and auxiliary; call to order by district commander; address of welcome, Kirby King, commander Winnsboro post No. 84; response, D. W. McBride, area commander; greetings from the auxiliary, Mrs. Houston Chambers, fifth district president; introduction officials, guests, Charles Mitchell, department child welfare chairman; roll call of posts, Harry Stein, fifth district adjutant; post organization and program, Roland Cocreham, department adjutant; child welfare work, Charles Mitchell, department child welfare chairman; service and rehabilitation, Edwin L. Gladney; department rehabilitation chairman; "What the Legion Has Accomplished This Year," by Ernest Hawkins, department commander; "What the Forty and Eight is Doing," Dr. C. L. Mengis, grand chef de gare; Americanism program, L. J. Fox, department chairman.

Luncheon will be held at Higdon's cafe at 1 p.m.

GOLD WATCH, CLOTHES STOLEN FRIDAY NIGHT

R. G. Denham, living at 710 North Second street, yesterday reported to the police the theft of a gold watch which he said was taken from a table in his bedroom sometime Friday night. The watch was described as a Bulova model, gold wrist band attached and having the name, Robert Denham, engraved on the face.

Philip David, 207 Adams street, reported to the police that three suits of underwear, a pair of ladies hose, two pair of socks, four bath towels and a broom, were stolen from his back yard sometime Friday night.

Real Estate Transfers

The following real estate transactions were recorded yesterday in the clerk's office:

Parlor City Lumber company sold to Cecil Atkins, lot four of block two of Fairview subdivision to Monroe, for $7,000.

W. S. Heard sold to C. H. Dempsey, lot 14 of square one of the Heard and Wallace subdivision of lot three of Zeigen's subdivision of the Ransome estate, for $175.

J. M. Salley sold to T. L. Salley, the north half of lot 20 of square three of Bell, Clark and Montgomery's first addition to West Monroe, for $50.

William T. Coker sold to Mrs. Lettie Blankenship, all right, title and interest to 16 acres off the east side of the southeast quarter of southwest quarter, section 22-18-2 east, for $160.

Strength From Discipline

Regardless of whether or not we see any sense in the behavior of that mountaineer at Stooping Oak, Tenn., who fasted for more than fifty days because, he said, "the Lord told him to," there is a certain fundamental virtue in what he did.

There is virtue in the acquisition and the expression of strength of character and spiritual stamina. It takes strength of character and spiritual stamina to do what that mountaineer did. We may hold in lofty contempt his action as that of a "fanatic," but it takes backbone and plenty of it to go fifty-two days without food when family and friends are urging him to eat. It takes courage and grit to hold out in a weakened condition against powerful, persistent influences, and to face a slow death unflinchingly when mere yielding would make things different.

The need of discipline for the mind and the soul has long been recognized. Even primitive savages see the value of such exercise. They have their taboos (things forbidden). Sometimes the taboo may have no particular point. Such, for instance, as the South Sea Islanders going without coconuts on certain days of the month and without fish during the dark of the moon. But the mental and spiritual reactions are important and beneficial.

If a person sets himself some kind of discipline and expects himself to observe it, he is making his mental and moral fibers stronger. The practice which some persons follow of giving up certain pleasures during the Lenten season is an application of the old taboo principle—a means of mental and spiritual exercise, through self-denial. Monks who climb long flights of stairs on their bare knees, who wear hair shirts, and walk for miles with pebbles in their shoes, are practicing self-discipline.

While almost any exercise of the spirit and the will is of value in strengthening character, it does seem to the observer that when one is going to develop his mental and spiritual strength by some sort of rigid discipline, he would do well to employ exercises which, of themselves, are admirable. Anyone can practice the taboo plan with constructive results by employing it to correct the weaknesses and to fill the vacancies in his own character—of which he has plenty if he is a human being.

Not many of us need to hunt around for something artificial and superficial with which to exercise our mental and spiritual muscles; for instance, a person who is habitually rude would do well to determine to be constantly courteous during the Lenten season rather than forego some harmless pleasure for the same period; thus courtesy might become a habit.

THE NEW TERRORISM

Government in Germany under the Nazis is government by delirium, by hysteria and by terror. Reason, truth and justice have long since ceased to be factors in the administration of the affairs of a once-great nation.

The infamous conspiracy in which Nazis set fire to the reichstag and then tried and condemned Communists for the crime, is an early example of the ideals which Hitler and his associates bring to the business of government.

Another is the blood purge, which eliminated suspects within the party. The anti-Semitic passion finds continuing expression. Now it is the Catholics, who have been marked for vengeance as a reply to the stinging rebuke of the Vatican for faithlessness and perfidy in matters of diplomatic agreement.

There is more to the life of a nation than parades and flamboyant speeches and military power. Eventually, Germany will have to meet the crisis of diminishing food supplies, loss of trade and multiplying economic complications.

These problems will not disappear before the magic of Hitler's words or the strong-arm tactics of his gangsters. They will yield only to enlightenment, a rare commodity indeed in the government of Germany at present.

DIPLOMACY'S PAPER PROFITS

American diplomacy in London seems to have scored a new triumph. It has succeeded in persuading British officialdom to allow 10 American women, instead of the customary eight, to be presented to and make their curtsies before King George and Queen Elizabeth at the spring courts.

Long negotiations, it is said, were necessary before this concession could be won. The question of the number of Americans to be presented at court has been a vexing one for many years—one that has furrowed the brow of American ambassadors for heaven knows how long.

Probably it is a great victory that has been won. We wouldn't know. But it does seem to us that this country could find more important work for its ambassadors than this business of looking out for social climbers. Might not the republic get on just as well if—horrid thought!—no American women at all got the inestimable privilege of bowing and scraping to a foreign monarch?

Boys who leave the old home town don't all succeed. It just seems that way because the failures don't come back to show off.

RHYME AND REASON

THE MIRACLE OF MAY

No miracles today?
I see
The miracle of May,
The tree
I love glimpsed through my window pane,
Bursts into bloom again.

No miracles, you say?
And still
The miracle of May
Can fill
The doubting eye with wonderment,
And speed the heart's content.

No miracles to stay
My faith?
The miracle of May,
The breath
Of spring upon the flowering mead
Is miracle indeed!

LIMIT IN APPOINTMENTS

By BRUCE CATTON

If anything ought to be obvious in Washington these days, it is the fact that we have got far beyond the point where we can safely let party politics have a hand in the naming of government servants.

That worked out fairly well during our early history, when the federal government's machine was relatively small and affected only a few people. But to go on with it in an era when the government is doing things which affect every individual in the country is sheer madness.

An illuminating case in point is the trouble which is now besetting the social security board.

Rodney Dutcher pointed out the other day that the senate voted into an appropriation bill a harmless-looking little rider requiring that all of the social security board's appointees who receive more than $5,000 a year must be confirmed by the senate.

Now the social security board is going to have to administer the most tremendous insurance scheme ever conjured into being. Upwards of 26,000,000 Americans are contributing to the funds which it is to care for and dispense. It will need a considerable corps of lawyers, economists, insurance experts and executives, and it is to the interest of the entire country that these people be chosen on a basis of pure merit.

Practically all of these experts will fall in the more-than-$5,000-a-year class. And what the senate is trying to do is to remove them from the merit system and make political patronage out of their appointment.

It would be hard to think of a more completely indefensible bit of political chicanery than this.

To the credit of the house of representatives, it has voted to put all social security board appointees—experts, lawyers and all—under straight civil service rules. The disputed bill is now in conference; and Dutcher reports that the senate conferees, who are resisting this effort to establish the merit system, include such eminent statesmen as Senators Glass of Virginia, Byrnes of South Carolina, Russell of Georgia, Adams of Colorado and Steiwer of Oregon.

How is a stand like that to be defended on any rational basis? The answer is clear: it isn't. We could endure that sort of thing 50 years ago, when government employes were comparatively few; we can't possibly endure it now, when they are many and have responsibilities which affect the lives of all of us.

We have heard a good deal of loose talk lately about the destruction of the American form of government. It ought to be pointed out that in the long run no surer way of destroying it could be devised than to give it ever-increasing duties—and compel it to meet them with staffs of "experts" chosen by party hacks for political advantage.

A BOOK REVIEW

RELIEF FROM PUZZLE NOVELS OF POLITICS

There have been plenty of novels about life in the nation's capital, with national figures thinly disguised in a sugar-coating of fiction. They are often highly entertaining as puzzles—you try to figure out who is supposed to be who—but they are seldom any good as novels.

Marquis W. Childs contributes a welcome break in this succession with "Washington Calling!", a novel that is really good.

Mr. Childs writes about the Washington of the New Deal, and of the compromises that reformers inevitably have to make with things as they are.

His story centers about a retired senator who, making a good living as a lawyer-lobbyist, is retained by two railroad-grabbing brothers (and you'll have scant trouble identifying them) to see to it that a friendly federal judge is appointed in a district where their toppling pyramid is about to get into court.

The ex-senator pulls his wires; in the opposite direction, wires are also being pulled by a trust-busting attorney who is out to clean up the receivership racket. And the desperate fight between these two men resolves itself, at last, into a compromise. The brothers get their friendly judge, the trust-buster gets a senatorial investigation into receiverships, the ex-senator pockets a $100,000 fee, and everyone is happy.

All of this makes excellent reading. It provides an authentic glimpse at the complex and baffling milieu in which any reform administration must work; it displays the fatal compromises which reformers must make in order to serve their ideals; and, lastly, Mr. Childs has filled it with life-like people in whose dreams and struggles you take a real interest.

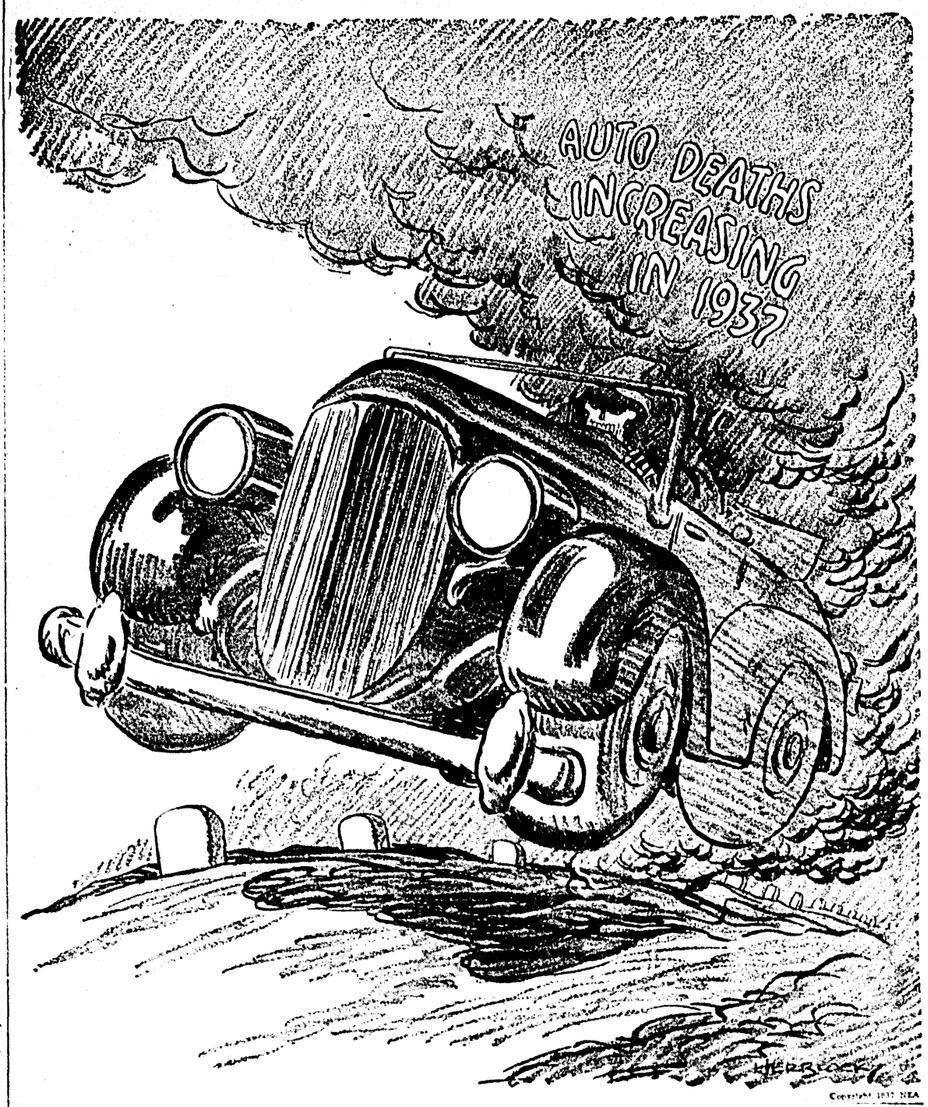
FASTER AND FASTER



NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

It is an affectionate and rather touching little volume that Ted and Larry Crosby have written about their celebrated brother Bing and which they call simply "Bing." The little Harry Crosby from Spokane who became one of the foremost radio and motion picture stars and seems to be continuing the upward stride.

While the story is rather awkwardly told, it has a deal of loving sincerity and pride of family. And indeed Bing Crosby is a type that should make all, these whirling days, feel a great love for America and the Constitution under which the Bing Crosbys gain the top rung.

I recall Bing Crosby's first days in New York with the Paul Whiteman band, when he was billed as one of the Three Rhythm Boys, a wide-eyed, eager youngster with an engaging natural voice who simply loved to sing.

His musical education was all catch-can but he had melody in his heart and it simply bubbled out. From that $150 a week beginning his salary has mounted into such a bracket that today he has to give the government for taxes 73 cents of every dollar he earns. Yet he still has enough to maintain a Spanish castle with imported tile patio and a string of race horses. He has a lovely wife and three interesting children.

Crosby is one of the few performers in Hollywood whose amazing success has caused no jealousy whatever. I have never heard or known of any others having heard a sour add-up for him. He has remained more than almost anybody in his trade strictly himself.

Five years ago it was often said not unkindly, that Crosby was entertaining as a crooner but it was a vogue that unhappily could not last. Yet it has, and each picture and each broadcast program seems to add to his professional stature.

So long as America appreciates the opportunities every boy and girl has to rise as Bing Crosby has, though he was poor and with little education, we have little to fear of the dreadful predictions from the communistic soap boxers. There are no Bing Crosbys in Germany, Italy and Spain and there is not likely to be for many generations. They can only flower in a democracy.

It is in an interesting volume too that Hector Bolitho has written on the career of the Duke of Windsor. I understand that after the coronation more than 20 books about the exking will be published here and in England.

The dog poisoner who read this advertisement in the Wilton, N. D., News probably had a slight congestive chill:

Laddie, a familiar and much admired dog for years, is missed by many friends this week. He was loving, obedient and harmless. The rat responsible for his brutal killing walks the streets of Wilton loathed, shunned and despised by all respectable people. Shame on you, Nick T——. People who think the tarantula and rattle snake are God's lowest creations have not heard of you, for you are it. We hope there is a super-heated pit for degenerates of your caliber in the next world.—Laddie's Friends.

The Winter Garden on the north and the Empire on the south are the only two legitimate theaters left on a street that was once the Rialto. Save for the Empire there are no theaters below 42nd street. Many believe a new Rialto will spring up on the East Side in the 50's just as a new Cafe Belt has burgeoned there. People these days favor theaters where parking is less difficult than it is in the crowded midtown areas.

The clean-up and long prison sentences among racketeers who preyed on restaurants were illustrative of how such gyppers rule by fear. By use of an occasional stench bomb to debouch diners, who would never return again, they collected their millions yearly. Proprietors not only felt they had to pay but suffered the humiliation of meeting racketeers wherever they designated to slip them the envelopes containing the protection cash. Singly, all these racketeers are cowardly rats. They rule only by force of numbers and bluff. Their cringing and whining when arrested revealed their yellow streaks.

Mrs. Jessie Cruikshank, aged 76, sends in these memories from Hollywood: Johnnycake for supper. Trying to walk the clothesline the day after the circus came to town. The hanging shelf for preserves and pickles in the cellar. Cinnamon roses climbing over the top of the old chain and bucket well. Sitting on the kitchen steps eating puckering, green gooseberries. Heating a poker red hot to mull a glass of ale on a cold night.

How quickly the political winds shift. In a news reel theater in his own fashionable bailiwick there used to be rousing applause for Governor Lehmann. The other night his picture was flashed and there was not a handclap. Only an outburst of boos.

E. Berry Wall, the Gay 90 fashion plate, remains the last of the Paris exiles. All his crowd that circled the Place Vendome and had tea at Rumplemeyer's have long since fled. He is the lone defender, and every day makes his forlorn rounds—peering for faces he may never see again. Wall and his gates ajar collar, enormous bow tie, beige vest and ever-present Chow has been a familiar figure on the boulevards for 35 years. He now tells friends he will stay on in France until the end.

MANY TAX RETURNS FILED IN DISTRICT

Approximately 700 individuals and business firms in this district were reported to have filed state income tax returns here at the close of business yesterday which marked the deadline for the filing of such returns.

George Temple, representing the state department of revenue, returned to Baton Rouge last night after a stay in Monroe of 10 days during which he assisted in preparing income tax returns for all who called at his office. Mr. Temple was pleased with his work here and stated that in his opinion, practically all individuals and firms who are required to make state income tax returns, had complied with the law.

Mr. Temple was assisted by Frank Farmer in preparing returns for those who applied at his office.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS TO SEEK CONVENTION

Monroe Knights of Columbus are sending a delegation to Franklin to attend the annual state convention which will be in session there today and tomorrow. The group will leave Monroe instructed to exert every possible effort to secure the 1938 convention.

Knights in the party, who will leave early this morning for the convention, are L. H. Krogmire, W. J. Riley, T. H. McMillan, Nicholas Bruno, Tom Dupree and Eddie Fitzpatrick, Jr.

Frederick III of Prussia once killed a 66-point stag and prized the antlers highly. Later, they came into the possession of Frederick William, who traded them to the king of Saxony for a regiment of six-foot grenadiers.

YOUR HEALTH

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygeia, the Health Magazine

Recently two specialists in diseases of the heart made the following interesting statement about angina pectoris: "Persisting in golf after angina is perhaps comparable to persisting in eating candy after diabetes appears."

In eight out of 100 cases of deaths from angina pectoris, the patient died while playing golf.

Every golfer knows the frequent temptation to violent exercise. There is the danger of bad weather and strong wind; there is the possibility of short but stiff climbs; there is the necessary exertion in getting out of the rough or climbing out of a trap, and the hurry necessary to keep pace with more rapid golfers.

In 33 out of 100 fatal cases of angina pectoris, long journeys had been taken just before the final disaster. Associated with a long journey there is always unusual activity in getting ready, loss of sleep, overeating, emotional stress, and the trip may include over-indulgence in smoking and alcohol.

If there is one disease above all others in which moderation must be preached, that disease is angina pectoris.

In three cases of death from angina pectoris, the fatality followed a violent loss of temper during a business argument. In two cases, patients became over-excited at football games. In two others, the attack came on when the persons were called on suddenly to make speeches for which they were not prepared.

A person with angina pectoris should never put himself into a position, once he has learned that he has this condition, in which he may be suddenly submitted to an extraordinary stress.

Fortunately for those with angina pectoris, scientific medicine has developed a method of relief for the acute attack. There are now small glass ampules filled with a drug called amyl nitrite, which are prescribed by doctors for people with this disease.

In the majority of cases, the inhaling of this drug will bring about prompt relief. Some of the patients do well with treatment involving the use of nitroglycerine. These drugs are potent and should never be taken except upon advice of a doctor.

Relief of the acute attack is not the chief matter of importance. The doctor who is responsible for the patient with angina pectoris will regulate the entire life of the patient, according to the suggestions that have already been mentioned, to minimize the number of attacks. This regulation also will be helpful in overcoming disorders in the body which are responsible for the attacks.

RED CROSS SECRETARY BACK FROM CONVENTION

Mrs. W. C. Holstein, executive secretary of the Ouachita parish Red Cross chapter, returned yesterday from attending the annual national convention of the Red Cross in Washington, D. C. She stated that the convention was the largest in point of attendance of any ever held in the history of the group, with 2,286 registered, inclusive of Junior Red Cross representatives.

Louisiana sent 25 to the convention, eight from New Orleans, five from Shreveport, and the others coming from various other cities of the state.

Mrs. Holstein said that the sessions were the best she had attended in many years and that there were many outstanding speakers who threw a new light on many subjects.

Among the addresses were those by Will Hays, former postmaster general; L. R. Lohr, president of the National Broadcasting company; Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont and many others.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

By Rodney Dutcher

WASHINGTON.—The middle-aged, high-cheeked, sad-faced man with that gray shock of hair down over his forehead somehow looked acutely familiar.

It was at the LaFollette civil liberties committee hearings and witnesses were relating—often in the drawling, hard-bitten dialect of the Kentucky hills—one of the most astonishing chapters in 20th century history.

They were telling of the long reign of terror maintained in Harlan county, of murdered union miners and dynamited homes; of the sheriff—his bond put up by the coal company—who owns company stock and has a slice in company stores where the "scrip" pay received by miners is discounted 25 per cent; of law officers who bribed men to blow up homes of organizers; of 379 deputies appointed, among whom more than 100 had criminal records involving everything up to and including murder; of beatings, assaults and ambushes; of subsidized public officials who did the bidding of mine superintendents; of the rash county prosecutor who threatened to clean up Harlan until dynamite promptly ended his career.

It All Comes Back

Some of the fellows at the press table finally inquired about the man with the shock of hair—and then it all came back to them. Washington was witnessing another appearance of former Federal Judge Charles I. Dawson of Kentucky, here now as counsel and adviser to the Harlan County Coal Operators' association. The reason he hadn't been recognized was that he wasn't shouting and gesticulating as he was on his visit a year ago last January when he spoke to the famous Al Smith Liberty league dinner.

The "Judge," as Sheriff Theodore Middleton calls him, was a Republican politician who became prosecutor of Bell county, where conditions were subsequently described as similar to those in Harlan. After he had become attorney general of the state, and had run successfully as Republican candidate for governor, President Coolidge made him a federal judge.

The "Judge" became nationally famous when he vehemently declared unconstitutional the NRA, the slum clearance condemnation proceedings, the Kerr-Smith tobacco act taxes and other New Deal laws. Then he quit the bench to appear as a lawyer for coal and utility companies against the government.

Today Dawson whispers in the hall advising witnesses whom the LaFollette committee investigators blame for many of the atrocities in "Bloody Harlan." He hasn't spoken aloud to the committee yet. But he may soon address a local federal court, for a mine superintendent named Ted Creech has been arrested for alleged perjury. Creech denied testimony that he had threatened vengeance against a witness who had testified about dynamiting activities of Harlan deputies.

'Wild Life' In Harlan

When the voluble Congressman Dies of Texas asked Congressman May of Kentucky whether he was as opposed to Harlan violence as to lynchings, May was able to hold the floor of the house for five minutes under the pretext that Harlan doings were "wild life"—the two last words which May had moved to strike from the record in order to enable him to speak having been "wild life refuge."

Declaring the conduct of Harlan coal operators "so reprehensible as to constitute the blackest spot in American industrial life," and pointing to a government's commission report that a reign of terror had been financed by coal operators in collusion with public officials, May asserted:

"That is the kind of wild life we have in Harlan county . . .

"In the adjoining counties of Letcher and Perry, in my district, there exists peace, prosperity and happiness. Even every form of wild life is extremely happy and contented."

STAMP NEWS

By I. S. Klein

GREECE has just issued a new series of 13 stamps depicting the "Greek Spirit." The issue covers the whole range of Greek history, from the mythical days of the gods to the great war of independence in 1821. The new 13 values supplement four stamps previously issued.

A new Belgian stamp pictures the late Queen Astrid holding her son, Crown Prince Baudoin. There are eight values, each with a surtax, to be used for parks and convalescent homes for Belgian children, and for a monument to Queen Astrid in Brussels.

Another Spanish government issue, despite the civil war, is a stamp commemorating the third centenary of the death of Gregorio Fernandez, famous Spanish sculptor.

France has issued a stamp in honor of the famous philosopher and scientist, Descartes.

A new country for stamp collectors is Burma, India, which has just become an independent state and has begun issuing its own stamps.

The Michigan centennial stamp has been withdrawn from sale at the Washington philatelic agency. Next may go the Oregon commemorative.

The revival at Peniel Baptist church, near West Monroe, will be continued for another week, it was announced Saturday. Rev. L. R. Morgan is the evangelist and Lloyd Mercer is musical director. Services are held nightly at 7:30 o'clock.

RAP SMOKING AT BAPTIST MEETING

Richmond Selected For 1938 Convention; Dr. John Sampey Re-Elected

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—Smoking was branded as un-Christian and unhealthy by the Southern Baptist convention in session here after its 4,000 messengers had listened to an impromptu appeal from a young minister to switch their attention from such "trivial evils" to larger social problems involving the "iniquitous share-cropping system" and "sweat shop wages."

"This is my first public appearance and I realize I am treading on dangerous ground," declared the 29-year-old minister, Rev. Charles R. Bell, Jr., of Anniston, Ala., after he had risen in his first convention speech before veteran Baptist ministers and laymen.

"But," he said, "I cannot adopt such weak and indefinite resolutions in a day when we are faced with hunger throughout the land."

The convention, representing some 4,000,000 Baptists had adopted resolution condemning the liquor evil, child marriages, large armament programs and pleading for world peace.

They also had listened to a ringing appeal from W. D. Upshaw, former prohibition candidate for president, against any unfurling of "the red flag of communism."

Told by resolution of the Rev. R. C. Howard, of Oklahoma City, condemning the use of tobacco, that four babies had died in a hospital in Oklahoma because their mothers used tobacco, the young minister challenged whether these mothers "could afford orange juice, fresh vegetables and proper food."

"Is it Christ-like," the Rev. Bell asked, "when our colored brethren must come into the auditorium through a separate entrance?"

"We condemn lynching in general," he said, "but do not advocate a national law to stop it. We ought to support the Gavagan anti-lynching bill—."

There were shouts of "no, no," from the floor and the Rev. Dr. Bell sat down.

Upshaw then arose to answer the young minister.

"I am going to refute this young man," Upshaw said. "He is not an old-time Baptist. Everything he says has been covered in our reports for years. He should read them."

The Rev. Dr. Howard then took the floor on behalf of his resolution and described "smoking, spitting and dipping as setting a bad example."

"A man ought to look like a Christian, act like a Christian and smell like a Christian," he commented, "and," he added, "he don't want any cigarette-smoking sisters either."

Dr. John R. Sampey, of Louisville, Ky., was re-elected president of the convention for the third term. Richmond was selected for the 1938 convention.

James P. Warren, Jefferson City, Tenn., was elected first vice-president and Dr. Louis Bristow, of New Orleans, second vice-president.

Hight C. Moore, of Nashville and Henry Burnett, of Macon, Ga., were named secretaries.

OTIS THOMPSON IN 'BRIDAL' ROLE

Will Be Center Of Attraction In Womanless Wedding

Final details will be completed early this week for the "Womanless Wedding" to be sponsored by the West Monroe Kiwanis club at Crosley school Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cotton of Rayville, working with women volunteers of West Monroe, are undertaking the task of providing costumes for the wedding party.

The characters will be as follows: John McCormick, as Rev. Augustus Knowlittle; Otis J. Thompson, as the bride; Bill Reighney, the groom; Jack Reighney, best man; G. B. Folds, E. E. White, ushers; Walter Fisher, Decker Moore, bridesmaids; W. R. Hatchell, J. L. Warren, flower girls; T. John, train bearer; C. C. Bell, ring bearer; H. A. McDonald, bride's mother; E. O. Smith, bride's father; Vance Rhodes, bride's old maid aunt; Harry Williams, grandma of groom; Bob Kilgore, grandpa of groom; Lee Hawkins, groom's uncle; L. L. Wood, Shylock Jones; Sam Humphries, Madam X; T. C. Drew, groom's lawyer; Julius Chandler, Dimple Brown; Henry Colbert, local society editor; C. A. Hatchell, town belle; Fred Thatcher, groom's old girl; George Welch, maid of honor; Heavy Pritchett, Black Mammy.

Every member of the Kiwanis club will have a part in the ceremony. The purpose of the entertainment is to raise money for underprivileged children who are helped by the club and to defray expenses of the delegates who will attend the Kiwanis International convention in Indianapolis in June.

BIRTHS

LAKE PROVIDENCE, La., May 15.—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. George Wall announce the birth of a son, George Edmonds Wall, Jr., on May 6. Mrs. Wall, before her marriage, was Miss Yatest Wong of China.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN MEETING SUCCESS

American Legion, NYA To Erect Signs At Dangerous Intersections

The campaign inaugurated by the American Legion state department with the cooperation of the National Youth administration whereby safety signs will be placed at dangerous intersections throughout the state, is expected to go over 100 per cent in the Monroe area, according to announcement Saturday by Clark W. Booth, state supervisor of information and service of the NYA.

The campaign was started several weeks ago in New Orleans following a conference between A. J. Sarre, state director of the NYA, and Roland Cocreham, state adjutant of the legion, and State Commander Hawkins.

Under the plan legion posts throughout the state are assembling materials and with labor and supervision furnished by the NYA, signs 15 by 25 feet are to be built and erected at strategic points along the highways of the state.

The signs in each instance will carry the typical legion posters warning motorists to "spare the lives of children," and such other graphic illustrations designed to warn against reckless driving.

Commanders of the legion posts in the Monroe area are being contacted by Mrs. Elnora V. Chandler, district supervisor of the NYA, and by parish supervisors of the governmental agency.

It is expected that the first sign post will be built in the immediate Monroe environs after a conference with state and city safety officials.

O. E. S. NOTES

ROBBERY

long board which he used to enter the store through a skylight from whch he carefully removed a glass pane. As he was descending the board broke, hurling the young prowler to the floor. The fact that he landed on a counter piled high with shirts and trousers was believed to have saved him from serious injury. He said, however, that "it didn't hurt much."

Failing to find a pair of riding boots that fitted, Lovett garbed himself in new trousers, coat and hat. He then hid his band uniform in another corner of the store.

Going to the front of the store, he found the $20 in a box, he said, and took the two pistols from a showcase. He then left through the front door. He was believed to have commtted the robbery about 10:50 p. m.

Police Officers H. E. Webb and R. G. May discovered the unlocked door soon afterward. While they were waiting for an employe of the store to arrive, L. W. McDonald and L. H. Henderson, cottage officers at L. T. I., reached the store with Lovett, whom they had found in the Illinois Central yards.

Lovett said he was sent to L. T. I. seven or eight months ago from Lake Charles where he said he was arrested after robbing three stores. Asked how many stores he had robbed altogether, the youth readily replied, "so many I can't remember."

The boy's home is in California. He said his mother was dead.

Parish authorities last night said that in view of the fact that Lovett is almost 18 years old, an attempt will be made to send him to the penitentiary for the Hunt and Whitaker burglary.

LAW ON WAGES

courts, and even such injunction would only limit your action in the particular case. Of course should the United States supreme court again rule that our statute is unconstitutional it would be useless to seek to further enforce it."

The Arkansas law, passed 22 years ago, provides a minimum wage of $1 per day for female workers with less than six months' experience and $1.25 daily for those with six months' experience "in any line of industry or labor."

The law permitted employes to work more than nine hours daily if the employers paid time and a half salaries.

The Crowe laundry of Fort Smith carried the statute before the state supreme court, charging that it violated the 14th amendment to the United States constitution by interfering with the right of contract of both employer and employes. The Arkansas court upheld the law, but in 1925 the West-Nelson Manufacturing company of Little Rock obtained a federal court injunction to restrain the state from enforcing a $10 weekly minimum wage regulation. The federal district court held the law unconstitutional and the United States supreme court affirmed this ruling on January 17, 1927.

vice-president. George Boh, of New Orleans, was re-elected secretary. All officers were chosen by acclamation.

Committee chairmen named were: W. G. Smith, Baton Rouge, publicity; Sidney Mimeles, New Orleans, transportation; I. Pintado, Lake Charles, hotels; Eugene Levy, Alexandria, good roads; A. F. Cazedus, Baton Rouge, legislative; Peter Miller, New Orleans, waterways; Dr. Julian Bernhard, Shreveport, membership; W. E. Bonnafon, New Orleans, employment.

Board members named were Standford Levy, New Orleans; L. E. Bentley, New Orleans; Harry Greenburg, New Orleans; E. B. Smith, Shreveport; C. W. Fryant, New Orleans; Loree Young, Lake Charles; Joseph Hitter, New Iberia, and Jerome Wail, Alexandria.

Delegates to the national convention will be the president and the secretary and Bernard Klein, Shreveport; Morris J. Weiss, Alexandria; W. G. Smith, Baton Rouge; A. E. Toussaint, New Orleans, and R. G. Brown, New Orleans. Alternates will be E. B. Smith, Shreveport; Harry Greenburg, New Orleans; Walter Quine, Donaldsonville; Jules Avrard, New Orleans; J. E. Thorsell, Alexandria.

The final session was replete with good fellowship and conviviality in marked contrast to the hot debate that featured the opening session Friday morning when harsh words passed between several members. The argument arose over the manner of voting during the convention.

The retiring president, Mr. LaGrange, was presented with a set of china plates by the association.

'NO COMPROMISE'

statement that they might withdraw their offers and "lick" the administration on a "straight-out-vote."

This warning was issued by Senator McCarran, Democrat, Nevada, who recently swung the balance of the senate judiciary committee against the proposal for six new supreme court justices by announcing his opposition, but who had been fighting for a compromise of two.

"Perhaps those of us who have been inclined to interpose compromise with the hope that we might go on with the legitimate business of the congress and the country will now be inclined to withdraw our proposals," McCarran said in a statement.

"This, it appears from reports emanating from yesterday's white house conferences, would be more in keeping with the attitude of the other side.

"If, as it appears, there is to be no willingness to compromise it might be the attitude of those who are against the administration plan to offer no compromise, but instead to bring the issue to a straight-out-vote—and we've got them licked."

The more unyielding of the foes—such as Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana—had a different reaction. They expressed hope the president would "stand pat on no compromise," contending it would mean certain defeat for the bill. Privately, they expressed anxiety that a compromise might be negotiated.

While they prepared for the first showdown vote on the bill in the senate judiciary committee Tuesday, both sides watched anxiously for outside developments that might suddenly change the entire course of the battle.

Their eyes were centered on the supreme court itself—for a decision on the constitutionality of the social security act or for any indication of retirements. Either development, they said, might have a decisive influence on the outcome of the contest.

There were hints, in some high quarters, that Justice Van Devanter would soon announce his retirement without waiting for the outcome of the conflict.

Some of the court bill opponents said, however, that they felt certain there would be no retirements as long as the bill is pending. On the other hand, they added, there were indications that if the president would withdraw the court bill, three retirements would follow quickly.

In addition to Van Devanter, they said, Justices Brandeis and Sutherland would drop out of the court. All three of these justices are now past 75 years of age. Brandeis has been one of the "liberals," but the other two have voted consistently with the "conservative" group.

Barring some such outside development, congressional leaders forecast that the court battle would keep congress in session all summer. Such a forecast came from Democratic leader Rayburn, Democrat, Texas, of the house, one of those who conferred with the uncompromising president upon his return yesterday.

An imposing legislative program in addition to the court bill emerged from yesterday's White House conferences. Rayburn said that in addition to relief, farm tenancy, expansion of TVA, wage and hour legislation, and the other issues mentioned yesterday, government reorganization was still in the picture.

The house will take up next week a bill to appropriate $1,500,000,000 for next year's relief program. Despite President Roosevelt's insistence upon that figure, a vigorous movement was on in both houses to cut it to $1,000,000,000.

Other Washington developments:

The Electric Bond and Share company and 26 utility subsidiaries asked the supreme court to review a district court decision requiring that the companies register with the securities commission for regulatory purposes.

Mrs. J. Borden Harriman, New York and Washington society woman, was sworn in as minister to Norway.

The navy disclosed it has begun to create a vast reservoir of fighting aviators, available for service in event of war.

What is "The Low-Price Field"?

You hear a lot about "the low-price field" these days. A good many cars claim to be in it.

So whenever the low-price field is mentioned, remember:

Until Ford came, no average American could own a car.

Today all Ford prices are still low—with the prices of the 60-horsepower Ford V-8 $30 to $60 lower than the prices of any other car of comparable size.

But with Ford, "low price" doesn't merely mean low figures on the price tag. It means much more than that.

It means low prices and low costs all the car's long life. Low prices for service—for parts—and, above all, for operation.

Both Ford V-8 engine sizes are economical to operate. The 85-horsepower gives greater gasoline mileage this year than ever, and the 60-horsepower delivers the highest mileage in Ford history.

Private owners, cab companies, fleet operators all report that the "60" averages from 22 to 27 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Check and see how much Ford saves you.

VETS BACK FROM RUSTON

A party of Veterans of Foreign Wars, headed by E. H. Miller, Rodney J. Hobbs post commander, returned early Saturday from Ruston, where they attended the meeting of the Edwin Parnell post of that city, where nine members were obligated. Those making the trip were John McKee, Robert Davis, George Anders, Judge David I. Garrett, Louis Bernelle, C. A. Hunt, W. D. H. Rodriguez. Ray B. Griffin, department senior vice-commander, of Bastrop, was accompanied by members of the post there. Because of the illness of T. T. Kelly, commander, the Ruston post is in charge of H. G. Davis. Commander Kelly is a patient in the veterans' hospital in Alexandria.

TWO MEN CHARGED IN TORCH SLAYING

PASCAGOULA, Miss., May 15.—(AP)—William D. Bullard, Jackson county prosecuting attorney, said here today that two men hooked as Van Hearndon, of Wade, Miss., 17 years old and Jesse Lovelace, 22, had been formally charged with murder in the torch death of William Furby, 32-year-old woodsman.

Bullard said Hearndon, confronted with a witness to the burning of Furby, admitted setting fire to the gasoline-soaked clothing of Furby "as a prank." Furby died several hours after the match was applied.

Bullard quoted Hearndon as saying that Lovelace threw the gasoline on Furby, but Lovelace refused to talk about the case.

Both men were confined to jail.

WAITRESS FATALLY SHOT AT ORLEANS

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—Mrs. Patricia Lafosa, 31, waitress, estranged from her husband, was shot and killed today at the home of Mrs. May Coco, where Mrs. Lafosa and her daughter, Joanne Lafosa, 14, had taken a room.

A bullet pierced her heart and she collapsed and died in an alleyway adjacent to the Coco home. The daughter was away at the time of the shooting.

Police said they were looking for the victim's husband, Joseph Lafosa, 30, a former employe of a bakery company.

Peter Tranchina, 52, a visitor at the Coco home, tried to intervene in the shooting and suffered a bullet wound in the left arm.

Mrs. Coco told police Lafosa came to her home looking for his wife and told her to "get out of the way." Several shots were fired and Mrs. Coco said Lafosa left through the alley where his wife died carrying a smoking pistol.

FOUR TRANSFORMERS MOVED ON BIG CARS

Specially constructed railroad cars were utilized to transport four transformers from the factory to West Monroe for use at the big sub-station of the Louisiana Power and Light company on Seventh street near the Dixie-Overland highway. The cars were built to afford twice the capacity of the standard size car.

Only two transformers are loaded on each car, requiring two cars to convey the four transformers, each car containing a load of 110,000 pounds.

The transformers were moved by truck the past week from the Illinois Central lot near the West Monroe station to the sub-station where they will form the key for distributing electric energy from the plant of the Louisiana Power and Light company at Sterlington to this area.

SEVERAL IN STATE GIVEN COMMISSIONS

BATON ROUGE, La., May 15.—(AP)—Governor Richard Leche today appointed J. Ottis White, Baton Rouge, a member of the state board of optometrists to succeed Ben Roumain, whose term had expired.

The governor signed commissions for the following Franklinton, La., officials, who were elected May 3: Mouton Dickham, mayor, and Eric C. Russell, C. J. Gayer, P. N. Givens, William E. Magee and Albert Moore, as aldermen.

Leche also signed commissions for the following Welsh, La., officials elected May 4: Dr. R. R. Arceneaux, mayor, and O. C. Yantis, T. C. Simmons, F. S. Harris, Dr. Claude A. Martin and E. D. Shipp, as trustees.

PRESS ASKED TO PRESERVE NATION

Oklahoma Speaker Says Only Newspapers Can Prevent Dictatorship

CHICKASHA, Okla., May 15.—(AP)—Clayton T. Rand, Gulfport, Miss., president of the National Editorial association, declared here today the United States is headed for dictatorship unless newspapers of the country, realizing their responsibilities and with courage save the nation from itself.

Speaking before members of the Oklahoma Press association, in convention here, Rand denounced President Roosevelt's supreme court reorganization proposals and the NRA, which he said would be followed by a new code setup.

"We have over-publicized politicians and through ballyhoo made statesmen of nonentities," Rand asserted.

"The dangerous men in history have not been the older men, the sages, the seers and prophets, but have been the younger men.

"In this crazy age, with the New Deal on one hand and the raw deal on the other, we have come to the third period of revolution in the history of this country.

"Dictatorships prevail only where the press is fettered. Modern slavery sprouts in the barren soil of a censorship.

"It is easy to prophesy, from the dangerous direction in which we are moving, that the freedom of the press will be often challenged here at home as it has been already destroyed over much of the world in our day.

"It behooves the American press to drive home to the masses of men, as it never has before, the fundamentals that underlie that freedom to which men now give so little value, because they have taken it for granted."

It is said that girls' faces stop growing by the 13th or 14th year, while those of boys continue to develop for several years beyond that age.

HOME AGENT TALKS TO LOGTOWN CLUB

Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, home demonstration agent for Ouachita parish, was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Logtown Home Demonstration club held last week at the home of Mrs. Willie McCoy. Mrs. McQuiller spoke on "Tasty Louisiana Dishes."

A demonstration, utilizing canned vegetables, was also given by Mrs. McQuiller, assisted by the nutrition leaders, Mrs. Haynes and Mrs. Granberry. Mrs. J. B. Filhiol, president of the club, was in charge of the session and led the discussion on the flower and garden show to be held in Monroe next month. Club singing was led by Mrs. Scharf and Mrs. Calloway.

Following the session, refreshments were served to 20 club members and two visitors. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. Mattie Reid, Columbia road.

LECHE, JACOBS TO ADDRESS FLOOD MEET

MORGANZA, La., May 15.—(AP)—Gov. Richard Lech and Harry Jacobs, chief of the state board of engineers, are to address a flood control meeting here tomorrow afternoon called to discuss the proposed Morganza floodway in "the light of recent Washington developments."

The meeting was called by E. P. Genin, president, H. Granville Greco, commissioner and chief inspector, and George Lefebre, commissioner, all of the Atchafalaya basin levee board, and Senator Ralph Hebert.

At a meeting this week in Baton Rouge, residents in the path of the proposed Eudora floodway, companion flood control project to the Morganza floodway, protested construction of the project to Governor Leche.

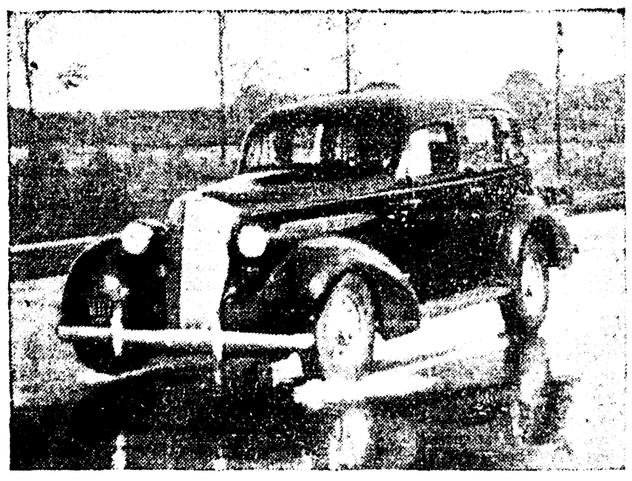
EVERY CAR OWNER SHOULD KNOW!

(No. 1 of a Series. Watch for Them Each Sunday)



"it's . . . HUMAN MILEAGE that counts"

With ACCIDENTS due to tire failure getting close to the half million mark annually, it is time to give more serious thought to the matter of safe HUMAN MILEAGE.

1 The annual toll of accidents due to tire skidding is 3 times America's total World war casualties.

2 Every 24 hours hundreds of persons are killed or injured in skidding accidents.

3 Blowouts alone are causing an appalling toll of life and limb.

4 Insurance statistics show that the average cost of an automobile accident is $255.38.

5 The total annual loss of property caused by tire failure is greater than the nation's tire bill.

War Admiral Defeats Pompoon By Head In Preakness

SPORTS CHATTER

By George V. Lofton

WAR ADMIRAL TOPS

War Admiral made it two straight yesterday, winning the Preakness to demonstrate that he not only is the best three-year-old of the present crop but the finest of all Man O' War products.

War Admiral seems to be that racing rarity—a sprinter that can go a route.

Horsemen usually like to see a front runner looked in the eye before passing final judgment. Yesterday Pompoon pulled up on even terms with War Admiral in a thrilling stretch drive but the Riddle thoroughbred had enough in him to pull away a head at the finish and Pompoon was left in the second slot. That race should convince the die-hards.

War Admiral has remarkable speed, is sensible and can be rated on top of the pack. He's mean at the post, but so was his daddy, who didn't find that any handicap.

The Riddle ace is just starting and he should prove a big money winner for the Philadelphia sportsman. By winning the Preakness yesterday, War Admiral became the fifth Man O' War product to earn more than $100,000. The Riddle star may even go on to drag down more than the old man himself, who grossed $249,000 in winning 20 out of 21 starts in two years.

The third big test for War Admiral comes in the Belmont Stakes next month. That will be over a mile and a half route, but War Admiral didn't seem to have much trouble at a mile and a quarter in the Derby and there's no indication that he'll be unable to accept the challenge in an additional quarter of a mile.

ANOTHER SCHANG

There is plenty of responsibility on the shoulders of a rookie who has nothing more to do than win a job in professional ball. But it doesn't end there with Bobby Schang, Jr., youthful receiver of the Vicksburg Hill Billies.

Bobby has a second responsibility. The name of Schang has, for years, been synonymous with good catching. Bobby's father and his even more illustrious uncle, Wally Schang, made good before him, and it's now up to the Billy youngster to see that a third Schang does not fall.

Wally, for years a star with the Philadelphia Athletics, New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns, was one of the leading catchers of his day. He is now a coach with the Cleveland Indians, and the biggest asset that helped him land the job was the fact that he was a great handler of pitchers. The Indians have charged Schang with the duty of bringing along their sensational hurler, Bob Feller.

Bobby's father, though not so well known as Wally, nevertheless won his spurs in the majors and better minors. He saw service with the Pittsburgh Pirates, New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals. So young Bobby will have to uphold traditions established in both the National and American leagues.

After a long run in the American association, International and Pacific coast loops and then a managerial fling with Laurel of the old Cotton States circuit, Senior Bobby Schang retired in 1929.

But he has not forgotten the finer points of the catcher's trade and has passed them on to his boy. He must have done a good job of it, for Bobby made a fine record in the winter league of Sacramento, Calif., where the Dallas Steers found him and shipped him to Vicksburg.

Bobby just has to make good. There has never been a failure in the Schang family when it came to catching.

PERSONAL TO BASTROP

Thanks, John J. Collins, Roy B. Freeland, O. G. Perry, Walter Krueger, L. B. Rogers and O. W. Kelly, for your letter. The man in question is a professional ball player, earning money for his efforts. His mistakes have been numerous and it is open to debate whether or not he was doing his best. Many fans expressed their agreement with the article. Yours was the only dissenting vote. But—every man to his own opinion. Come again.

STARS TUNE UP FOR SOUTHERN WOMEN'S GOLF

Mrs. Page Posts 73 In Practice Round; Annual Tourney Starts Monday

ATLANTA, May 15.—(AP)—A sparkling 73 over the tournament course today made Mrs. Estelle Lawson Page of Chapel Hill, N. C., an outstanding contender as dozens of Dixie golfers tuned up their shots for the Women's Southern golf championship starting Monday.

Arriving Wednesday for plenty of practice over the No. 2 East Lake course, Mrs. Page brought her game to a peak today with a 37-36—73, one under women's par for the 6,240-yard layout. Three birdies dotted her card, and she slipped over par only twice.

Four tournament threa's played together in a foursome today, but concentrated on a spirited game of "syndicates" that didn't help their medal scores.

They were Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., the trans-Mississippi champion; Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, Georgia's state champion; and Jane Cothran of Greenville, S. C., and Kathryn Hemphill of Columbia, S. C., stars of the winter circuit.

A player wins a "syndicate" by making a lower score on a hole than any of the other members of the foursome. If two tie, all tie, and the next hole is worth two "syndicates" and on up.

As the holes began to carry over, the golf in the foursome improved, with Miss Cothran shooting one under par for the last four holes. With pleasant but determined smiles, the girls refused to reveal their medal scores except to say "way up."

Miss Betty Jamieson of San Antonio, who won the Texas state title less than a month ago, took things easy and felt out the difficult, well-trapped course.

Winner of this tournament three years ago at the age of 16, she smiled today and said, "I'm hitting the ball pretty good, but I never worry about a tournament until I've qualified."

The defending champion, Mrs. Mark McGarry of St. Petersburg, Fla., was hitting her shots well today although a little shaky around the greens with her short game.

Other favorites touring the course in practice rounds today were Mrs. E. L. Donaldson of Knoxville, the former Margaret Smith of Birmingham, who was Alabama champion and Helen Dettweiler of Washington, D. C.

The weekly tournament of the East Lake Country club drove the feminine stars off the course this afternoon, but they will have a full day's practice tomorrow before the qualifying round Monday.

Mrs. O. B. Keeler, president of the Atlanta woman's golf association, hosts of the tournament, said she expected the largest and fastest field in the 26 years of the tournament's history to qualify Monday.

Entrants were arriving throughout the day, with those on hand including Mrs. Bee Cockrell of Gadsen, Ala., state champion of Alabama, Mrs. R. B. Trilck of Birmingham, former state champion, Mrs. David Gaut of Memphis, president of the Southern association and former champion, Mrs. Edgar Pearson and Kathryn Pearson of Houston, Tex., the latter one time national intercollegiate tennis champion, diminutive Lilly Harper of Portsmouth, Va., Mrs. W. L. Pierce and Mrs. E. B. Chapman of Jacksonville, Fla., Alliene Hoover of High Point, N. C., and Mrs. Peter Vredenburg of Vredenburg, Ala.

Match play starts Tuesday after the qualifying round Monday, with the finals scheduled for Saturday.

OUACHITA VALLEY

BROWN AT CROSSETT

CROSSETT, Ark., May 15.—(Special)—The Crossett Millers, who moved into second place in the Ouachita Valley league, after defeating the Swartz Carbon Blackers here Wednesday, will play the league leading Monroe Browns here tomorrow afternoon on their new playing field. Club officials said today arrangements were being made to accommodate a crowd of 1,500 fans. Over 1,000 spectators saw last Sunday's opening home game.

Captain Cortez "Tex" Moore, catcher, said he would start Clarence "Lefty" Butler against the Louisianans. Butler struck out 13 batters in last week's game with Hodge and subdued the Swartz team Wednesday after relieving Rob Roy McGregor.

Other Crossett stars who will be in the game against the Browns are Harold "Shorty" Oslin, second baseman and fleet base runner, Jerry "Mule" Fier, heavy hitting outfielder.

The game will start at 3:30.

FRONT-RUNNING MAN O'WAR COLT TRIUMPHS AGAIN

Pompoon Makes Close Race Of It in Stretch; Flying Scot Finishes Third

By Orlo Robertson

BALTIMORE, May 15.—(AP)—Refusing to give an inch in the last three-sixteenths of a mile, Samuel Riddle's War Admiral strengthened his claim to the three-year-old turf title today as he thrust back the game stretch challenge of J. H. Loucheim's Pompoon in the $50,000 Preakness.

With between 40,000 and 45,000 spectators on their feet, yelling madly, the two horses came to the finish line of the mile and three-sixteenths test separated by the narrow margin of a head to furnish one of the most exciting climaxes in the 47 years of the Pimlico classic and duplicate their order of finish in the Kentucky Derby.

War Admiral, diminutive son of Man O'War, had no such an easy time as he did in the Derby, in which he beat Pompoon by a length and a half. Today he was driving all through the stretch but proved himself a true champion by running the distance in 1:58 2-5.

The track was still a trifle slow from yesterday's rains, but the time was only a fifth of a second slower than the Preakness record hung up by High Quest three years ago.

The judges flashed the "photo finish" sign as the two horses hit the finish line, but it was evident that War Admiral's head was in front. The margin was so small, however, that many, viewing the race from a difficult angle, had to wait until the picture was developed before their hopes were confirmed. Then the yells that had cheered the Man O'War colt all around the course swelled into a mighty roar.

The greater part of the $230,981 which passed through the mutuels on the race went to the support of War Admiral. As a result, he was the shortest priced winner in the history of the "Old Hilltop" stake.

A $2 win ticket on the Admiral returned only $2.70. He paid $2.30 to place and $2.40 to show. As the second choice, Pompoon returned $2.40 and $2.70 to place and show, respectively. Flying Scot, one of the outsiders in the wagering that favored little but the first two horses, paid 2 to 1 to show.

Riddle, 76-year-old Philadelphian who was unable to see his colt win the Derby because of illness, but was present today, fared much better, however. The victory netted him $45,600 and ran War Admiral's earnings for the year to $106,600.

The victory sent War Admiral into the select circle of thoroughbreds which have won both the Preakness and Derby, the first two events on America's "triple crown" that also includes the Belmont Stakes. The five previous double winners were Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Burgoo King, Omaha and Bold Venture. War Admiral's next engagement will be in the Belmont, June 5.

After delaying the start for nearly four minutes, as he did in the Derby, War Admiral broke fast. He had to yield pace-setting honors for the first few yards to John Hay Whitney's Flying Scot, but passing the judges' stand the first time, Charley Kurtsinger, Louisville's "Flying Dutchman," had the favorite winging along in front.

At the end of the first quarter of a mile, War Admiral was in front by a length and the race appeared to be a repetition of the Derby parade as Flying Scot and Joe W. Brown's Jewell Dorsett, only filly in the field of eight, began to find the pace too swift. The Riddle colt ran the first quarter in :23 1-5 seconds.

Meanwhile, Wayne Wright, the Rexburg, Idaho, veteran, was preparing Pompoon for the race of his life. The son of Pompey, having dispelled all question as to his route-running ability in the Derby, was slow hitting his stride, but once he started running, his long strides quickly carried him into a contending position.

The orders of C. F. (Danny) Clarke, trainer of Pompoon, were to keep the Loucheim ace at War Admiral's flanks to the homestretch and then strike. Wright obeyed orders perfectly, although he did not reach second place until midway of the backstretch. There he hung like a leech while War Admiral reeled off the six BALTIMORE, May 15.—(AP)—Wagering on the Preakness and the seven other races reached predepression figures today as $1,059,417 passed through the pari-mutuel machines.

With $230,981 bet on the Preakness alone, the total figures marked the greatest display of wagering at Pimlico since 1929, when $1,341,229 went through the machines. Last year the total play on Preakness day was only $783,053.

TECH LOSES TO WESLEYAN, 2-0

Rain Halts Game In Fifth As Bulldogs Complete Schedule In North

BLOOMINGTON, Ill., May 15.—(Special)—Louisiana Tech's baseball team pulled out of the "frozen north" after supper Saturday, their last game of the road trip having been halted by a cold rain after four and one-half innings with Illinois Wesleyan university. The score was 2-0 in favor of the Bloomington Titans.

The Louisianans expect to reach Ruston late Sunday night, ending a jaunt of about 2,000 miles.

Clyde Stinnett took the mound against the Titans. He had given up three hits, all in the third inning, and had struck out three when the game was called.

Temple, Titan first baseman, clouted a double in the third and was batted in by a single by catcher to Ennis. Hawkins got on by fielder's choice and was driven home by a single hit by Menendez.

Burt, Tech third baseman, got a single in the first period, and Caston, Tech centerfielder, connected for a base knock in the third, but their mates went out and left them holding the bag.

BELL, MEDWICK HITTING LEADERS

St. Louis Rookie And Johnny Mize In Batting Spotlight During Week

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Two of last year's prize rookies, Beau Bell of the Browns and Johnny Mize of the Cardinals, joined Ducky Medwick, another Gas House Gangster, in taking over the batting spotlight in the big leagues this week.

Bell and Medwick were setting the pace in their respective leagues today, while Mize showed the biggest gain of the week in climbing to the runner-up spot behind his team-mate Ducky-Wucky in the National league.

While Gerray Walker of the Detroit Tigers, and Gil Brack, Brooklyn rookie slipped out of the leads in the big-time, the standings for the week ended with yesterday's games show Mize and Bell outclassed all opposition with their clouting pace. Mize collected ten hits in 16 times at bat for a .625 average for the week, thereby raising his season mark 88 points to .431. Bell, with a 609 mark for the week on 14 hits in 23 chances, pulled himself to a .464 average for the season.

Medwick, comebacking from seventh place in the National league, hit the top with a .594 pace for the week to raise his season average 82 points to .459.

Only two other players came anywhere near the performance of these three St. Louis larrupers. Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox manager, advanced from fifth to second in the American league, and Al Todd, Pittsburgh catcher, climbed from sixth to third in the National.

EL DORADO RAPS MONROE HURLERS FOR 15 SAFETIES

Errors And Bases On Balls Also Help Arkansans; Double Header Today

By George V. Lofton

El Dorado's Lions fattened their batting averages off the slants of two Monroe hurlers last night, piling up 15 hits and 10 runs to cop the first of the three-game series at Casino park, 10 to 2.

DOUBLE HEADER TODAY

The Twins and the Lions will conclude their three-game series with a double header at Casino park today. The first game will start at 2:30 o'clock.

Manager Eddie Hock said last night that he would start Bill Kent in the first game and Jack Van Orsdol, who trimmed the Greenville Bucks in the first night game Thursday night, in the seven-inning affair. Manager Frank O'Rourke said he would use Neighbors and Gore in the bargain bill. Neighbors will pitch the opener and the elongated Gore will hurl the night cap. Both are righthanders.

The Twins' two pitchers, "Skip" Messina and Britton Horton, not only were rapped freely but the local club made six errors and contributed several other mistakes of omission to help the Lions compile their overwhelming triumph. It was "one of those night," and the Twins managed to get plenty of bad baseball out of their system.

It was a slow game, requiring two hours and 15 minutes. Messina and Horton were wild and Dark, the El Dorado hurler, didn't find it any too easy to locate the plate. Each hurler walked four batsmen and all three were in the hole on numerous other occasions but managed to get by without more free passes to first. In addition to that, there were other contributing factors to the delay. Pitcher Dark hurt his knee in the third inning and had to be examined by practically every member of the El Dorado team before he could continue. In the sixth, with Kirk Haynes fouling almost every pitch, the umpires ran out of balls and Manager Eddie Hock had to rush to the Monroe dressing room and dig up some new ones. And in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, the Lions squawked on almost every pitch, with the result that numerous conferences were held with Umpire Wilder, who was calling 'em behind the plate. The umpire demonstrated that he is a man of great patience by allowing several Lions to continue on the premises.

The Lions got their runs in clusters, making four in the third, four in the fourth and two in the sixth. Monroe scored one run in the third, and one more in the eighth.

Messina escaped without a run being scored against him in the first and second innings but the fireworks started in the third. With one out, Dickerman beat out an infield hit. Lewis walked and then Bohl singled to left center, scoring Dickerman, and Lewis went to third and Bohl to second when Johnson booted the hit.

CARDS RALLY IN 9TH TO BEAT PIRATES, 4-2

DEAN RETURNS TO HALT PITTSBURGH THREAT IN NINTH

Swift Allows Only Five Hits But Handley's Error Starts Cards On Rally

PITTSBURGH, May 15. — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals rallied in the ninth inning today to beat Pittsburgh, 4 to 2, before 13,000 fans and reduce the Pirates' lead in the National league pennant race to two and a half games.

A fumble by young Lee Handley at second base started the Cards on a two-run spree in the final frame.

The decision was a tough one for Pitcher Bill Swift, who held the Cardinals to five hits.

Dizzy Dean, chased to the showers yesterday by the Pirates' bats, returned in the ninth to halt a threatening rally. Harrell, who had shown signs of wobbling, got two men on base with one out, and Dean was rushed in. He walked Pinch-Hitter Lucas, filling the stations, but caused Jensen to fly out to center and Paul Waner to line to Moore.

REDS SHADE CUBS

CINCINNATI, May 15.—(AP)—Behind Lefty Lee Grissom's two-hit hurling, the Cincinnati Reds won their first game of the season at home today and climbed out of the National league cellar by defeating Chicago 3 to 2.

For six innings, only one Cub, Hack, reached first—on a walk in the second frame.

In the seventh, Demaree doubled for one of the two hits. In the ninth, Bottarini batted for Parmelee and reached first on Gelbert's wide throw. Bryant ran for him and took second as Galan walked. A wild pitch advanced both runners. Collins flied out but Demeree, only man to hit Grissom safely, brought them home with a single.

The Reds scored all their runs after two were out in the seventh. Outlaw singled, Goodman walked and Weintraub scored both of them with a triple. Virgil Davis singled Weintraub home.

GIANTS, PHILS SPLIT

NEW YORK, May 15. — (AP) — The Giants and Phillies split the season's first double header today, with arguments between umpires and various members of both teams providing more action than the games themselves.

The Phils won the opener, 6 to 2, with a four-run blast when fat Freddy Fitzsimmons weakened in the eighth inning.

The Giants took the nightcap, 2 to 1, when Kiddo Davis broke up the affair with a two-bagger to left, bringing in Dick Bartell from third base with the winning run. Until that point, Hal Schumacher and Wayne LaMaster, the Phils' rookie southpaw star, had hooked up in a tight twirling duel.

Manager Jimmy Wilson and Pitcher Bucky Walters of the Phils did most of the arguing in the opener, Walters finally being banished when he protested too vigorously on a called ball.

Bill Terry squawked in the nightcap, claiming LaMaster's pitching motion constituted a balk. When his complaint wasn't allowed, he announced the Giants were playing the game under protest.

Bartell hit safely in both games, running his consecutive game streak to 17 straight.

MACKMEN OUTHIT CHAMPIONS BUT LOSE CLOSE TILT

Malone's Relief Hurling Stops Athletics After Pearson Is Routed

PHILADELPHIA, May 15.—(AP)—The New York Yankees climbed back into second place in the American league today by nosing out the league-leading Athletics 6 to 5 with the aid of Pat Malone's relief pitching and a three-run triple by Rookie Tom Henrich.

For a few moments in the eighth inning, when Bob Johnson belted a homer with two mates on base, it appeared that Monte Pearson, the Yanks' starting pitcher, was due to lose his first game in four starts, but "Old Blub" Malone was summoned from the bullpen to end the uprising with two strikeouts and a pop-up.

The victory, achieved off Harry Kelley, who lasted until the Yanks' five-run uprising in the third frame, was the New Yorkers' 11th in 19 starts and advanced them over the Cleveland Indians and only a slim half game back of the A's.

NATS SHADE RED SOX

WASHINGTON, May 15.—(AP)—A home run by Al Simmons broke a tie in the eighth inning today and gave Washington a 5 to 4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The game was a see-saw battle for seven innings between Pitchers Buck Newsom and Lefty Grove. Newsom gave up eight hits before he was lifted for a pinch hitter. Pete Appleton hurled the last two innings and got credit for the win.

Grove was touched for a dozen hits, including a triple and two singles by Jess Hill. Jimmy Foxx and Pinkey Higgins hit home runs for Boston in the fourth inning.

BROWNS WIN AGAIN

ST. LOUIS, May 15.—(AP)—Two big innings literally sprinkled with extra base hits paved the way today for the second successive St. Louis Browns' victory over the Detroit Tigers. The score was 11 to 5.

Driving Vic Sorrell from the box in the fourth with a four-run barrage, the Brownies continued their vicious assault on Eldon Auker and tallied another score. Harry Davis, Joe Vosmik, Harland Clift and Manager Rogers Hornsby belted doubles.

Again in the fifth the Browns' heavy artillery functioned just as effectively and added five more markers. Benny Huffman got a double in this frame.

CHISOX BLANK INDIANS

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—Monty Stratton, towering White Sox right-hander, held the Cleveland Indians to three singles today to achieve his fourth victory and his second shutout of the season when Chicago won the first game of the series, 6 to 0.

The Sox backed up Stratton's sparkling hurling with a 10-hit attack on Dennis Galehouse, Hal Trosky and Odell Hale nicked Stratton for hits in the fifth inning and Lyn Lary got one in the ninth. No other Indian reached first base, only one reached second and none got as far as third.

Luke Appling's double and Lary's throwing error gave the Sox a run in the second, and consecutive singles by Zeke Bonura, Appling and Jack Hayes accounted for another in the fourth. Triples by Mike Kreevich and Dixie Walker, Hank Steinbacher's double and a single by Stratton scored four more and blew Galehouse out of action.

Stratton became the first American league pitcher to register two shutouts this season.

HOLMES ON MOUND

FERRIDAY, La., May 15.—(Special)—Jimmy Holmes, of Alexandria, La., former Cotton States and Evangeline league right-hander and one of the best young hurlers in Louisiana, will be in the box for the Natchez Indians Sunday afternoon when the Tribe tackles the vaunted Jonesville Lions at 3:30 o'clock. W. R. Priester, Ferriday High school coach, will catch Holmes while the pitcher for the Lions will be either George Boutwell or Hazel or Fontenot of the Ouachita Valley league.

ROWE'S PAY CUT UNTIL HE'S READY

Schoolboy's Salary To Be Withheld Until He's In Shape To Pitch

DETROIT, May 15.—(AP)—To the physical ills of Lynwood (Schoolboy) Rowe was added today the mental distress of discovering that his pay has been discontinued until he is in condition to pitch.

The big right-hander from Arkansas, who has pitched only eight innings for the Detroit Tigers this season, was first incredulous, then visibly dejected at the news.

A club official, although he confirmed the "no pitch, no pay" report, said the action shouldn't be considered a suspension. Under the Schoolboy's contract, the club may withhold his pay when he is not able to pitch. He was left behind when the Tigers entrained for St. Louis Thursday night, with instructions to work out daily at Navin field and rejoin the team when he was ready to pitch.

"Seem like they'd tell me about this pay business," the big pitcher grumbled as he lolled in the office of a lawyer friend, "Mike (Manager Cochrane) knows I'm sick. Even my doctor told him I was too sick to pitch."

"What's wrong with you?" he was asked.

"Oh, everything," was his doleful reply.

Dr. William E. Keane, Tigers' physician, said Rowe should be able to work himself into pitching form in a week or ten days.

The Schoolboy pitched for half an hour this afternoon.

GEORGIA DETHRONES L. S. U. AS TRACK CHAMPS

SIX MARKS FALL AS BULLDOGS WIN S'EASTERN TITLE

Auburn Third And Kentucky Fourth In Annual Meet; Towns Is Star

LEGION FIELD, BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 15.—(AP)—In a sensational exhibition of track and field performances that saw six records shattered, Georgia's Bulldogs dethroned Louisiana State today as Southeastern conference champions.

The Tigers from Baton Rouge, supreme in the sport since 1931, lost the championship by 12 points, with Auburn taking third place and Kentucky fourth.

Georgia's red and black-clad athletes, featuring performances of those two Olympic stars—Forest (Spec) Towns and Bullet (Bob) Packard—scored 65 points to 53 for Louisiana State. Auburn collected 22 and Kentucky, whose Dave Rogan eclipsed record times in the 880 and mile runs, was fourth with 18.

Records fell in the 880, the mile, two-mile, discus, pole vault and the mile relay. Among the featured exhibitions was Rogan's 4 minutes, 16.3 seconds mile run, the fastest mark ever made by a southern athlete.

Individual honors went to Towns, that freckled-faced world champion hurdler from Augusta, Ga., who collected 16 points in pacing the Bulldogs to their first conference championship. Georgia, unbeaten in regular dual meets for the last two years, came through with colors flying despite a disadvantage in numbers.

Packard, who ran with the wind to chalk up a 9.5 performance in the 100-yard dash in yesterday's qualifying trials, sprinted to glory in the century and 220-yard dash and was tied with Rogan for runner-up honors in the individual scoring with 10 points each.

Not since the Southeastern athletic group was organized in 1933 were the records given such a terrific lashing. The times and distances, however, needed official confirmation by the conference track committee and there was little doubt that all would be recognized with the exception of Packard's 100-yard mark.

Packard's 9.5 was run with a gale-like wind and it was the only mark there was any doubt of receiving approval. That century time made seven records actually bettered out of the 15 on the program.

Rogan's 880-yard mark of one minute, 54 seconds was made in the qualifying heat yesterday. It broke the time of 1:55.4 made by Ted O'Neil of Louisiana State in 1935. In the finals he won easily in the time of 1:56 2.

The slim Wildcat speedster ran away from his field in today's mile run, opening up with a burst on the last lap to win by 50 yards from Bob Ellis of Mississippi State. He broke his own record made here a year ago at 4:21.8.

One of the best races of the meet was the victory and record hung up by Bob (Chick) Aldridge of Georgia Tech in the two-mile race. The yellow-shirted Tech athlete, after running stride for stride with Luke Hamilton of Louisiana State, swept away in the last quarter to win by around 40 yards in the time of nine minutes and 36 seconds, 15.5 seconds faster than the mark made by John Sanders of Louisiana State.

Arnold (Judge) Bryan, the basketball star of Louisiana State, cleared the bar at 13 feet, 3 1-4 inches to shatter the 13 feet 3 1-4 inch record of Rutland of Auburn, made in 1934.

In the discus, Maurice Greene, the husky ex-fullback of Georgia, won first place with his heave of 149 feet, 9 3-4 inches. The mark, mad in the qualifying trials, bettered the figure of 149 feet, 1-2 inch set by Baby Jack Torrance of Louisiana State in 1934.

With Wilton Kilgore running as anchor man, Auburn's Tigers won the mile relay, climaxing event, in record-breaking time of 3 minutes, 19.7 seconds. The fleet-footed Kilgore came from behind in the stretch to overtake Harry Waugh of Tulane and win by a slim margin. The Auburn foursome broke the 1933 record of Louisiana State of 3 minutes 21.8 seconds.

Georgia had no entries in the mile run, 440-yard dash and two miles, but in the other 12 events the Bulldogs collected points, surprising supporters with their accumulation of place points.

The Georgians got four places in the 100-yard dash, three each in the high jump and discus, and two each in the 220 and broad jump.

Points were divided between the other entries as follows:

Georgia Tech, 17; Tulane, 16; Alabama, 11; Tennessee, Vanderbilt and Mississippi State, 6 each; Mississippi 3 and Florida 2.

RECORDS OFFICIAL

BIRMINGHAM, May 15.—(AP)—Wilbur Hutsell, chairman of the Southeastern conference track committee, announced tonight all records made in the annual track and field meet held here today and yesterday would be official, with the exception of that made by Bobby Packard of Georgia in the 100-yard dash. Packard set a mark of 9.5 seconds in yesterday's qualifying rounds. The record is 9.6. Packard ran the century in 9.7 today.

INDIANS BEAT BULLDOGS; SILVER MOON BESTS JAYS

The Atkinson playground Indians defeated the Bulldogs, 15 to 1, yesterday on the Atkinson diamond, and the Silver Moon aggregation downed the Blue Jays, 28 to 21, on a Dick Taylor street lot.

Lasuzzo, pitching for the Indians, allowed the Bulldogs only two hits, both by Hampton. Dozier, losing pitcher, gave up 15 hits. Crow hit a homer for the winners, but Ussery led the hitting with two doubles and a single in three times at bat.

The batteries in the Silver Moon-Blue Jay game were Warren and Bruno for the winners, and Leonard and Otto for the losers. Kenneth Cisco, of the winners, hit a homer.

Rikard, Hack One-Two In Cotton States Batting Race

TWIN OUTFIELDER LEADING LEAGUE WITH .379 MARK

Hack Has .369 Average; Monroe Third In Hitting, Second In Fielding

Cully Rickard, Monroe center fielder, and Clary Hack, the Twins' second baseman, are the leading Cotton States league batters, according to official averages released at league headquarters here yesterday. Rikard tops the league's hitters with a .379 average, while Hack is ten points behind in second place with .369.

The Monroe club is second in team fielding with a mark of .963 and third in team batting with .262. Vicksburg leads the other seven clubs in batting with .289, followed by Greenville with .271. Greenwood is in fourth place with .260, El Dorado fifth with .252. Clarksdale sixth with .245, Pine Bluff seventh wit' .245 and Helena eighth with .225.

El Dorado is the best fielding club in the league, according to the averages. The Lions boast a mark of .964 in that department, with Monroe one point behind. Greenville trails the Twins by one point with .962, and Clarksdale is in the fourth spot with .959. Helena is fifth with .956, Pine Bluff sixth with .945, Vicksburg seventh with .936 and Greenwood eighth with .931.

Monroe has four regulars in the select list of .300 hitters. Besides Rikard and Hack, they are Kirk Haynes, with .342, and Manager Eddie Hock with a mark of .316. Bill Kent, a pitcher, is batting .333. Clair Bates, Twins' first baseman, is hitting .241, Clifford Johnson, left fielder, has a mark of .235, and Walter Butler, catcher, is batting an even 200. "Red" Borum, the new Monroe shortstop, is not included in the averages.

The third hitter in the league is Masucci, El Dorado shortstop, who sports a mark of .358. Grant, Pine Bluff first sacker, and Kirke, outfielder for the Judges, follow with .350 and .349, respectively. Hackney, Vicksburg second baseman, is next with .347, followed by Simmons, Pine Bluff catcher, with .347. Other players who make up the first ten batsmen in the circuit include Miller, Clarksdale outfielder, with .338; Kreevich, Vicksburg outfielder, with .329, and Rolek, Greenville outfielder, with .326.

Rikard and Haynes are tied for home run honors with seven each. Bates has hit most two baggers, ten, closely followed by Rikard and Grant. Perryman, Greenwood catch, has hit five triples to lead in that department. Rikard has most total bases, 62, and Haynes has driven in more runs than any other player, 25. He is followed by Hack, with runs driven in.

Monroe has made the most total bases, 311, or 23 more than Vicksburg, in second place. Monroe also leads in home runs with 19, and doubles, with 46. Greenwood has hit most triples, 22. The Monroe club leads in runs batted in, 113. Vicksburg has scored most runs, 126, and Greenville leads in hits with .203.

The pitching department is topped by "Smokey Joe" Woods, of Vicksburg, with six victories and no defeats. Zajac, Pine Bluff, has five wins and no losses, Ware, Vicksburg, has 4-0, Raper, El Dorado, has 3-0, and Carpenter, of Greenwood, has won two and lost none. The averages show Britton Horton and Jack Van Orsdol, Monroe hurlers, with four victories and no defeats each. "Skip" Messina and John Burrows each have won one and lost one, Bill Kent has won one and lost two and Gould Powers has won one and lost three.

EAST TEXAS LEAGUE

TYLER TRIMS KILGORE

KILGORE, Tex., May 15.—(AP)—Tyler batsmen knocked Manager Tom Estell out of the box in the third inning to score four runs for the highlight of a 6-1 victory over Kilgore tonight.

Score by innings:

EL DORADO RAPS

Rushing looped a single over second base and Lewis scored. Masucci rapped a single to right, scoring Bohl, and Rushing came on home with the fourth run when Walter Butler let the throw from the outfield get through him.

The Twins pushed over their first run in the last half of the third when Messina led off with a double to left, went to third on an infield out and scored on Clair Bates' single.

El Dorado added four more runs in the fourth. Dickerman walked to start it. Lewis daid down a bunt and Messina had plenty of time to catch Dickerman at second but elected to throw to first instead, and Bates dropped the ball, and all hands were safe. Bohl also hit one to Messina, who threw to second too late to catch Lewis and all hands were safe. Rushing singled to center, scoring Dickerman and Lewis, and that finished Messina. Horton took the mound for the Twins and Masucci greeted him with a single to short center, scoring Bohl. Tone laid down a bunt and was safe on Butler's error, a bad throw on the play, Werner struck out but Ludwig walked, forcing in Rushing. Dickerman, up for the second time, ended the agony by flying out to Haynes.

In the sixth, the Lions added their last two runs. Masucci led off with a looper back of third that Hock, Johnson and Borum ran after but neither got under. Tone singled to right. Werner struck out and Ludwig skied to Hack at second but Dark beat out an infield hit that scored Masucci. Dickerman also bunted one to the right of Horton for an infield hit and Tone scored when the Monroe hurler threw the ball a mile over Bates' head at first.

The Twins got their second and last tally in the eighth when Bates led off with a single to right and went all the way to third when Dickerman let the ball get through him. Hack got an infield single and then Bates scored when Haynes hit a fly to deep center field.

Masucci and Tone led the El Dorado attack with four hits each. The Lions squelched two Monroe rallies with a pair of snappy double plays.

Pine Bluff, using nine hits to advantage, drew nearer leadership in the Cotton States Baseball league Saturday by overwhelming Greenville, 12 to 6. Greenville got more hits—12 of them—but not when they were needed.

In the other afternoon contest, Greenwood took a 4 to 2 decision from Helena. Both Anderson of Greenwood and Jones of Helena hurled well. Each team got only five hits.

Vicksburg, losing to Clarksdale, 8 to 5, in a night contest, had its league lead cut to a half game. In the other night battle, El Dorado swamped Monroe, 10 to 2.

FIGHT SITUATION STILL JUMBLED

Broadway Wonders How Schmeling Will Fit In The Heavyweight Picture

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Few along Broadway could make any more out of the jumbled heavyweight situation today than they could before Judge Guy L. Fake announced his long-awaited decision in Newark yesterday.

It now is pretty well established that Champion James J. Braddock will fight Joe Louis in Chicago, June 22, but beyond that one guess is as good as another.

The German challenger, Max Schmeling, occupies one of the key positions. The New York state athletic commission is firmly esconced in another.

Whether the disappointed Schmeling, faithfully training for the phantom June 3 title bout with Braddock, will be content to stick around for a fight with the Chicago winner, dash into the courts or take a few easy money bouts with Bob Pastor, John Henry Lewis, et al and return to Germany in disgust, remains to be seen.

The state athletic commission is marking time until five days before June 3. Then, if Braddock doesn't appear and satisfy the commission he is ready to fight Max, it probably will suspend him. Also, Louis is likely to be threatened with a similar punishment if he goes through with the Chicago fight.

Meanwhile, the Madison Square Garden corporation marshaled its forces to fight the decision of Judge Fake, who denied the Garden's plea that Braddock be restrained from fighting Louis until he carries out his contract with Schmeling.

Before leaving for a Florida vacation, Col. John Reed Kilpatrick, Garden president, ordered his attorneys to file an appeal in the federal courts of Philadelphia next week.

At Speculator, Schmeling and his manager, Joe Jacobs, said little except the German would be here June 3, ready to fight.

Joe Gould, manager of Braddock, hailed the ruling as victory "for our side," while the champion ordered a fresh supply of sparring partners rushed to his camp at Grand Beach, Minn., and in Chicago a jubilant promoter named Joe Foley said ticket sales for the Comiskey park bout would open at once.

FRONT-RUNNING

furlongs in 1:12 2-5 and the mile in 1:37 2-5.

Coming out of the backstretch, Kurtsinger gave War Admiral a crack of the whip in an effort to shake off Pompoon. But this time there was no repetition of the Derby, for the son of Pompey stuck to his guns, answering every move of his rival with one of his own.

War Admiral went a trifle wide at the turn leading into the homestretch. That gave Wright his chance. He quickly shot Pompoon up and when the pair straightened out for the three-sixteenths of a mile run to the finish line, only a head separated them. War Admiral's head was in front, however, and there it stayed through a bitter drive that saw both jockeys swinging their whips in an attempt to get a little more speed out of their mounts.

A sixteenth of a mile from home it appeared as if Pompoon would be equal to the task and hand the favorite his first defeat of the year. He moved up until only inches separated their bobbing heads. That was as close as Wright could drive the Loucheim ace, however.

Recalling the feats of his famous sire, War Admiral refused to give ground and they drove under the wire still only inches apart. The decision was close, but there was no doubt among the experts in the press box that War Admiral had won.

The narrow margin meant much, not only in honor but in riches, for second place was worth only $5,000.

The wagering indicated a two-horse race and that's what it was. Flying Scot was six lengths back in third place, beating Julia M. Loft's Mosawtre by a length and a half. For finishing third, Flying Scot's owner received $3,000 while Mosawtre's fourth place was worth $2,000.

Mosawtre saved the last money position by a length for Mrs. W. R. Furst's Over The Top, a stable-mate of War Admiral until a few days ago. Then came Walter M. Jeffords' Matey, the big disappointment, Eunice G. Rand's Merry Maker, an outsider when the track became fast, and Jewell Dorsett.

DOWNING EQOALS PAR AT M'GUIRE

High School Champion First To Post Par Score At West Monroe Course

Ben Downing, Jr., the 14-year-old Neville High school golfer who recently won the state high school golf championship, yesterday chalked up a par score of 72 over the 18-hole course of the McGuire Park Golf club, thus becoming the first golfer to equal par on the McGuire links, it was announced last night by Jim McKenzie, club pro.

Downing posted his record breaking McGuire course score in a semi-final match of the championship flight of the McGuire club's championship tournament, defeating H. A. McDonald, 5 and 4, to reach the finals.

In the other semi-finals round, Bun Beasley defeated Dr. R. B. Henry, 8 and 7. Downing and Beasley are to clash for the club title this week.

In the semi-finals of the consolation flight of the McGuire tournament Frank Johns defeated Ed Watkins, 1 up, and W. R. Alleman beat B. Rickerson, 3 and 2.

Downing's score:

FELLER REJOINS CLEVELAND CLUB

Schoolboy Strikeout Sensation Expects To Have Arm Okay In Few Days

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—Bob Feller rejoined the Cleveland Indians today, happy over his graduation from high school, but a little irritated by reports that his strikeout right arm was more than just sore.

The sensational youngster, who left his Van Meter, Ia., home last night soon after receiving his diploma in the biggest graduation ceremony the little high school ever had, said he could pitch Monday if Manager Steve O'Neill would let him.

"My arm is sore, all right," he admitted, "but I can throw with just as much stuff as ever. It hurts to cut loose, fast ball or curve, but I can do it. A few more days of rest and it will be all right again."

Bob said the soreness is "around the elbow"—he can't put his finger on the exact spot. It is not as painful as it was when he went back Van Meter last Monday.

"I have rested my arm since last Monday," he explained, "and of course, it doesn't hurt much right now. I'll start throwing again Monday, but Mr. O'Neill says I'll have to take it easy until there is no more soreness. I hope that will be soon because I sure love to pitch."

The husky young Iowan admitted he felt "a little down" when he first felt the pain, but stopped worrying after O'Neill assured him other pitchers had had the same trouble and recovered from it.

The World's Latest Market News

COTTON

New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—Cotton moved slightly forward today with a moderate demand induced by fears that cool weather in the belt might prove harmful to the new crop.

The close was steady at net advances of 7 to 9 points. July finished the day at 12.67, October at 12.57, January at 12.69, and March at 12.71.

Aside from the weather there was little else in that day's news to affect prices. Liverpool was closed for the Whitsuntide holiday, leaving the local market without the usual foreign incentive at the start.

Trading was dull but lack of selling pressure and some covering supported prices during the abbreviated session.

Spot centers and goods markets continued quiet.

Exports today were 7,616 bales.

AVERAGE MIDDLING PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 13.04 cents a pound; average for the past thirty days 13.31 cents a pound.

New York

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Cotton advanced further today on trade buying and week-end covering while contracts were limited principally to local realizing. The market felt the influence of improved technical conditions rather than any fresh development.

July, which sold up to 12.84, closed at 12.76, with final prices 8 to 14 points net higher.

Cotton futures closed steady, 8 to 14 points higher.

Sugar

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Raw sugar was unchanged today 3.33 for spots with no sales reported.

Futures were quiet because of the holiday abroad but prices held steady on week-end covering and a little commission house buying. July No. 3 advanced from 2.47 to 2.48 and September from 2.46 to 2.47 with final prices at about the best and 1 to 2 points net higher. Sales were 760 tons.

No. 4 July sold from 1.14 1-2 to 1.16 1-2 and September from 1.17 1-2 to 1.19 1-2, or 1 1-2 points net higher, and closed at around the best with the list from 1-2 to 1 1-2 points net higher. Sales were 2,400 tons.

Refined was unchanged at 4.80 for fine granulated with moderate business reported.

NEW YORK STOCKS

By Victor Eubank

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—It was fair weather for elected rails and industrials in today's stock market, but other categories shifted aimlessly in a fog.

Dealings, almost as listless as last Saturday, when the volume was the smallest since June 6, a year ago, found favored issues up fractions to a point or so.

On the other hand, steels, motors and utilities were generally unsuccessful in climbing out of a rut, and moderate minus marks were well distributed at the close.

Most traders, only mildly cheered by constructive business news and the truce in the Jones and Laughlin and General Motors labor controversies, inclined to step lightly in view of possible developments over the week-end.

Transfers were around 350,000 shares.

Bonds were quiet but, on the whole, a trifle improved. Commodities, especially grain and cotton futures, did better.

Stocks pointing higher during the greater part of the proceedings—some fell back in the final few minutes—included Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Union Pacific, Pennsylvania, Great Northern, Celanese, Loew's Paramount, Warner Brothers, Eastman Kodak, Otis Elevator, Union Carbide, Corn Products, Owens-Illinois, Kennecott, Anaconda, Texas Corp., Barnsdall, American Can, American Steel Foundries, Republic Steel, Youngstown Sheet and Tube, Montgomery Ward, Caterpillar Tractor and American Water Works. Homestake Mining advanced sharply.

In a restricted area to down more than a point were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Inland Steel, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodyear, Goodrich, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Deere, American Tobacco "B," Reynolds Tobacco "B," Allied Chemical, Standard Oil of N. J., American Telephone, Western Union, Consolidated Edison, Electric Power and Light, American Smelting and Cerro de Pasco.

Wall Street's eyes again turned to Washington for inspiration as the president returned to his desk from a fishing trip and the lines on the supreme court controversy, as well as other proposed legislation, were drawn tighter.

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, May 15.—(AP)—Stocks irregular; rails edge forward. Bonds steady; treasuries improve slightly. Curb narrow; some industrials well taken. Foreign exchange quiet; slight improvement against dollar. Cotton steady; trade and foreign buying, contracts scarce. Sugar improved; Cuban support. Coffee steady; trade buying.

CHICAGO: Wheat strong; crop complaints. Corn strong; short covering. Cattle nominal, 50 to $1 higher for week. Hogs Nominal, week's top $11.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 15.—(AP)—Unfavorable crop reports from Canada accompanied a modest advance in wheat prices early today.

A recognized authority said that a definitely unfavorable moisture deficiency had developed in half of the Dominion's wheat acreage which if not relieved almost immediately might cause a sharp reduction in wheat yields.

Opening unchanged to 3-8 higher, May 1.24-24 1-8, July 1.16 5-8 - 7-8, wheat later advanced around a cent. Corn started 3-8 - 1 1-8 up, May 1.30-30 3-8, July 1.17 3-8 - 1-2.

Wheat closed 1 to 2 1-4 cents higher compared with yesterday's finish, May 1.25 7-8 - 26, July 1.18 - 18 1-8, and corn was 5-8 - 3 up, May new 1.30 3-8; July now 1.17 5-8 - 3-4. Oats were unchanged to 3-4 higher.

THINGS TO REMEMBER IN SELECTING A PIANO FOR YOUR HOME

That the most severe music critics insist on the Knabe piano. It is the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, the richest and most important organization of its kind in the world. Its roster of artists, past and present, includes the world's richest singers and conductors.

Though the Knabe Company has never made a better piano than now, the price is lower than at any time within the last twenty years.

You can arrange most liberal terms, and you need not deprive yourself any longer of the joys and satisfaction of owning one of these fine instruments.

Or you may select a slightly used Grand now, and we will take it back in a year, without loss, on a new one.

SEARS TO OPEN HERE THURSDAY

V. J. Fenstermaker, Manager, Announces Formal Opening Of Big Concern

Monroe will get its first view of Sears, Roebuck and Co.'s retail store in the three-story building at 328 DeSiard street at 9 o'clock next Thursday morning, May 20, when the doors of the new establishment will be formally thrown open to the public. Announcement that the date for the opening had been definitely set for Thursday came from V. J. Fenstermaker, who will manage the new store here.

Remodeling and refinishing work has been in progress at the store building since the early part of February and passers-by have watched with interest the completion of successive stages in the extensive remodeling program.

"The remodeling and construction program has been going along right on schedule time," Mr. Fenstermaker said, "and Frank Masling, contractor in charge, has assured us that all of the details would be out of the way in plenty of time to permit opening of the store next Thursday. If it should be found at all necessary, even air transport service will be pressed into use so that our merchandise assortments may be absolutely complete by the time our doors swing open to the people of Monroe."

Tomorrow will see the corps of store workers starting in upon the home stretch of opening preparations, according to Mr. Fenstermaker, who pointed out that it will be a personnel made up almost entirely of Monroe residents that will man this newest addition to the city's retail life.

"Sears' policy of hiring local people to work in its retail stores is as old and firmly established as Sears' retail organization itself," explained Mr. Fenstermaker. There have always been two principal reasons for it. The first is that it is in harmony with Sears' desire to do everything the company can to help in the upbuilding of those communities in which Sears stores are established. This desire is further reflected in the determination of Sears, Roebuck and company to patronize local industries in its purchase of supplies for the operation of its stores and wherever possible in the purchase of merchandise to be sold in them.

"Yet there is a second and somewhat less altruistic reason why our concern employs local residents in its stores. It is simply because a local person can do a much better job in a Sears store in Monroe, for instance, than a clerk with equal ability from somewhere else. No other person could possibly know Monroe people better. So hiring an exclusively local personnel is also mighty good business, we have found."

Sears is occupying the entire building which consists of three floors and a mezzanine. With a frontage of 60 feet and a depth of 135 feet the building will have a floor area of approximately 26,080 square feet.

In addition provision has been made for the free automobile tire and battery servicing to customers in a space about 9,980 square feet at the rear of the store. This service for motorists is operated as a part of the regular tire, battery and automobile accessory division of the company.

V. J. Fenstermaker, the manager of the new Sears, Roebuck and company store in Monroe, is not a newcomer with Sears, having been with that organization for the past six years.

Mr. Fenstermaker has been in Monroe for the past three weeks directing preparations for a gala opening and has had a good opportunity to observe Monroe from a newcomer's point of view. When asked about this city he said, "I am very enthusiastic about our future in Monroe. I have been especially impressed with the progressiveness of this city and the wholehearted welcome I have been given by the many people I have met. It is a pleasure to be able to be associated with the progressive type business people I have found in Monroe and I am anxious to become an integral part of this community. I want to take this opportunity to invite all of Monroe and the surrounding country to our new store."

Mr. and Mrs. Fenstermaker have taken a house in Monroe and are living at 503 Auburn avenue.

V. R. Neblett, assistant manager of the new Sears, Roebuck and company store in Monroe has been in Sweetwater, Tex., for the company for the past several years. Mr. Neblett is another veteran with the company and will help Mr. Fenstermaker direct the activities of Sears in Monroe. He has been with Sears for six years and started with the company at Sweetwater, Tex., in Sears' store there.

Mr. and Mrs. Neblett with their three children, Randolph, 16, Sam, 14, and Bettie Lou, 10, have taken up residence in Monroe at the Mira Mar apartments on St. John street.

POLICE WRECK STILL, ARREST TWO IN RAID

Two negroes were arrested, 100 barrels of mash and a quantity of equipment used in making moonshine whisky, were destroyed, and three gallons of whisky confiscated, as the result of two raids carried out yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Frank V. Reitzell and Detectives J. D. Bedsole and L. G. Parker.

The home of Robert Blunt, negro, at 506 Atkinson street, was the officers' first objective. They raided the place about 1:30 p. m. and found the mash, which was destroyed. A compete still was also destroyed and about two and a half gallons of whisky retained as evidence.

Robert Douglas, negro, living on the Winnsboro road, was the second victim. The officers made their appearance at his house about two hours after the first raid and found Douglas in possession of a copper still and a gallon of whisky.

The prisoners were placed in the city jail and will be turned over to federal authorities for arraignment tomorrow.

PLANS FOR NEW SCHOOL FINISHED

Bids For Choudrant Structure Will Be Asked Early This Week

Architects' plans for the new Choudrant High school to replace the building destroyed by fire two months ago, are now ready and will be placed on the market early this week, it was learnd Saturday from a member of the architectural firm of J. W. Smith and associates of Monroe, which prepared the plans.

Bid for the construction contract will be opened June 22 at Ruston, and building work will start immediately after the contract has been awarded. The new structure is authorized by the Lincoln parish school board, and will cost $90,000.

Plans for the new high school call for a two-story combination high school and grade school, equipped with a combination gymnasium and auditorium having a seating capacity of 1,400.

The building will be constructed of buff colored brick and stone. It will contain seven grade school rooms, four high school lecture rooms, a domestic science department consisting of three rooms, a manual training department, bookkeeping, typewriting and agricultural department, library and study hall. The architectural design will be strictly modern and the building when completed will be one of the finest of its kind in northeast Louisiana.

Vacation Trips And Gardening Provide Chief Interest Of Monroe Society

Raymond Morrison Pleased With City

Noted Horticulturist Was Speaker At Club Meeting; Wanderlust Fever Infecting Many

By Eve Bradford

"DOWN to earth and back to nature" is the slogan of enthusiastic gardeners who are now enjoying a brief respite from labor following one of the busiest seasons they have ever experienced. The crunch of gravel—the scratch of rakes—the grating of spades and the hum of the lawn mower is sweet music to gardeners who have taken greater pride this year than ever before in cultivating those special kinds of flowers that contribute to spiritual welfare and happiness. From the cradle through youth to mature age we are now taught to "say it with flowers."

So delighted was Raymond Morrison, noted horticulturist of Fort Worth, with Monroe's beautiful gardens and the hospitality extended during the Federated Garden club meeting last week, he was inspired to autograph his book, "Let's Go to the Parks," and pen a flowery message on the fly leaf to Frances Keenan, who took a prominent part in the activities.

Life is made up of small novelties these days. One spends interesting moments inspecting a beautiful trousseau, attending a musical, a recital or a dance revue, bidding friends bon voyage and making plans for one's own vacation. Wanderlust is a fever that quite consumes one these days of early summer. Janet Powell, along about this time every year, commence to manifest symptoms of unrest . . . soon she will be off for her favorite summer stamping ground—Detroit. Her departure is always regretted by friends who enjoy being with her. She loves life and possesses the magnetic spark which electrifies everybody with whom she comes in contact.

Gladys Sperry, home from the University of Oklahoma, where she spent Mother's day with her son, was looking unusually happy and youthful the other day in a coronation blue coated frock with dusty pink hat, gloves and purse. Her son must have been proud indeed to introduce her among his fellow students. Jinks will finish his course in August, one leap ahead of the others, and will then be ready for the grind the study of law always entails.

Cherry Bernstein stood in her beautiful gardens, perfumed with the ineffable fragrance of magnolia, and lamented the fact that she was away from home when her dogwood tree put forth its pink blossoms. Pink dogwood is sufficiently rare these days to attract the attention of even the most extensive traveler. At the time of blooming Cherry was enjoying the beauty spots of South Carolina and Alabama. Every year she motors to the magnolia gardens in Charleston and the Bellingrath gardens in Mobile. Next year, however, she intends to be at home when her pink dogwood tree blossoms.

Rather disquieting are these youngsters who await their diplomas the first of June. One wonders what thoughts move behind young eyes, what new worlds do they move toward, what goals they will reach. This is what they of the new generation all know: that nothing is done finally and right—that nothing is known positively and completely—that there is not now and never has been a perfectly run school, newspaper, bank, theater; that no business ever has been built, managed, financed as it should be, must be and will be some day—possibly in their day; that the best picture has not yet been painted, the greatest poem has not been written and the greatest song still unsung—that the world is theirs.

A group of girls, Jane McKenzie, Mary Hayward, Estelle Thames, Jane Landry, Nora Virginia Abernathy and Jean Hale, with their winning smiles, lively intelligence and becoming modesty, were judged the most popular members of the senior class at Neville High school. Votes were unsolicited and came voluntarily, thus indicating the sincerity of purpose governing the selection.

The fertile soil of the Monroe Little Theater is continually developing histrionic ability as exemplified in the work of Francine Losser, who made her debut in "The Trial of Mary Dugan." Francine has gone places since then and is now being considered for a screen test by United Artists casting officials. She was selected with five others to appear on the stage of a Dallas theater, where a "Star Is Born" contest will be sponsored. Friends in this city feel that she will be selected from among the five for the test, as she has beautiful features and a pair of dazzling blue eyes and real acting ability.

The chic thing among stay-at-homes at the moment is to meet informally during the afternoon for drinks served in tall frosted glasses. Gone is the formality of silver tea and coffee service for these informal gatherings devoted to chit-chats. The younger married set find these affairs very much to their liking and have decided to feature them through the summer. Dorothy Collier of Atlanta, finds these friendly gatherings with their laughter and conversation so thoroughly delightful she intends to introduce them into her own set when she returns home.

John and Helen Sherrouse, Europe bound, will be off Tuesday morning for Culver to bid their son, John, goodbye. There is always a fly in the ointment no matter how well laid are the plans for a summer of travel. John will graduate from Culver in June, but his parents will not be there to see him receive his diploma. They are sailing before his graduation for Nice and a Mediterranean cruise.

National Honor Society Meets

The Monroe chapter of the National Honor society held its annual spring induction exercise in the Neville High school auditorium on Wednesday morning at which time the following members were installed: Carolyn Oliver, Sara Frances Hinkle, Patsy Slack, Billy Stevenson, Marion Smith and Jane McMullen.

Other members of the chapter are: Noel Learned, president; Billy Bendel, Jr., vice-president; Arnold Ablon, secretary; Jane McKenzie, reporter; and Bobby Oliver, Bobby O'Donnell, Mlle Markland, Geraldine John, Sackman Marx, Bernice Bernstein, James Digby, Roberta Stewart Stanley Mintz, Albert Newburn, and Nora Virginia Abernathy.

The program was as follows:

Professional — National Emblem March, Neville High school band, directed by Mr. Charles Gaushell.

Piano solo—Sara Tabb.

Music—Selections of Remsky Korsakov, Neville High school band.

Introduction — Noel Learned, president.

Presentation of candidates — Miss Edwina Joseph, Junior Sponsor.

History of the National Honor Society—Roberta Stewart.

Cardinal objectives of the National Honor Society—(a) Scholarship—William Bendel, Jr. (b) Leadership—Sackman Marx. (c) Service—Jane McKenzie. (4) Character—Arnold Ablon. (e) Citizenship—Nora Virginia Abernathy.

Acceptance of the candidates—Superintendent E. L. Neville.

Administering of the pledge—Noel Learned.

Welcome to the new members and awarding of membership cards—Miss Mary Hester, sponsor of the Monroe chapter.

Miss Hester explained that though the members of the society had to rank in the upper third of their class, there were more than twenty items exclusive of scholarship upon which they were scored, such as leadership, honesty, self-control, influence, character. National honor students should be among the leaders of the school who are willing to think, work and serve. There is a recent national ruling which requires that the membership certificates not be presented until the end of the graduating year in order that the privileges of membership may be taken away from any student whose scholarship or conduct might fall below the standard of the National Honor society.

Mrs. Chapman Feted At Bernstein Home

Old Friends Gather At Hospitable Residence To Meet Guest From South Carolina

Mrs. Henry Bernstein welcomed old friends in the spacious environs of her beautiful home on Riverside Friday afternoon between the hours of 5 and 7, with her niece, Mrs. Frederick Chapman, of South Carolina, the guest of honor, standing with her in the drawing room. Mrs. L. P. Milner and Mrs. T. C. Rowland greeted the guests in the vestibule where the graceful circular stairway leads to the upper floor. The entire lower floor was perfumed with the scent of magnolias overflowing from classic shaped antique urns. The drawing room with its handsome furnishings needed only the placement of pink Radiance roses to perfect the harmony of color.

Mrs. R. B. Frizzell, Mrs. F. P. Stubbs and Mrs. Marion Learned presided over the refreshment table in the dining room, where heavy heirloom silver coffee and tea services were placed at either end. Centering the table was a spreading mound of magnolia blossoms, white stock and superb white roses nestling in a flaring bowl of white porcelain. Magnolias are the flower par excellence these days of early summer. They were featured at several lovely soirees during the past week.

Mrs. Milling Bernstein, Mrs. G. P. Stubbs, Mrs. Ruby Stewart and Mrs. George Snellings, Jr., passed among the guests with trays of confections including mints in fower design and in every pastel shade.

Guests walked through the beautiful grounds of Mrs. Bernstein's home before departing and enjoyed the atmosphere of tranquility in the cloistered sections.

One hundred or more guests called during the afternoon to meet Mrs. Chapman and to enjoy the rare blend of hospitality friends always associate with Mrs. Bernstein's home.

NO. 3 OF A SERIES ABOUT OUR STORE

110 Of Us To Serve You!

Most folks are surprised to learn that there are 110 of us employed by Monroe Furniture Company here in Monroe. Nearly all of us have families; many of us own our homes; most of us are young enough to have our future ahead of us; all of us are helping to build Monroe into a greater city. We are black, white, Gentile and Jew, Protestant and Catholic . . . as cosmopolitan as the city itself; yet we have but one aim . . . one goal . . . one thought paramount . . . SERVICE to you!

We are proud of the size of our organization; proud of our institution and our city; but most of all we are proud of our opportunity, our willingness and our ability to serve you well.

Mere size in itself is incidental in our organization. We like to feel that, while no order is too large for us to handle promptly and well, no order is too trivial to fail to command our respect and attention. It is our aim to render the same careful service to the purchaser of one window shade that we would accord the buyer of a houseful of furniture.

THAT WAS BEFORE I KNEW SHE DIDN'T READ THE TOOTHPASTE ADS!
10 MINUTES LATER
WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH ME LATELY, DOT? RAY'S NOT THE ONLY ONE WHO ACTS AS IF I HAD BAD BREATH OR SOMETHING!
SAY, WHY NOT TALK TO DR. MASON ABOUT BAD BREATH, JEAN?
JEAN, TESTS PROVE THAT 76% OF ALL PEOPLE OVER THE AGE OF 17 HAVE BAD BREATH. AND TESTS ALSO PROVE THAT MOST BAD BREATH COMES FROM IMPROPERLY CLEANED TEETH. I ADVISE COLGATE DENTAL CREAM BECAUSE...
COLGATE DENTAL CREAM COMBATS BAD BREATH
"Colgate's special penetrating foam gets into the hidden crevices between your teeth . . . emulsifies and washes away the decaying food deposits that cause most bad breath, dull, dingy teeth, and much tooth decay. At the same time, Colgate's soft, safe polishing agent cleans and brightens enamel—makes teeth sparkle!"

Miss Suzanne Hirsch, Bride-To-Be, Center Of Several Attractive Events

Grey Gables Scene Of Luncheon Affair

Mrs. Evelyn Reims Entertains Miss Hirsch And Mrs. Leon Titche, A Recent Bride

There is a bridal note to much of Monroe's social life just now with several events last week honoring Miss Suzanne Hirsch paving the way for many more to come.

Mrs. Sigmund Masur ere her departure for Nice, Italy, and the Norwegian fjords, entertained at luncheon at Grey Gables, with Miss Hirsch, wearing a smart, flower sprinkled crepe model, the central figure.

The luncheon table with its handsome silver and crystal appointments was florally adorned with a spreading mound of pastel tinted blossoms. A delectable five-course luncheon was served to Miss Hirsch, Mrs. D. I. Hirsch, Mrs. Milton Gorn, Mrs. Evelyn Reims, Mrs. George Thorgeson, Mrs. Sylvian Masur, Mrs. Walter Permenter, Miss Edwina Joseph and Miss Alyce Florsheim.

Mrs. Evelyn Reim's luncheon last week honored a bride-to-be, Miss Hirsch, and a bride of recent date, Mrs. Leon Titche.

The luncheon table in the main dining room of the Virginia hotel was aglow with beautiful flowers overflowing from a Dresden epergne. Covers were laid for nine for the serving of the five courses.

Next week will be crowded with affairs leading up to the wedding breakfast, with Mr. and Mrs. David Davidson as hosts, on the morning of June 16.

Mrs. David Cromwell, Mrs. Louis Cohn and Mrs. Alex Wilenzick were among the hostesses entertaining at bridge for Miss Hirsch earlier in the month.

Interest is centered at this time in the approaching marriage of Miss Frances Stroud to Mr. Lewis Scranton Dunlap, of Mobile, Ala. The wedding will take place at 5:30 in the evening June 5, at the First Presbyterian church.

Miss Doris Beaman's marriage to Dr. Luther Vaughan later in the month will be a brilliant event attended with considerable pomp and ceremony.

Dr. Tiebout Gives Concluding Lecture

The final lecture of a series on "Understanding and Training the Child," sponsored by the Twin City P.-T. A. council, was given by Dr. Carolyn Tiebout, of the extension division of Louisiana State university, in the Central Grammar school auditorium Thursday at 2 p.m.

In discussing the topic, "Sex Instruction," which she chose for the concluding lecture, the speaker pointed out that such instruction should be given the young child to satisfy his need to understand things in his environment, to retain the child's confidence and to avoid undesirable situations such as those which might arise when the child gets misinformation on the subject.

In regard to the question as to when information should be given the child, the speaker stated that most authorities feel that the child should be given information when he asks for it and in cases where the child doesn't ask questions, or perhaps doesn't ask them early enough, the parent may try to arouse in him a desire to know, stir his curiosity a little so that he will ask questions. For the type of information which the child should have at different ages, reference was made to the report of the White House Conference Committee on Social Hygiene.

In answering the child's questions, it was suggested that the parent tell the truth and tell it simply. "By giving the child the simple facts as he encounters them," the speaker stated, "sex education becomes a part of his gradual development rather than a mysterious subject set apart from all others."

The child in the period just preceding adolescence should have an understanding of the developmental changes taking place within him and an appreciation of their significance, the speaker said. "The child is more easily reached in the pre-adolescent period, because he is less self-conscious before the emotional changes of adolescence have begun," Dr. Tiebout stated.

"In the end, the sex behavior of the adolescent boy and girl is determined to a considerable degree by their whole adjustment to life. The adolescent who has adequate outlets for his various energies and interests and whose relationships with his parents and friends are satisfactory, is likely to meet his maturing sex urges adequately."

Mrs. Couch Awarded Membership Trophy

At the 1936 state Parent-Teacher association convention a loving cup was offered to the district director who organized the greatest number of new P.-T. A. units in her district for the year 1936-37, reinstatement of former units being included.

Mrs. Carl Couch, fifth district P.-T. A. director, and Mrs. Allen Price of Winnsboro, associate fifth district director, reported a total of seven new units and 390 new members, bringing the entire membership of the district to 2,638. This was the top number, and Mrs. Couch was presented the loving cup for her district. The entire district comprises 42 units and one council.

During the year, Mrs. Couch and Mrs. Price made visits to each unit and held six regional schools of instruction. They had 16 units with parent-education groups instructed by Dr. Carolyn Tiebout of Louisiana State university.

Mrs. Couch has already begun her plans for the 1937-38 district work, to which she was re-elected. She will have Mrs. W. H. Armstrong to assist her as associate director, Mrs. Price having been transferred to another district. Mrs. Couch announces a district-wide school of instruction to be held in Monroe early in June.

Neville High P.-T. A. Inducts Officers

Installation of officers at a meeting of the Neville Parent-Teacher association Monday afternoon concluded the year's activities of the organization. The incoming officers were inducted by Mrs. Leon McHenry. The following members were installed: Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, president; Mrs. Louis Masur, secretary. Other officers who will officiate next year are Mrs. David Garrett, first vice-president; Mrs. L. B. Chambers, second vice-president; and Mrs. H. K. Fluker, treasurer.

Reports were made by Mrs. H. F. Felix, Mrs. L. F. Grigsby and Mrs. G. A. Aden, who attended the state convention recently held in Shreveport.

Annual reports of the officers and the chairmen of standing committees were also made. Chairmen and officers reporting were Mrs. W. H. Armstrong, Mrs. William Mintz, treasurer; Mrs. Louis Masur, Mrs. P. A. Poag, chairman of the program committee; Mrs. S. C. Wimbish, membership chairman; Mrs. E. G. Waring, hospitality chairman; Mrs. Grigsby, publicity chairman and parliamentarian; Mrs. H. F. Felix, publications chairman, Mrs. R. E. Beasley, budget chairman.

Mrs. Felix, in behalf of the association, presented Mrs. Armstrong a beautiful gold P.-T. A. pin in appreciation of the splendid work accomplished by her during the past year.

Corsages were also presented to Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Masur and Mrs. McHenry, gifts from Mrs. R. W. O'Donnell.

At the conclusion of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed in the honor society room where tea was served from a beautifully decorated tea table.

Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. Ends Year

The Barkdull Faulk School Parent-Teacher association met last Thursday for its final meeting of the year.

An interesting program, showing what the children of the school had accomplished in music during the year, was given as follows:

"Indian Dance," played by the second grades on drums of their own making.

"Dreams to Sell," by the glee club.

"Country Dance" and "Lead On," played by school band, led by Lawrence Colburn.

"Swing Song," by primary glee club.

Reports of the recent state convention in Shreveport were given by Mrs. B. H. Rust.

A report on the fifth district work was made by Mrs. C. L. Couch, district director.

The yearly reports from the different chairmen showed a year well spent in furthering work on child welfare.

Mrs. Couch installed the new officers for the coming year. The officers are: Mrs. R. F. McCook, president; Mrs. C. W. Williams, first vice-president; Mrs. N. N. Colburn, treasurer; Miss Katherine May, secretary.

The program ended with the selection, "Evening Prayer," rendered by the Barkdull Faulk string orchestra.

Parish Teachers Meet At Baskin

WINNSBORO, La., May 15.—(Special)—The Franklin Parish Teachers' association met in the Baskin High school auditorium Wednesday, May 12. The meeting having been called to order by the president, Mr. W. B. Glover, a musical number was presented by the third grade of Baskin school.

The first speaker was Mrs. E. Fay Walter, first vice-president of the Parent-Teacher association of Louisiana, speaking on "What P.-T. A. Really Means."

The main address of the afternoon was made by E. S. Richardson, president of Louisiana Tech, Ruston, who gave a pleasing speech upon the changing times and the adjustments the schools are making to meet the changes.

After his speech, two numbers, "My Wild Irish Rose," and "Home on the Range," were rendered by the Baskin High school quartet.

Sectional meetings were next held. The high school department was addressed by Dr. W. R. Cline, of Louisiana Tech, while the elementary department heard Miss L. Lola Rogers, also of Louisiana Tech.

The third part of the meeting was a business session held in the auditorium. Superintendent John L. McDuff being ill, was unable to be present. The association voted to express its regrets to him by sending flowers and a letter. Miss Bertha Green, supervisor of the parish, spoke for Mr. McDuff.

A report of the work being done by the association in preparation for a hospitalization program was made by Miss Rebecca Guise.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mr. F. E. Lyles, president; Mr. Dudley Fulton, vice-president; Miss Lamartha McCaine, secretary.

Refreshments were served, after which the meeting was adjourned.

Lecturer Talks On Favorite Old Books

"Nourish and fortify your love of books and never regret the time spent in reading good ones," was Miss Annette Duchein's admonition to her audience at the Lotus club, where she reviewed, in customary brilliant manner, several old favorites.

In discussing "old favorites," Miss Duchein referred to her own habit of re-reading, of the pleasure experienced in slipping away from the new novel coming up for review to take up an old and well liked volume and feel herself ministered to in its perusal. Recommending that books be considered "carriers of delight" and that they be read for the joy of it, she urged her hearers to search out their own "dream stuff," assured of the fact that emotions are quickened and life's experiences deepened by an acquaintance with books.

Among the books which perennially challenge interest and which repay the reader for frequent communion Miss Duchein listed the book of Ruth in the Bible, "The Christmas Carol," "The Odyssey," "Two Years Before the Mast," "Huckleberry Finn," "Lord Chesterfield's Letters To His Son," "Little Women," "Samuel Pepys' Diary," "Wurthering Heights," "Anna Karenina," Shakespeare, DeQuincy, novels of Willa Cather, particularly "My Antonia," essays of Rebecca West and Stephen Vincent Benet's epic poem of the Civil war, "John Brown's Body." Other poets mentioned were Emily Dickinson, Christopher Morley, Edna St. Vincent Millay, Rupert Brooke, John Keats and William Butler Yeats. Avowing pleasure in books for young people, Miss Duchein expressed preference for "Alice in Wonderland," "Uncle Remus," "The Jungle Book," and "Peter and Wendy," giving amusing excerpts from the latter. She also read passages from favorites on her book-shelf, which, she said, seemed to offer interpretations of life itself.

"An American Doctor's Odyssey," by Victor Heisey, she reviewed in a presentation of incidents from the book displaying the doctor's qualities of courage, humor, ingenuity and diplomacy, saying that the reader who followed Dr. Heisey in his journeyings could not fail to experience thrills over his discoveries and his ability to surmount obstacles. His were not idle wanderings, Miss Duchein stated, but a purposeful mission to open for remote peoples windows to the gospel of health.

Miss Duchein will give two more lectures in this last series of five Tuesday, May 18, she will review "Of Mice and Men," by John Steinbeck; "Theater," by Somerset Maugham; "Present Indicative," by Noel Coward; and "We Are Not Alone," by James Hilton. The last lecture will occur on May 25, at which time the following books will be discussed: "Drums Along the Mohawk," Walter Edmonds; "Paradist," Esther Forbes; "Three-Headed Angel," by Roark Bradford, and possibly "Something of Myself," by Kipling.

Annual Federated Garden Club Convention In Monroe Proves Huge Success

Barbecue At Rowland Home Greatly Enjoyed

Mrs. Blanche Oliver's 'Lavender And Old Lace' Flower Arrangement Awarded First Prize

Prominent among the joyous events that have now vanished into the golden mist which invariably enshrouds pleasant events when they have become yesterday's adventure, was the meeting in this city of the Louisiana Federation of Garden clubs.

Two beauty-filled days were enjoyed by visitors from every section of the state who were entertained by members of the local club, of which Mrs. Elmer Richards is president.

A generous sample of true southern hospitality was served members of the garden club who motored on Thursday to "Happy Home," where they were received by Mrs. T. C. Rowland with the warmth of hospitality reminiscent of the past.

In the friendly gardens of Mrs. Rowland's ancestral home a barbecue luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in a verdant retreat beneath the century tossed oaks. Except for the rose garden and the flower bordered walks, the garden is fundamentally a green one, hedged in with masses of shrubbery and shining magnolias now in full bloom.

Long tables held the delectable barbecued meats crisp and brown and done to a turn. Other edibles usually associated with a barbecue were served in the greatest abundance. Nobody served at this affair—everybody foraged, which, after all, is great fun, with servants passing drinks, hot and cold.

It was generally regretted that time did not permit one to linger in this beautiful spot where a restful vista stretches as far as eye can see.

Motoring back to the city through the fragrant countryside was a pleasant experience. A visit to Mrs. Marion Learned's studio was one of the highlights of the day. Capturing the eye and eliciting admiration was Mrs. Blanche Oliver's "Lavender and Old Lace" flower arrangement. This was awarded first place by the judges. Mrs. T. C. Rowland's "Oriental Setting" with its display of native iris against an old Chinese print was awarded second place. Mrs. F. P. Stubbs' "Victorian" arrangement, a black onyx urn filled with magnolia blossoms, was awarded third place.

The two-day program arranged by the local garden club for the entertainment of the visitors was one of infinite beauty with flowers playing a most important part. The winding Ouachita, fringed with giant trees and glistening sandbars, was enjoyed to the fullest by garden club members who were entertained on board the Noe's Ark by Mrs. James A. Noe. This gracious compliment added a distinctive note and illuminated the entire program.

Piano Students Win High Honors

Young piano students who spent laborious hours forging ahead in the field of music were rewarded last week when they were presented in the National Guild of Piano Teachers' tournament in this city, and highly praised by a national critic, Mrs. J. B. Rucker.

For their excellent musicianship, technique and rhythm, the following young students received awards with several being placed on the state honor roll: Carolyn Hawkins, Carolyn Lee, Paul Meredith, Bobbie Nell Ramsey, Adele Redditt, Betty Thomas, pupils of Mrs. Cecil Hill, Columbia, La.; Cherry Bernstein, LeRoy Bairnsfather, Billy Bennett, Betty Jane Couch, Jean Carroll, Ida Sophia Davidson, Rosemary Dawson, Mary Evelyn Durden, Betty Lee Engstrom, Mary Louise Fudickar, (state honor roll); Betty Firnberg, Sally Foster, Martha Grafton, Joy Harper, Vivian Harper, Annie Laura Harkness, Belling Jones, Martha Kilpatrick, Jane Kilpatrick, Carol Knapp, Marness Lester, Bill McDowell, Mary Alice Mickel, Miriam Oliver, Sara Elizabeth Randle, (state honor roll); Louise Tisdale, Evelyn Smith, Carol Watts, Mildred Wales, Gloria Walsh, (state honor roll); Marjie Henrietta Bolton, Doris Burdeaux, Jane Ewing, Jean Flournoy, Mack Fay Hammons, Betty Jean Hardeman, Anne Humphries, Jane Humphries, Dorothy Tanner, Jackie Warren (pupils of Mary Grace Lawn).

The interest of friends is centered in the following announcement:

Dr. and Mrs. James R. Henry announce the marriage of their daughter, Bessie, to Mr. Harry James Preston, son of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Preston, on the thirteenth of February, Shreveport, La.

Great Work Being Done By Club Women

Today the youth of the land is being served as never before. Helping boys and girls to useful lives, creating faith and confidence and developing tools necessary for good living—spiritual and moral training, health protection, space in which to grow, are just a few of the aims of women's clubs today.

One is reminded today of the wonderful work being carried on by the Daughters of the American Revolution, whose "good citizenship" program was launched recently.

Delegates who attended the 46th continental congress in Washington last month were privileged to hear the stirring message delivered by the D. A. R. president general, Mrs. William A. Becker. She said in part:

"I rejoice in the work you are doing, and as I pass from state to state and see the fruits of your labors, I am filled with admiration and with wonder. Where inspiring spirits are at work, there is progress, there is hope!

"This memorable week in April, held dear to freedom's cause, finds you on your annual pilgrimage to our nation's capital and to our beloved hall, bearing your gifts of service, prepared to render account of your stewardship, and to formulate plans for the future. The beauty of our hall, the gay assemblage, the colors flying overhead and the grand march, never fail to thrill the hearts of all who participate in this congress; and backward we go in retrospection to all those congresses that have gone before, and to the self-sacrificing women who builded according to a great faith.

"To youth let us turn, for in our hands we hold their fate; in their hands lies the destiny of state. More and more are character building agencies needed to meet the problems of impoverished lives. Boys' clubs are offering longed-for opportunities; they are becoming centers of activity in lowly communities where boys are doing things, making friends, growing by leaps and bounds! The boy whose club has been the street is now finding a home of his own where restless energy is given constructive outlet and newness of life is brought to thousands of America's youth. Testimony is not lacking as to the lessening of petty crime in these communities and to the developing of responsible citizenship.

"To me, as you well know, there is nothing that surpasses in importance the training we give to youth, helping boys and girls—for they are the builders of the future. Human conservation and conservation of all our resources, of freedom and of power, are needed if America is to go forward, not backward, and keep her light shining as a guide in a troubled world. Richly we have been blessed. Let us richly serve."

Tech Sorority Gives Annual Spring Dance

With "A Midsummer's Night Dream" as the motif for decorations and the theme of the program, Psi chapter of Theta Upsilon, national social sorority at Louisiana Tech, presented their annual spring formal on the evening of Saturday, May 8.

The dinner dance was held in the girl's gymnasium from 8 o'clock until 11:30. Music for dinner and dancing was furnished by Milton Coverdale and his orchestra.

Roselyn Stokes, toast mistress, welcomed guests and members to the "Land of Heart's Desire," with the response given by Gilbert McKeon. A toast to the city association and ex-collegio members was proposed by Ruth Stewart to which Mrs. R. L. Reese responded. A toast by Nan Morgan, past president of the sorority, was answered by Roselyn Stokes, new leader of the group.

Dorothy Harris sang "Theta U Girl" and "At Sundown," the latter being dedicated to the graduating members of the sorority. Several piano solos were given by Alloyse Wall. Members of the dancing class of Miss Armandine Renaud presented several numbers.

Fairies and gnomes designated the places of those attending the affair. Anne Reese, dressed as Puck, distributed royal blue suede plaques bearing the sorority crest in bronze to members and pledges which they presented to their "dat."

White and royal blue were the colors used in the decorations. The "U" shaped tables, were lighted by blue tapers alternated with low bowls of sweet peas in pastel tints. The walls were covered with pine trees and Spanish moss.

Those attending the affair were: Miss Martha Vaught and Dr. Reagan Green, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Fox, Miss Helen Graham, Miss Katharine Butler, Mrs. J. W. Evans, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Reese, Mrs. Clara Burris, Dorothy Harris and Billy Mitchell, Hortense Callahan and Dr. J. W. Cosby, Dola Green and Harry McKenzie, Miss Mabel May.

Special guests were: Miss Alma Burk, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Mirchell, Miss Helen Johnson and Jesse Harris, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Sachs, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Ford, Miss Elizabeth Bethea and Miss Beulah Brown, Miss Christine Moon.

Employes Honor Mr. and Mrs. Masur

A dinner party on the roof of the Virginia hotel brought members of the Palace company personnel together in a spirit of happy comaraderie to wish Mr. and Mrs. Sigmund Masur bon voyage ere their departure on their cruise to Nice, Italy, and North Cape.

Tapers gleamed along the table, banked with pink roses, blue larkspur and sweet peas in all the pastel shades.

Mr. William Grasse, as toastmaster, expressed the sentiments of the entire organization in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Masur a joyous ocean trip. He introduced other members of the organization, Miss Maibel Hood, Mrs. Mae Petty, Mrs. Hattie Taylor, Mrs. Faye Heard, Mrs. James A. Wyatt and Mr. Louis Masur, who talked briefly and proposed toasts to the voyagers.

A handsome piece of luggage was presented to Mrs. Masur by the employes at this time.

Enjoying the sumptuous dinner as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Masur were: Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kelso, Mr. J. O. Windham, Mrs. Lucille Pope, Mrs. Helen Blanchard, Miss Louise Fitzgerald, Mrs. Mae Pettit, Mrs. G. K. Phillips, Mrs. T. W. Sally, Mrs. Katherine Wyatt, Mrs. S. J. Smith, Mrs. O. J. Caldwell, Mrs. L. To Dedicate Bertha Kaliski Library

The library committee of the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. has set apart May 25 as the day for dedicating the school library to the memory of Mrs. Bertha Kaliski, prominent educator of this city whose passing on is still being mourned in school circles where she lovingly guided the destiny of the youth of the Barkdull Faulk school for many years.

Members of the Barkdull Faulk P.-T. A. feel that in dedicating the library to the memory of Mrs. Kaliski they are paying a distinct tribute to one who served so faithfully as chairman of the library committee. The library will be known in the future as the Bertha Kaliski library. Friends will be privileged to donate books.

Miss Scholars To Wed Carroll Boyce

Claiming the sincere and affectionate interest of friends is the announcement made by Mr. and Mrs. John Sholars of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Claudie Jean Sholars, to Mr. Carroll Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Boyce of West Monroe.

The wedding characterized by simplicity, will take place at the First Methodist church on the seventh of June at nine o'clock in the morning. Friends are extended a cordial invitation to be present through this medium.

Out-of-town relatives attending the funeral services of Miss R. E. Colton on Wednesday were Mr. Gerald Colton, Mr. Alonzo Colton, Jack and Mildred, Misses Louise, Ione, Inez Colton, Mr. Ernest J. Clemons, Misses Bessie and Eva D. Clemons, Natchitoches, Mr. Vernon F. Ware, Mrs. Minnie Colton Sparkman, Shreveport, and Mrs. Earle Colton Ware, Dallas.

A distinct feature of the dinner party arranged in the private dining room of the Frances hotel for the graduate nurses of St. Francis sanitarium was the music rendered by Mrs. Grover C. Cornett and members of her orchestra. The numbers from the classics were beautifully rendered and received with much enthusiasm.

Members of the orchestra in addition to the leader, Mrs. Cornett, are: Mr. Alfred Hennen, Mr. B. L. Mulhern, Dr. B. M. McKoin, Miss Dean McKoin, Mr. James Bailey, Mr. Harold Coverdale, Mr. C. Barnes, Miss Mary Benoit, Mr. George Vaughan, Mr. Truman McCrea, Mr. Eyron Bayne.

Mrs. A. R. Doughty was soloist on this occasion. "My Task" was rendered in splendid voice.

Jean Courtney, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Courtney, Jr., was to be removed home today from St. Francis sanitarium, where she underwent an appendectomy.

The ladies auxiliary to the Rodney J. Hobbs post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, held their regular meeting Thursday night at the club room on DeSiard street, with 20 members present.

The president, Lena M. Morrow, presided.

Mrs. Pearl Madsen was installed as 18-month trustee by Mrs. Morrow.

IS there any woman or man who does not appreciate the comforts and conveniences of an outdoor "living room"? . . . Durrett Hardware and Furniture company is showing a special display of Lloyd Outdoor Furniture for your outside "living room" this week. Doubly enjoyable is the summer lawn or open porch appropriately furnished with colorful restful outdoor pieces. There is no need then to forego any of the comforts and conveniences of modern inside living rooms. With Lloyd outdoor furniture they are all easily transplanted to summer's more livable, more desirable out-of-doors. Why not drop in at Durrett's this week and pick out several new outdoor pieces for your "outside living room"? They are beautiful, durable and moderate in cost.

WANT something "different" to serve at your next bridge or afternoon tea? All right, get some of the delicious Home-Made Buttered Bread I found the other day at the Jitney Jungle Bakery on North Fourth street. Your guests will enjoy the rich flavor of this tender bread, and you will enjoy their compliments on being a hostess who always serves the new and unusual. This is real home-to-goodness Buttered Light Bread sealed in cellephane. It is slightly sweet and unlike anything I ever tasted before. Serve it toasted with your salad course. It's truly good.

LISTEN, here is good news! The Dixie Bedding and Furniture company received a new Armstrong decorizing chart. It is perched on a stand, which makes it so easy to turn the leaves to almost any sort of idea of floors, walls, drapes, side walls and ceiling that you could wish to see. This idea represents work from the country's most renowned decorators, and is about the most inspiring display that ever came to town. . . . You don't have to have a new home, mind you, to enjoy the ideas contained therein . . . but of course, no smart new home builder is going to pass this new idea up . . . as it represents the very latest in decoration tricks.

SPEAKING of the new "things" . . . Just take a stroll by the windows of Johnnie S. Elbert's today and notice the curling little straw flop hat that measures exactly 7 inches over—from edge to edge. . . . The crown measures only 3 inches. Lift the top of the crown out and . . . there . . . what do you find . . . but three exquisite odors of Lucien Le-Long perfume. Whisper, Opening Night, Gardenia . . . Yes, it is Lucien LeLong Le Petit Chapeau . . . which is an adorable novelty for the dresser. No use telling you what a "different" graduation gift this makes.

. . . The PENTHOUSE contains 4 odors in an ivory smart gift. Many new gifts in Helena Rubenstein toilet requisites are on display. . . . Johnnie Smith tells us a new featuring those much talked of . . . Imported Cottons that are fast taking the place of silks. Have you seen them? . . . Such exquisite material in floral checked and solids and is non-crushable. Wears longer as long as silks, too! Priced from $5.00, $7.50 and $7.50. Silk linens at another list this season. Prices start at $3.50 upward.

HAVE you seen the colorful new water mug that graces the tables at the Primos cafeteria just lately? . . . Beautiful California pottery that has blazed a fashion trail to me and to this globe to another. The Mexicans and Indians started it . . . the Franciscan fathers encouraged it . . . and today modern designers adapted it . . . and Primos cafeteria discovered it in California. The natives of the colors fairly melt in your mouth. Period is there . . . colors have never before been so delightful. . . . Glazes are bright or satins dull. The clumsy roundness of peasant pottery has in a completely diminished, while shapes and patterns are suitable for the simplest or most sophisticated settings. This colorful pottery seems just to fit perfectly in the beautiful Primos cafeteria. Another added convenience is a salad shelf in the door that holds salt, pepper and different sauces.

Every table is equipped with these. Of course, you already know how good the food is and how reasonable.

THREE new portraits and "POP EYES" . . . May and June mark one of the most important events in the lives of some which should be commemorated with photographs. I refer of course to weddings and graduations. GRIFFIN STUDIO has made a study of portraits for over 25 years, and from all parts of Louisiana they are called upon to do extra fine work, for which they are so noted. Right now is the time to attend to having those photographs made. Become truly used to for graduation and wedding. . . . Griffin's Studio is offering a 15% reduction right now. Most any sort of background that you could want. Phone 6 . . . make an appointment at your own convenience.

DON'T know what to give the boys . . . in your life . . . that are graduating? . . . It is a simple problem already worked out for you at D. Masur's. . . . Down the long aisle the counters are filled with new things . . . some already boxed . . . every item of quality that the giver is proud to give and the receiver is glad to receive. You'll find ties, handkerchiefs, sox, belts, buckles, bill folds, sport shirts, pajamas, summer robes, accessories, etc., in such a large selection which makes it simple and easy to decide. Dress the young man up at D. Masur & Sons . . . the assurance that he is properly attired is a consolation, isn't it? By the way, while you are in this store . . . ask about the Hart Schaffner & Marx contest where five beautiful suits are to be awarded.

ABOUT the most popular name in town now is MEL-O-TOAST and no wonder. It's the "Toast of America." Just bite into its tender goodness . . . its nut-like rich flavor will make an instant hit with the whole family. Mel-O-Toast is for sale at all good grocery stores and is fresh even to the last slice. . . . Kids really will go for it after school . . . spread it with jam and butter and send them on their way to play . . . Try a loaf . . . Taste the difference.

DON'T tell me you are hanging your fur coat or winter garments in your closets, when the Monroe Steam Laundry has such a complete COLD FUR STORAGE VAULT which is so convenient to you as well as to your pocketbook. Call 302 or 303 the first thing tomorrow. Send your furs . . . winter garments . . . rugs, etc., to be cleaned and stored for the winter. Mama and Papa MOTH are busy building a mansion inside your favorite coat to house their little ones this summer . . . and, of course, they feed on your garments . . . Better break up this "play house" . . . because they'll hatch you before you know it.

HAVE you ever wished for the comforts of an air-conditioned room in your home? . . . Well no need to wish any longer . . . you can now have your entire home cooled all the summer long by the new COOLAIR ventilating system just as solid exclusively in this territory by Shaw-Johnson Lumber company. In fact, it is there is an advertisement which explains its every feature. The cost is so small for such comfort that I know it will be hard for you to believe. COOLAIR ventilating and cooling systems are the real solution to efficient, low cost ventilating and cooling problems. They operate gently moving air in sufficient volume to cool as well as ventilate and this special fan moves warm stale air, with no cooling effect, out of the house. One COOLAIR unit of adequate size will maintain constant circulation of air in the average home, regardless of breeze or no breeze. Or rather, the breeze can be used to the maximum benefit, for the fan moves with the breeze. Industrial plants find them ideal for many purposes. . . . A card or letter will get you complete information.

THE Stone Face of Mount Hollis . . . [illegible] . . . is one of the [illegible] . . . at Mount [illegible] . . . Before you finished with [illegible] . . . you can [illegible] . . . Both [illegible] . . . Bring [illegible] . . . [illegible] . . . [illegible] . . .

Oil Industry In Louisiana Has Unusually Busy Week

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(AP)—With the completion of a score of wells, one of which is the deepest commercial producer in the world, discovery of a new field and the issuance of 46 permits for drilling, the Louisiana oil industry during the week ended Friday had an active week, according to figures announced by the state conservation department's minerals division.

Announcement was also made that drilling on a 10,000-acre tract six miles east of Clinton in East Feliciana parish is to be inaugurated immediately by the Acadian Oil corporation of Louisiana, in co-operation with five other companies.

Exploration work, leasing and the purchase of mineral rights in properties continued throughout the state, according to reports reaching the conservation department.

A new field was discovered a few miles south of Houma with the completion of the world's deepest commercial production well. The well, Humble Oil and Refining company's No. 1 Ellender, is flowing oil from more than two miles below the earth's surface. The well, located in section 32-19w-19e, 12 miles north of the Lake Barre field, earlier in the week gauged 40 barrels hourly through quarter-inch choke from the Micene at 11,620 to 11,630 feet.

The field, name of producing company, name of well, and the new daily production of other completions as reported by the conservation department, follows in order:

Evangeline, Acadia parish, S. Rhodes, Iowa-Jennings No. 1, 153 barrels; same field, Superior Oil company, two wells, Eunice-Crowley No. 2 and Jennings-Heywood No. 2, 232 and 527 barrels, respectively; West Hackberry, Cameron parish, W. T. Burton, F. B. Kennedy No. 1, 498.48 barrels; Iowa, Calcasieu parish, Shell Petroleum corporation, F. Heyd No. 23, 522.60 barrels; Jeanerette, St. Mary parish, Herton Oil company, two wells, Rufus C. Banta No. 8 and W. J. Garter No. 6, 799.52 and 768.96 barrels, respectively; Naborton, Red River parish, Gulf Refining company, E. T. Robinson No. 40, 46 barrels, pump; Pine Island, Caddo parish, Stanolind Oil & Gas company, Dillon No. 121, 84 barrels, pump; Rodessa, Caddo parish, United Gas Public Service, Starcke No. 1, 792 barrels, and St. Martinville, St. Martin parish, Tidewater Associated Oil company, Smedes Brothers No. 3, 611.28 barrels.

There were eight completions in Claiborne parish's Lisbon field, one of the most active fields in the state at present. Half of the completions were made by the Gulf Refining company. These were Mrs. Eva Bennett et al., No. 1, 792 barrels; H. E. Patton et al., No. 2, 810 barrels; H. E. Patton et al., No. 3, 576 barrels, and H. E. Patton et al., No. 4, 456 barrels.

The other Lisbon completions were by the T. L. James & Company, H. W. Patton No. 2, 480 barrels; Love Petroleum company, H. R. Patton, No. 3, 324 barrels; Lyons & Neely, Maggie Patton No. 1, 450 barrels, and P. W. Woodruff et al., H. E. Patton No. 2, 1,584 barrels.

The department estimated that the daily average production of oil in the gulf coast region during the week amounted to 176,000 barrels.

Conservation department records showed Saturday that 428 permits have been issued here since January 1. The record number of permits approved this week, for each applicant unless otherwise specified, follow:

Burton, Noble and Baker in Acadia parish; Superior Oil company, Acadia; Yandell Rogers, Bossier; Triangle Drilling company, Bossier; Chew & Chew, Caddo; R. W. Norton, Caddo; Stanolind Oil & Gas company, Caddo; Surf Oil Co., Caddo, two; United Gas Public Service company, Caddo; Union Sulphur company, Calcasieu parish, two; Burton-Sutton, Cameron; A. J. Schlopkol, et al., Cameron, and Stanolind Oil & Gas Co., Cameron, two.

Gulf Refining Co., Claiborne, two; M. A. Halsey, Claiborne, two; Hollyfield & McFarlane, Claiborne; Lyon & Neely, Claiborne, two; C. R. Schuster, Claiborne, three; Standard Oil Company of Louisiana, Claiborne; Cavalier Oil Co., East Baton Rouge parish; Acadian Prod. Corp. of La., East Feliciana, and Barton & Burkett, Grant.

Texas Co., Iberia; United Gas Public Service Co., Morehouse; Hope Producing Co., Ouachita; J. & H. Oil Co., Ouachita; Freeport Sulphur company, Plaquemines parish; Gulf Refining company, Red River; Windsor Oil company, Sabine parish; Herton Oil Co., St. Mary parish; Shell Petroleum corporation, Terrebonne parish; Interstate Natural Gas company, Union parish, and J. & H. Oil company, Union.

O. P. H. S. ALUMNI TO ASSEMBLE MAY 27TH

Alumni of Ouachita Parish High school will hold their annual banquet at Cherokee terrace, Hotel Frances, May 27, at 8 p.m. It is planned to arrange for 500 guests.

Mrs. Gordon Wright, former Ouachita parish teacher, who is arranging details, stated that all who have attended the parish schools even if they did not for any reason graduate there, are invited to attend. Husbands and wives of graduates and former students are included in the invitation.

Mrs. Wright assures that there will be first-class entertainment and that all who attend will enjoy the evening's program. Tickets can be secured at the Palace, New South Drug company, Brown Paper mill, Hatchell's and Calvert Drug company.

PASSMAN GUESTS HEAR BROADCAST

Powerful Grunow Radio Tunes In London On Coronation Day Speech

A group of interested listeners at Passman Equipment company on St. John street, Wednesday enjoyed the pleasure of listening to King George VI of England broadcast his after-coronation message to his subjects.

Mr. Passman extended the courtesies of his store and tuned in on the London broadcast which was picked up by a powerful Grunow model radio. The reception was excellent and the king's words could be heard distinctly as he spoke in measured tones to the millions of listeners throughout the world.

The broadcast was a sample of Grunow radio performance. The teledial, or self-tuning device which automatically brought in the station, is a triumph of radio engineering. The flawless tone of the broadcast resulted from the new violin-shaped cabinet which has done away with the most troublesome problem of radio known as "cabinet resonance." Grunow radios are equipped with tone-tested resonators assuring the greatest purity of tone. The violin cabinet brings this tone to the listener without the slightest imperfection. Grunow radios have defeated the last obstacle to perfect fidelity in reception.

Passman Equipment company are distributors for Grunow radios, the 1937 models of which are featured by 22 advancements which bring listening pleasure to all who possess a Grunow. Among the improvements are the colorful airplane dial with clock-type tuning; the electric eye which enables the listener to "see" as well as hear a station come in; triple speakers with tone tested resonator; vernier drive which assures easier tuning and more accurate setting; full floating chassis, and many other new features that set new standards in radio tone reception and convenience.

Mr. Passman cordially invites the public to visit the Passman Equipment company's store on St. John street and listen to a demonstration of perfect Grunow radio performance.

INTERNATIONALS LEAD THE FIELD

New Trucks Combine Serviceability, Hauling Power And Beauty

The new 1937 International trucks are being manufactured at the factory by the thousands to meet the demands of truck users throughout the country.

Twenty-six new models for all types of truck work were designed by the International engineers in presenting the new Internationals. The new trucks are built for increased hauling power and combine serviceability, stamina and beauty. The 1937 models are the first completely new truck models put out by the International Harvester company in three years. Thirty years of successful truck building is included in the new models, which have met the approval of the country's truck users.

The International Harvester company presents to users of trucks the latest and finest products of its automotive plants—trucks at the peak of today's efficiency with style and beauty that will please every owner and driver. All the new Internationals are as new in engine and chassis, in structural refinement, in every important detail, as they are new in streamlined design. All are all-truck and all are as modern as today's fine cars.

News standards of utility and performance are offered truck users in every one of the 26 new 1937 models, in sizes ranging from the half-ton pick-up truck to the powerful six-wheelers.

The International Harvester company's office at 720 DeSiard street invites truck users in this territory to call there and obtain full particulars about the new 1937 International trucks, which are built to take care of every kind of hauling work.

SUSANNA ALLEN BEDROOM AT DURRETT'S

ARGENTINE COTTON PRODUCTION DROPS

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—(Special)—Instead of a crop of 500,000 bales of cotton as was predicted early in the season on a basis of record plantings of 1,015,000 acres, or even of 360,000 bales as predicted early in March this year, Argentina this year harvested a crop of only 244,000 bales of 478 pounds each, according to the official estimate of the Argentine cotton board as cabled to the bureau of agricultural economics from its Buenos Aires office.

Last season (1935-36), when 763,000 acres were harvested, the crop amounted to 373,000 bales, or 234 pounds per acre. Had yields from acreage planted this season equalled the average obtained last season, the crop would have amounted to approximately half a million bales.

Reduction in the crop is ascribed entirely to severe drouth conditions and damage from locusts and the cotton bollworm. Because of these factors the area harvested is officially estimated at only 713,000 acres. This indicates a yield of only approximately 163 pounds per acre, and an abandonment of 302,000 acres from the officially estimated plantings of 1,015,000 acres.

COTTON SEED CRUSHING MAKES GAIN IN STATE

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 15.—(Special)—The Louisiana cotton seed mills received 231,436 tons of seed during the nine-month period ending April 30, 1937, compared with 173,177 tons of seed received during the corresponding 1935-36 period, it was revealed today in a report from the department of commerce.

The Louisiana mills crushed 231,112 tons of seed in the 1936-37 period as compared with 172,889 tons in the previous corresponding period and had on hand at the end of April, 1937, 1,998 tons against 1,651 tons on April 30, 1936.

From the cotton seed crushed in the nine months ending April 30, 1937, the Louisiana mills produced 69,379,645 pounds of crude oil, 100,027 tons of cake and meal, 62,639 tons of hulls, and 58,293 running bales of linters with stocks on hand on April 30 of 185,885 pounds, 2,851 tons, 4,309 tons, and 899 running bales respectively.

NORMAL PRESIDENT WILL ADDRESS JENA SENIORS

JENA, La., May 15.—(Special)—A. A. Fredericks, president of Louisiana State Normal college, will deliver the graduation address for the senior class of the Jena High school, in exercises to be held Thursday night, June 3.

A baccalaureate sermon will be delivered to the class by Rev. B. T. Goodwin, at the First Baptist church here, Sunday night, May 30.

More than 40 seniors are expected to graduate from the local school.

TO ADDRESS SENIORS

DODSON, La., May 15.—(Special)—Rev. H. L. Hoffpauir of Shreveport, district Methodist Episcopal presiding elder, will deliver a baccalaureate sermon to the graduating class of the Dodson High school, Sunday at 11 a.m. in the school auditorium.

HOME FURNITURE CO. HAS MATTRESS SALE

The Home Furniture company, 501-11 DeSiard street, announces its periodical sale of Perfect-Sleeper mattresses and inner springs, and invites the public to take advantage of its convenient credit terms.

Perfect-Sleeper mattresses and box springs to match are on sale at prices as low as $39.50 each. Box springs alone can be purchased at the exceptionally low price of $12.50.

"Homes equipped with the Perfect-Sleeper mattresses and inner springs assure their owners real sleeping comfort during the coming summer," according to J. B. Lindsay, president of the Home Furniture company. "These mattresses are nationally advertised and are noted for what might well be called their 'hidden value.' Much of the quality and therefore the wearing ability and comfort of the Perfect-Sleeper mattress comes from inside hand-tailoring and superior materials which cannot be seen. Exclusive patented principles of construction and quality materials make the Perfect-Sleeper mattress the most sensational development since the original spring-filled mattress. It is the only practical tuftless mattress and the only mattress that actually improves with use."

RIVOIRE SUGGESTS GRADUATION GIFTS

S. J. Rivoire and Son, located at 322 DeSiard street, Monroe's oldest jewelry store, offers a wide selection of gifts for the boy and girl graduate this year.

Some of the appropriate gifts recommended by Mr. Rivoire for the girl graduates include necklaces, bracelets, gold wrist watches by Elgin and Hamilton, diamond rings, purses and boudoir clocks. Special diamond rings, newly mounted, and priced at $10 and $15 are also on sale as gifts for the girls.

Among the large selection of gifts for the boy graduates at S. J. Rivoire and Son jewelry store are leather billfolds, watch and chain sets, Elgin and Hamilton gold watches, cigarette cases, gold rings, set rings, scarf pins and Pullman dressing cases.

"Parents and friends should give the girl and boy graduate a present that will be a lasting reminder of the first sweet victory in life," Mr. Rivoire declared. "Graduation is indeed a victory, and may be considered as the first victory in life's battle. The graduate merits a lasting gift for the occasion."

BEAUTY STUDENTS TO GET DIPLOMAS

Institution Plans Entertainment And Commencement Activities

Graduation exercises of the Monroe Beauty school, 315 Harrison street, will begin this week with entertainment activities.

Friday at 8:30 p.m. the present graduating class of 36 young women will be hostesses to the former graduates of the Monroe Beauty school. There are about 500 graduates of previous classes at the school. A dinner dance will be held at the Wagon Wheel night club for the present class and former graduates. At this time an alumni association will be organized and officers elected. The association will be affiliated with the national Kappa Delta Chi, an organization for graduates of outstanding beauty culture schools.

An interesting program is being arranged for this event, including an address to be given by a prominent speaker, according to S. E. Dodd, manager of the school.

Monday, May 24, graduation exercises will be held at the Monroe Beauty school. Fred Williamson will deliver the graduation address. Diplomas and awards of merit will be presented.

Mrs. S. E. Dodd is president of the Monroe Beauty school. The supervising instructor is Mrs. Ruby Richardson.

In the graduating class this year are Mrs. Laverta Barnes, Miss Lorese Bogard, Miss Lois Cassell, Mrs. Cornelia Cooper, Miss Maxine Chandler, Miss Ethel DuCote, Miss Doris Davies, Miss Grace Nell Futch, Miss Tessie Bell Goss, Mrs. Thelma Goza, Miss Lennie Haddox, Miss Esther Head, Miss Velma Harris, Miss Frances Johnston, Mrs. Mary Johnson, Miss Lula Kelly, Mrs. Bessie Lawrence, Miss Mamie Lee Lewis, Mrs. Margaret Loomis, Miss Lois Mixon, Miss Inez McCarty, Miss Clarice Odom, Miss Maxine Powell, Miss Gertrude Patrick, Miss Laurice Joyce Rhoades, Mrs. Cecile Roberts, Miss Mary Evelyn Stovall, Miss Evelyn Skinner, Mrs. Annie Lee Travis, Mrs. Pauline Toombs, Miss Eurtis Traxler, Mrs. Rose Taylor, Miss Lena Underwood, Miss Madge Walker, Miss Archie May Young and Mrs. E. Pierce.

The Louisiana state board of cosmetic therapy, under the direction of Mrs. Anna B. Harris, secretary, of New Orleans, will conduct the examinations fo the state board of cosmetic therapy on Tuesday, May 25, for the graduating class.

Early 19th century Frenchmen took no chances on not having enough to eat. Shelves beside the table contained hams, sausages, cured meats, and preserves for use in case the cook underestimated the appetites of the diners.

:-: CHURCHES :-:

MEN'S BIBLE CLASSES

The Major Memorial Bible class of the First Baptist church meets at 9:45 a.m., in the basement of the educational building of the church on St. John street. Frank V. Reitzell, president; Dr. W. M. Caskey, teacher.

The Men's Bible class of the First Methodist church meets at 9:45 a.m. in the parlors of Hotel Monroe. C. S. Walker, president; S. E. Dodd, teacher.

The Frank P. Stubbs Memorial Bible class of the First Presbyterian church meets at 9:45 a.m., in the Paramount theater. Ralph E. Holcombe, president; Fred Williamson, teacher.

FIRST CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Oak and St. John Streets
Crayton S. Brooks, Minister

Our church school is now double what it was a little while ago. Mrs. Moss and her juniors are the first to double their attendance. They have their silver star and had their party at the home of the pastor and his wife Saturday afternoon. Who will be next? "Christ's Divinity" will be the sermon theme Sunday morning. In the evening the sermon will be on the difficult theme, "How To Be Happy Though Married." It is the third Sunday of the Ten Weeks' Loyalty Campaign. A goodly number of fine Christian people have recently united with the church. We welcome them. More should follow.

THE CHURCH OF GOD
Polk and Lidell Streets
Sister Maya Jean Morgan, Pastor

If you would worship the Lord, worship Him with us, in spirit and in truth. Sunday school at 10 o'clock Sunday morning with Superintendent DeWitt Anderson in charge. Morning sermon at 11 o'clock by pastor. Young people's meeting at 6:45 Sunday evening. Evensong and praise service at 7:30. Evening sermon at 8 o'clock. Rev. O. B. Myrick, of Dunn, will be with us. Sunday evening to begin a series of revival services. Brother Myrick needs no introduction to our city because he was pastor of the church here a few years ago. The services will continue during the coming week-end and longer, we hope. We extend a cordial invitation to the public to all of these services.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH
Grammont At Catalpa
Ernest Holloway, Minister

The Sabbath school has been organized to educate God's people in the primals of revelation. There is a class for all ages. If you will attend, you will encourage others to enlist and receive abiding benefits. "All that I am and whatever I have accomplished, I owe to the Sunday school." (David Lloyd George, former premier of England, May 9, 1930.) "Playing the Coward," and "A Two-Fold Christian Obligation—A Challenge and Inspiration," are the topics this Sabbath. The first deals with an experience many of us have had, the causes leading thereto, and the means looking to the exemplification of courage; the second has to do with the responsibilities of God's people, the nature of the obligations, and the encouragement which comes therefrom. A cordial greeting awaits you.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH, WEST MONROE
E. E. Huntsberry, Pastor.
O. J. Thompson, Educational Director

The pastor, who has been in attendance upon the Southern Baptist convention, which met in New Orleans, will preach at both hours Sunday. The theme for the 10:50 hour will be "A Surrendered Life." At the evening hour, his topic will be "The Benefits of Christianity." The church is looking forward to the daily vacation Bible school which will begin in the church June 7 and continue two weeks. The teachers and instructors have received valuable coaching under Mrs. Allen of Shreveport, who spent a week giving special instructions to members of the school faculty. The educational director, who has also been in New Orleans attending the convention, will be on the field and have charge of special musical numbers for the Sunday services. Mr. Thompson, who is president of the B. T. U., urges a full attendance of the organization at 6:45 p.m.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST
Corner Auburn Avenue And North Second Street

Sunday services 11 a.m.; Sunday school, 9:30 a.m.; Wednesday evening testimony meetings, 8 o'clock. Reading room, 602 Ouachita National bank building, open daily, except Sunday and holidays, 11:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The public is welcome to all services and the use of the reading room. "Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, May 16, 1937. Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Know ye that the Lord He is God: it is He that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are His people, and the sheep of his pasture." (Ps. 100). The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man's genuine selfhood is recognizable only in what is good and true. Man is neither self-made nor made by mortals. God created man." (p. 294).

GRACE EPISCOPAL CHURCH
North Fourth And Glenmar Streets
Edward Farren Hayward, Rector

The church, this Sunday, celebrates the festival of the Holy Ghost, with great pomp and rejoicing. Whitsunday, or Pentecost, ranks in importance with Christmas, Easter and Ascension day, and is like these named festivals, a day of holy obligation. Think of the joy and rapture of the little church, rent up in Jerusalem, when the Eternal Spirit suddenly manifested His presence, and assured them that Christ, enthroned at the right hand of the Father, had obtained the promised gift for their comfort and support. The coming of the Holy Ghost, was the seal from the Most High, certifying the whole gospel to be from God. It proved the risen Jesus to be the glorified Jesus, and not only inspired the church with moral courage, but filled them with supernatural gifts and with divine energy. Pentecost or Whitsunday, is the birthday of the church. Services on Pentecost are as follows: The Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at 7:30 a.m. All communicants in good standing are expected to receive the holy communion. Church school will assemble at 9:30 a.m. The 11 o'clock service will consist of a vocal eucharist and sermon by the rector. Evensong will be said and sermon preached by the rector at Saint David's, Rayville, at 4:30 p.m. The church is open daily from 7:30 a.m until 5:30 p.m. Come in, rest, pray, give thanks, and meditate.

CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE
Thomas at Richmond Street
G. M. and Ina Lee Akin, Pastors

Mr. S. P. Quigley, superintendent, will assemble the Sunday school at 9:45 a. m. All teachers and officers are requested to be present. Preaching at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Rev. G. M. Akin will preach at the morning service and Mrs. Ina Lee Akin will speak at the evening hour. The junior N. Y. P. S. will meet at 4 p. m. The senior group will meet at 6:45 p. m. with Mr. O. L. Hoskins, president, in charge. The W. M. S. will meet Tuesday at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Ina Lee Akin, president, in charge. Mid-week prayer meeting, Wednesday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

CHURCH OF CHRIST
South Second And Apple Streets
J. P. Lowrey, Minister

Bible study, 9:45 a.m.; preaching 11 a.m. and 7:45 p.m. Sermon subject Sunday morning: "Distinctive Peculiarities of the Church of Christ." Communion morning and evening Ladies' Bible class, 2:30 p.m., Tuesday. Prayer service, 7:45 p.m. Wednesday. Young peoples' meeting, 7:45 p.m., Friday. Worship with us.

TRINITY LUTHERAN CHURCH
Harrison and D'Arbonne Streets
Sherrouse Addition
Vernon C. Grosse, Pastor

Sunday school and Bible class at 9:45 a. m. Church services at 10:45 a. m. We are happy to note the increase in attendance at our services, and also in the Sunday school and Bible class. We welcome everyone to attend either, or both. The sermon will be based on the Gospel of St. John 17, 17. "Sanctify them through Thy truth, Thy Word is truth."

GORDON AVENUE METHODIST CHURCH
J. M. Alford, Pastor

The next three Sundays will be "special days" of work at the Gordon Avenue Methodist church. This will bring us up to the date of our district conference which meets June 2. At a meeting of the board of stewards, Sunday, May 16, was designated as "dollar day" for our church, and special offerings will be made at the next three Sunday services. At a meeting of the church board of Christian education Wednesday evening, it was decided to make the fifth Sunday, May 30, "Church School day," when different departments of the school will render programs. Miss Eleona Brinsmade, superintendent of the children's division, is chairman of the program committee. All the regular services will be held at the usual hours Sunday. The missionary society will meet at the church Tuesday at 3 p.m., for a regular monthly program which will be led by Mrs. Dallas Cain, chairman of circle No. 2.

CHAPTER XXXI

Gypsy had just fallen into a troubled sleep after tossing restlessly for hours. The shrilling of the telephone startled her bolt upright in her twin bed. Across the way Tom slept soundlessly, one arm flung over his head.

She scrambled for her mules, could not find them in the dark, and rushed to silence the clangorous summons. There was something unearthly about being awakened thus in the dead of night. Everything looked eerie in the darkness; the telephone table and stool were a darb blob against the moonlit wall.

"Hello! Hello!" Her heart was thudding painfully. It might be a wrong number—of course, it might be. No use borrowing trouble.

There was a faint buzzing at the other end. Then she heard her mother's voice, infinitely shaken, infinitely weary.

"Gypsy!"

She said "Yes!" quickly, passionately, as if by so doing she might take whatever trouble there was from the frail, sloping shoulders of the woman in Blue Hills. Something dreadful must be wrong, her thoughts ran. Something dreadful . . . what?

"Gypsy, father's been hurt. He's very . . ."

She did not catch the rest. There was a cold sweat on her palms now, on her forehead. There was sickness at the very core of her being.

"Mother, how? Where?"

"A car; don't ask me now. But hurry. Tom's there?"

"Yes, yes, of course! We'll come right away."

She heard her mother sigh, as if in mortal sadness. Then the receiver clicked. She was alone in the vast stillness of the night.

A light flashed on down the hall and Tom came out of the bedroom, his dressing gown flung on over his pajamas, his hair rumpled small-boy fashion. Gypsy forgot in that moment all their difficulties and misunderstanding. He was again her prop and stay, her beloved partner.

"Daddy," she gulped. "He's hurt! It must be very serious. Mother says to come right away."

She was clinging to him, sobbing as though her heart would break. But the moment of weakness was soon over. She began frenziedly to dress.

"I've got the car in town. That's lucky." Tom was already knotting his tie, fully dressed. He looked pale and serious.

"Oh, you have?" She hadn't known this and it was significant. She and Tom hadn't been telling each other things these days. But she didn't care now why he had it nor how. All that mattered was that it would get them to Jersey as quickly as possible.

When they got down to the street, the sleeping baby on his father's shoulder, they found broken clouds scudding over the face of the moon. The day's rain, the week's rain, was quickly drying in the gutters as the west wind blew through the narrow streets.

"Two o'clock," Tom offered, as the attendant wheeled the little car out into the middle of the big empty concrete garage. It was cold, dreary, desolate. Only this man, in his shabby blue overalls, yawning and blinking over a copy of a detective magazine, was visible. Gypsy shivered and held David's warm, limp softness close to her as Tom took his place beside the wheel. It was strange; it was all strange and infinitely terrifying. They plunged into the maw of the Hudson tunnels and flashed by solitary policemen who gazed at them incuriously. Once on the other side of the river, Tom made time. The roads were empty except for an occasional cruising taxi.

"Fifty minutes," Tom announced as they passed the first sign reading, "You are now entering the incorporated village of Blue Hills; 20 miles an hour speed limit."

Gypsy sat tense, rigid, her fingers curving around the baby's shawled form. Upper Dean street . . . home . . . with lights in all the windows and the doctor's coupe parked in the drive. Her knees were shaking, her hands icy.

"Here, let me take him." Tom's capable hands took the bundle from her and she was free to rush up the worn steps.

Clytie opened the door soundlessly at their approach, an unfamiliar Clytie in a black dress put on hastily, her woolly mop all awry.

"How is he?" Gypsy whispered.

"The doctor say he very bad," Clytie said, rolling her eyes. "He say you come right up." She reached for the baby and held him with a capable air, leaving Tom to follow Gypsy up the broad stairs.

Everything in the big house was hushed. Beatrice and Bertram sat gravely on the window seat at the head of the staircase. The girl twin had been crying. Her eyes were red-rimmed and the handkerchief she pressed to them was sodden. She whispered that Gypsy was to go straight up. Mother was waiting for her.

The wide room with the old-fashioned rounded bay, the room Gypsy remembered from earliest girlhood as "mother's room," was still and orderly now. A twist of white paper shaded the lamp on the little cherry table beside the bed. Dr. Bannerman was there. Mrs. Morell was there. A nurse was there. Gypsy, who had been frightened before, was transfixed at the sight of the latter. If Daddy had a nurse he must indeed be desperately ill. The Morells never had had a trained nurse in the house except once for a day and a night when Mother came home from the hospital.

The doctor caught sight of Gypsy and Tom in the doorway and said something inaudible to Mrs. Morell. She lifted apathetic eyes, and followed him out into the hall.

He gave the girl a warning glance behind her mother's back.

"Perfect quiet," he said. Gypsy thought proudly that he was mistaken if he thought she was going to make a fuss. Why, to make a fuss now, with Daddy desperately ill, would be the worst thing that could happen!

"How did it . . .?"

Mrs. Morell sat down in the low chair beside the machine in the sewing room. It was untidy, littered with scraps of chintz. There were white threads all over the shabby Axminster carpet. No one noticed or cared.

"He went to a board meeting—the town board," Mrs. Morell said lifelessly. She had been weeping but she was beyond tears now. She spoke mechanically, as though she had been all over this ground before. "He usually gets home before 11 but when he didn't tonight I wasn't worried. I thought he'd been delayed. It seems he was alone on the River road. The rains had washed away some of the shoulder. He must have been turning out to avoid someone. You know Daddy never did like driving at night," she interpolated pathetically. "They say it happened at 10:30. The car clock stopped then. And they didn't find him—the policeman didn't—until he made his rounds at quarter past 1. They brought him home—" Her eyes began to fill again and she shook her head, unable to go on.

Gypsy's eyes sought the doctor's. "Concussion," he said briefly. "He hasn't regained consciousness."

"If I might see you for a moment, doctor?" The nurse was in the doorway and Gypsy hated her, her self-possession, her almost smiling calm, her assurance. If Daddy were going to die . . . if Daddy were going to die . . .

Mrs. Morell started up. "He's not to be left alone," she said fiercely. "I told her particularly he was not to be left alone." She went back to the sickroom and after an instant the crackling figure of the nurse followed, leaving Gypsy free to confer with the physician.

"You can tell me the truth," she begged.

"It's very grave. It may be . . ." he hesitated on the words. "It may be a matter of hours. That's why I suggested you should come."

"But can't we do something—get somebody? Specialists . . . anything?"

"I've already phoned Martineau . . . Dr. Henle Martineau at Newark," he told her. "He's a brain man. He'll be here presently. If he lasts until morning . . ."

Gypsy paled at the words. How cold and unfeeling all these people were! Why, they couldn't let Daddy die like this. It wasn't fair. He had watched over them all, protected them, and now they were letting him slip away without trying to keep him.

"You've got to get him," she said fiercely. "Tom could go and bring him."

"My dear child, everything will be done. Rest assured of that. But we can't perform miracles."

Tom put an arm around her to steady her. Below stairs they could hear Clytie murmuring to the child who had awakened now. Otherwise the house was deadly still.

"I'm frightened," Gypsy whimpered when she and Tom were alone again in the hall. "I'm frightened. Tell me what to do, Tommy!"

It was like being a child again, alone in the dark, desperately afraid.

She went back into the room where the sick man lay, motionless, in the shaded light. At least she could be near—could be on hand if he (blessed and unbelievable miracle!) were to open his tired eyes.

Harlow And Taylor Co-Star In 'Personal Property'

One of the great love stories of the age, "Seventh Heaven," the picture that starred Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell is at the Paramount Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday with Simone Simon and James Stewart.

Public heart-breaker number one becomes "Personal Property" number one in this light comedy featuring Robert Taylor and Jean Harlow. In "Personal Property" Taylor and Harlow make their first co-starring appearance together. At the Paramount today and Monday.

Those zanies of many screen successes, Victore Moore and Helen Broderick, make a hilarious team in "We're On the Jury," playing Friday at the Capitol. This nutty story of two mental incompetents features Phillip Huston, Louise Latimer and Billy Gilbert.

James Barrie's novel, "Quality Street," comes to the screen as a faithful presentation of his work. Katharine Hepburn and Franchot Tone are co-starred with Eric Blore, Fay Baintor and Cora Witherspoon. Playing at the Paramount Friday.

A gala list of stars, an amusing story and romantic background make "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" a "must see" picture. Showing Tuesday and Wednesday at the Capitol, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" stars Joan Crawford, Robert Montgomery and William Powell with Frank Morgan, Jessie Ralph, Benita Hume, Aileen Pringle and Nigel Bruce.

Spying is dangerous but it is nothing to what a girl can do to you, says Edmund Lowe in "Espionage," a drama of love and rivalry, with Madge Evans, Paul Lukas and Ketti Gallian, which plays at the Capitol Thursday.

New Picture Showing At Paramount

Reginald Owen Also Featured In Cast Supporting New Team Of Lovers

THE versatile Robert Taylor comes straight from the arms of Greta Garbo in "Camille" into the embrace of Jean Harlow in "Personal Property," which opened yesterday at the Paramount theater.

These stars are teamed for the first time in this picture and their work together won the cordial appreciation of a capacity audience. The story is mirthful and the cast presents it with skill. The direction by W. S. Van Dyke is excellent and maintains his record of having never made an unsuccessful picture.

In support of Miss Harlow and Taylor there are Reginald Owen, Una O'Connor, Henrietta Crosman, E. E. Clive, Cora Witherspoon, Marla Shelton, recent Hollywood discovery, Forrester Harvey, Lionel Braham and Barnett Parker.

Taylor portrays the character of a young and handsome family black sheep who has a very self-righteous older brother, played by Owen, who hopes to marry a certain charming woman for her money. As it happens, the younger brother takes a second rate job in a bailiff's office which requires him to stand guard over the property of people whose debt have overwhelmed them. One of these unfortunates is his brother's intended wife.

In this situation, Taylor and Miss Harlow swiftly fall in love, embarrassing the virtuous brother no end until he discovers that she is penniless. It is an amusing plot and extremely well handled by the stars and their supporting cast.

The picture is based on the H. M. Harwood stage hit, "Man in Possession," with, of course, the additional scope of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studios to give it the ultra modern touch of smart comedy.

'Men Are Not Gods' Plays At Capitol

Miriam Hopkins Starred In Romantic And Amusing United Artists Film

THE ROMANTIC complications that ensue when a dramatic critic's impulsive secretary alters one of her boss's reviews and sends an actor she has never seen soaring to overnight fame are described in amusing fashion in "Men Are Not Gods," Miriam Hopkins' latest starring vehicle which comes to the Capitol theater for two days beginning today.

The newest offering of Alexander Korda's imposing new Denham studios, "Men Are Not Gods" marks the first English production Miss Hopkins has made.

Gertrude Lawrence, Sebastian Shaw, Rex Harrison and A. E. Matthews are prominent in the supporting cast of the film which Walter Reisch directed from his own original story.

A bright, modern comedy with a powerful dramatic climax, "Men Are Not Gods" tells the story of pretty Ann Williams, secretary to Mr. Skeates, London's leading dramatic critic. When Ann lets herself be persuaded by an actor's wife to turn a vitriolic review of the actor's "Othello" into a "rave," she automatically lets herself out of her job and into one of the most dramatic angles the screen has ever shown.

The settings for "Men Are Not Gods," which reproduces such celebrated London landmarks as Hyde Park, the Savoy hotel, the Royal Academy, and the "Cheshire Cheese," famous Fleet street hostelry, were designed by Vincent Korda, London film art director. London's celebrated Alhambra theater is seen for the last time in the film, as its scheduled wrecking was postponed to permit the performance of "Othello," with Sebastian Shaw playing the title role and Gertrude Lawrence as Desdomona, scenes of which are a dramatic highlight of the film. The impressive photographic effects were achieved by Charles Rosher and the costumes were created by Rene Hubert.

"Men Are Not Gods" is released through United Artists.

FACTORS IN LARGE SCALE PROJECTS NOTED IN STORY

FHA Cites Considerations Important To Sponsors Of Developments

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Several factors that have a great bearing upon the success, soundness, and stability of large-scale housing projects, sometimes overlooked by developers who consider locations merely from traditional aspects, were pointed out in an article appearing in the current issue of The Insured Mortgage Portfolio, official publication of federal housing administration.

It is frequently possible, the article stated, that experienced builders, familiar with the communities in which they operate and with seasoned judgment of the various characteristics of neighborhoods, arrive at correct decisions regarding neighborhoods "without consciously considering the many elements by which a location should be judged and rated."

Needs Outlined

These considerations, however, if overlooked may produce unsatisfactory results and are discussed in detail in the article. Among the primary considerations pertaining to the scientific development of a large scale project are the following, according to the article: Need for housing, obtainable rents, and occupancy of similar buildings. The following problems are discussed and considered in some detail:

"Is there a need for the proposed accommodations? At what safe levels can they be rented at satisfactory occupancy rates? Is the contemplated improvement appropriate to the site, the neighborhood, the community, and the income group which it is designed to serve. Also, in the existing building and mortgage markets, can the proposed buildings be built and operated at the obtainable rents with a reasonable business chance that the mortgagee will earn a rate upon his investment and obtain its return within a reasonable term? Is there a sufficient chance of profit in the venture to interest equity capital seeking a sound, long-term investment?"

Factors Explored

The questions thus delineated are factors which are explored carefully on projects applying for governmental mortgage insurance under terms of the national housing act. A thoroughgoing analysis will possibly take into consideration other factors, but these questions are considered primary in connection with the issuance of insurance contracts upon large-scale developments.

General economic characteristics of a community are not the least important consideration, it was stated. The long-term future of industrial, commercial, and other business activity; finance and taxation in the community; the condition of the public debt in any given section; the communal housing need; conformity with the direction of dwelling development in a given section; transportation, roads, etc.; age of the neighborhood, are all detailed in the article as additional factors of importance to the soundness of a large-scale operation.

Value Studied

Adverse influences, which must be considered in any such development, are also discussed, including smoke, railroad terminals, switch yards, gas-manufacturing plants, sewage-disposal plants, and other elements that would detract from a residential community.

A study of the value of the land to be utilized is considered a final element that merits careful examination, which depends greatly, it was said, upon the experience and judgement of the examiner and an investigation of sales, listings, recorded deeds and conveyances, and other information pertinent to this question.

Panel Heating Gaining Favor In This Country

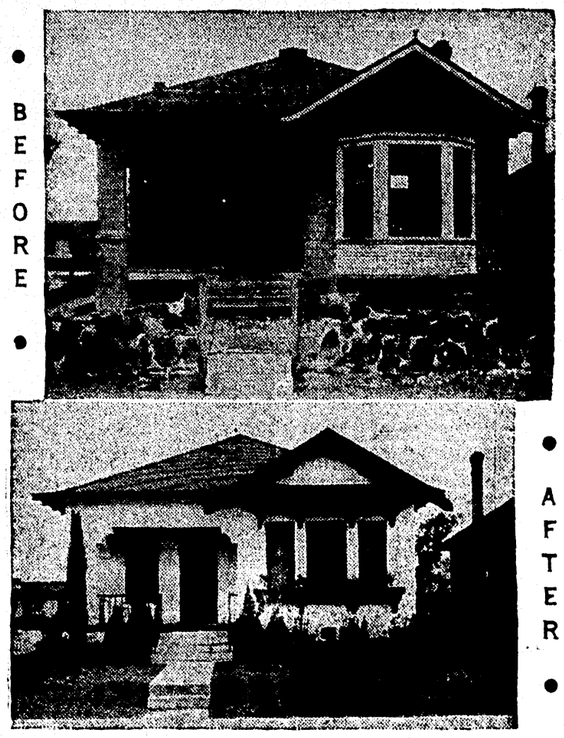
An interesting method of heating used in Europe is gaining favor and wider use in this country. This method, known as panel heating, calls for the installation of labyrinth piping in the walls, ceiling or floor of the room, but not exposed within the room. The pipes are concealed by a material which is a good conductor of heat and that does not absorb radiant heat, thus by circulating hot water or steam through the labyrinth pipe the surface which contains the piping is kept near the temperature of the water or steam, and this heat is radiated to the rooms, producing a pleasing effect similar to that experienced from the rays of the sun or the open fire.

It has been rather well established that cold walls within a room are one of the common causes of discomfort in winter, even though the air temperature in the same room may be approximately 70 degrees, thus panel heating, which heats the walls and in turn raises the air temperature within the room, has certain advantages.

GROUP SEEKS MORTGAGES

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich.—The General Discount Corporation of Detroit, representing an eastern syndicate, has announced that it will accept any home mortgage in this area which meets with the approval of the federal housing administration. The purpose of the decision is to release mortgage money which has been tied up for the past few years.

Arizona's "Inspiration Home"



These pictures show what can be accomplished with the most commonplace sort of house. A dilapidated bungalow was chosen in the city of Tucson to become the city's model home project. An architect, building supply dealers, paint contractors, and other interested parties cooperated in creating the attractive home seen in the "after" picture. The fixtures and decorations include the most modern improvements. The home has been visited by thousands of persons.

U. S. MORTGAGE PLAN STIMULATES PROPER PROGRAM

Speculative Development Discouraged By Federal Housing System

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Evidence of a growing response to the federal housing administration's efforts to encourage the use of proper planning techniques in subdivisions and the the prevention of the opening of unnecessary speculative developments is found in the record number of rulings made by the subdivision unit of the underwriting secretary during the month of January.

According to a report made public here, subdivisions totaling more than 5,300 acres and providing for 15,443 lots were reviewed by the subdivision unit, a record both for acreage and number of lots. Though February may show a decrease over January, it seems likely that rulings will far exceed those made in February of last year.

Cases Increase

In commenting upon the steady increase in the number of cases submitted for ruling, Frederick M. Babcock, chief of the underwriting section, stated that the upward trend is due both to the general improvement of the building industry and to the growing acceptance of the insured mortgage system as a method of financing new-home construction.

"Strictly speaking, the federal housing administration has no control over subdivision development," Mr. Babcock said. "Actually, because of our refusal to insure properties in neighborhoods which do not offer the prospect of stability over a period of years, the federal housing administration's program can act as a brake upon those developments which are only lot-selling schemes.

Suitable Location

"Before we will consider a new neighborhood as a location suitable for long-term investments, we require the developer to demonstrate that there is an effective demand for houses of the type which he is building, at the price which he is asking, in the location in which he is operating.

"We also ask that he show us that the property owners will be protected by adequate zoning ordinances and deed restrictions against encroachment of undesirable features, such as industrial or business establishments in a residential neighborhood. In addition, we require that he show us that adequate provisions will be made for sanitation, health, and convenience through the installation of sewers, water lines, streets, sidewalks, transportation, and other public conveniences.

Improvements Suggested

"In examining plans for a new development, we attempt to make recommendations which will improve the appearance of the neighborhood, increase its chances of success, and, in many cases, decrease the cost of improving the land and reduce selling costs."

Improvements occasionally suggested by the federal housing administration include substitution for the old "grid" type of layout of more economical and attractive types of layout with long blocks, winding streets, culs-de-sac, and other planning innovations which allow for a better use of land and decrease the cost of improvements, Mr. Babcock said.

Suggestions are also made as to the best method of determining the need for houses in a community, and methods of marketing houses on a more modern basis are also pointed out.

Modernization Of Many Homes Needed Yearly

Only a small percentage of the families of the country can be housed in new dwellings each year, according to the federal housing administration. Hence, improvement of existing dwellings is a most important factor in the general improvement of housing standards. Some 900,000 homes have been improved with the proceeds of notes insured under the modernization credit plan since it was put n operation. In addition, 250,000 two-family houses and apartments were improved by such loans, as well as 150,000 other properties, comprising business and industrial buildings, hotels, hospitals, orphanages, colleges, schools, churches and farms.

As in the two previous years, the availability of modernization credit insurance was made the occasion for a wide variety of local and national activities to promote modernization and repair work. Business and professional groups connected with construction and local better housing committees conducted community enterprises of this type of several thousand cities and towns.

Unless congress extends this part of the act, it will expire April 1.

BUILDING INCREASES

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—An increased demand for all lines of building material has recently developed in this city, with orders indicating preparation for new housing construction. Skilled workmen of the building trades are finding steady work, and employment conditions for electricians, plumbers, steam-fitters, etc., are developing as the new construction progresses.

Lighting Problems Of Homes, Shops Solved By Engineers

Lighting engineers are confronted with many problems in the planning of correct lighting effects for various types of establishments.

In store lighting, the merchandise must be attractively displayed, and every means that may contribute to sales appeal must be utilized. Light is an able and efficient salesman cheerfully working 24 hours a day if required.

To display wares successfully, the psychological effect on possible customers as well as the advantageous and adequate lighting of surroundings must be considered.

In food shops, it is generally conceded that cleanliness is essntial; they must look inviting, and commodities must be presented in a bright, appetizing manner. A barber shop shop must be and look sanitary, and the work done there demands sufficient light from all angles.

Women's apparel shops requlre a quiet, subdued atmosphere, with special spotlights that may be centered on particular offerings displayed in attractive cases and satisfactory illumination for mirrors. Department stores need brilliant lighting for certain sections and less stimulating effects for others.

Meat markets, shops, clothing stores, vegetables markets, drug stores, laundries, candy shops—all have their particular requirements.

Judiciously chosen fixtures are of valuable assistance in augmenting lighting effects, in adding to the beauty and artistic atmosphere of surroundings, and in forming the perfect complements to correct display.

Many satisfactory and useful lighting fixtures and arrangements have been placed on the market during the past year, and operators or owners of stores will wind it advantageous to give consideration to a possible installation of new fixtures. Of particular interest are the artificial daylighting developments that have proved of great assistance in many stores.

The proper lighting of private homes is becoming a more scientific matter in modern houses. When a home is built under the insured mortgage system of the federal housing administration, adequate lighting is provided for.

FHA LITERATURE USED AS TEXT IN SCHOOL

CINCINNATI, O.—The professor of economics at the Roger Bacon High school is using federal housing administration literature to supplement text books in his classes. He requested booklets to be distributed to all of his students.

Dr. Peterson, professor of economics at the University of Cincinnati, has also requested literature to be distributed to his classes.

Insured Mortgage Yield Shows Many Advantages Over Others

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Four tables showing the nominal and effective annual yield on insured mortgages have been prepared by the economics and statistics division of the federal housing administration. They provide a simple method of comparing the yield on a portfolio of insured mortgages with yields on other types of investment securities.

Mortgage-lending institutions, insurance companies, endowment and institutional funds, and other agencies which might purchase large blocks of insured mortgages are thus provided with a method of comparing yields received on a monthly basis with those received on a semi-annual basis, as in the case of bonds, etc.

The first two computations show yields of 5 per cent mortgages purchased at face value or at premiums ranging from 1 per cent to 10 per cent. The last two tables show yields on mortgages which have been foreclosed and for which the administrator has issued debentures bearing 3 per cent interest per annum.

Tables can be used by the mortgagee to determine beforehand the average yield on a block of mortgages, including a definite foreclosure percentage for the whole portfolio. Computations, including debentures, are based upon the supposition that the mortgage-lending institution will retain the debentures until maturity. Yields would be larger, however, in case the debentures were sold before that time.

Table I, showing the nominal annual yield on federal housing administration 5 per cent mortgages purchased at or above face value, demonstrates that nominal yields vary from 5.05 per cent on a 20-year note purchased at face value to 2.99 per cent on a 10-year note purchased at a 10 per cent premium.

Table IA demonstrates the effective annual yield, computations being based upon the receipt of interest at the rate of five-twelfths of 1 per cent monthly, on the outstanding unamortized principal amount of the mortgage. Yields range from 5.12 per cent on a 20-year mortgage purchased at face value to 3.01 per cent on a 10-year mortgage purchased at a premium of 10 per cent.

As shown in Table II, nominal yields on mortgages purchased at face value and exchanged for federal housing administration 3 per cent debentures range from 3.12 per cent chased in the first year to 5.05 per cent when the mortgage is exchanged during the year in which it matures.

Effective yields on mortgages exchanged for debentures, as shown in Table IIA, range from 3.15 per cent when a 20-year mortgage is exchanged during the first year to 5.12 per cent when the mortgage is exchanged in the year of its maturity.

Federal housing administration officials point out that in using the tables, which are printed in full in the March issues of the "Insured Mortgage Portfolio," the following considerations must be borne in mind:

1. Interest on insured mortgages is earned monthly at a rate of five-twelfths of 1 per cent of the outstanding unamortized principal.
2. Interest on debentures is earned semi-annually at a rate of 1 1-2 per cent of the face value.
3. The value of debentures exchanged for defaulted mortgages is equivalent to the amount of the unamortized principal of the mortgage at the time of default. The maturity date of such debentures is three years subsequent to the original maturity of the mortgage for which they are exchanged.
4. Yields are exclusive of the annual service charge of one-half of 1 per cent paid by the mortgagor and are accurate within 5-1000 of 1 per cent.
5. No allowance has been made for foreclosure costs, which are covered by federal housing administration certificates of claim.

LOANS REACH HIGH MARK IN LOUISIANA

Savings And Homestead Associations Lend Over Forty-Two Per Cent

NEW ORLEANS, May 15.—(Special)—Louisiana savings and loan and homestead associations made 465 loans accepted for insurance by the federal housing administration for a total of $1,960,455, as of April 1, it was announced here today by Mr. Fred L. Bailey, state director of the Louisiana office of the federal housing administration.

Of the total of $4,620,638 in loans accepted for insurance by the federal housing administration on Louisiana residential property by all approved lending institutions in the state on April 1, the 30 savings and loan and homestead associations there accounted for 42.43 per cent. This gives Louisiana associations third place as compared with similar institutions in all other states.

Mr. Bailey pointed out that 149 of these loans have been made for the construction of new homes costing $658,045, for an average of $4,416 per home.

The success of the insured mortgage plan is attributed to the mortgage investment standards inherent in the administration's risk-rating system, the elimination of the burdensome second mortgage, the small monthly payment made possible by the maximum 20-year amortized loan, and the inclusion of all the housing financing charges in one convenient installment payment which is easily budgeted.

NEW TOWN PLANNED AS HOUSING PROJECT

PIOCHE, Nev.—A low-cost housing project is under discussion for this city by the Combined Metals company. Counting on the availability of cheap power from Boulder dam, this company is planning on building a new town about six miles west of the present city limits.

It is the intention of the company to build between 500 and 700 houses at a cost of approximately $2,500 each. When plans for the development are completed, company officials state, they will be submitted to the federal housing administration to be considered for insurance.

CARE NECESSARY IN LAYING SIDEWALKS

Concrete sidewalks should be laid with great care. A proper drainage bed of gravel, broken stone, or coarse cinders, free from sulphuric acid, should be prepared before the concrete is placed. The concrete should be of a strong compound and properly mixed, and expansion joints, filled with material made for that purpose, should be inserted about every four feet.

THE BUILDING OF TRINITY COLLEGE.—The construction of this great Irish house of learning was begun on March 16, 1591, and completed in January, 1593. All during the 22 months, while the college was being built, no rain fell in Dublin in the daytime to retard the work, although it often rained at night. The college, whose construction was thus favored by the heavens, presently ranked with the world's great institutions of learning. It led all the others in tolerance and liberalism.

RITES CONDUCTED FOR J. S. SNYDER

Large Assembly Attends Funeral Of Prominent Jena Resident

JONESVILLE, La., May 15.—(Special)—Funeral services were held here at the Trinity Episcopal church for J. A. Snyder, 45, prominent Jonesville merchant. The officiating ministers were Rev. K. C. Seawright of Jonesville and Rev. Ernest Duncan Holloway of Monroe. They were assisted by Rev. Shirley Briggs and Rev. J. S. Sensintaffar, both of Jonesville. Burial was made in the family plot in the Harrisonburg cemetery.

Mr. Snyder, who succumbed to heart trouble, was one of the most influential citizens of LaSalle parish. He was an active churchman. The funeral was attended by an assembly so large that it was necessary for some of those present to stand outside the building.

Surviving relatives are: The widow; three daughters, Rose Geraldine, Irma Kate and Louise Snyder, all of Jonesville; three sisters, Mrs. Imogene Guss, Jonesville; Mrs. Wilbur Ellis, and Mrs. Eva Johnson, Monroe.

Active pallbearers were: Horace Hale, Jack Castles, O. R. Wurster, Curtis Stroud, R. P. Boyd, M. L. Grayson, Dan LaPrarie, Charles Phillips.

Honorary pallbearers were: J. R. Boyd, C. L. Wurster, John Miller, Allen Swayze, T. W. Mosley, L. L. Lazarus, B. Z. Foreman and W. L. Enete, Sr.

UNITY GROUP TO MEET

Mrs. Elisa Rosenberg, leader of a group of local students of Unity, a branch of the Unity organization of Kansas City, Mo., who met in Hotel Virginia for services each Sunday up to a year ago, when the leader left Monroe, has returned and will conduct a service at this hotel today at 10:45 a.m. All of her old students and friends are invited to attend. The service today will be the only one held, as Mrs. Rosenberg will leave during this week for her home.

PHI KAPPA WILL HOLD CONVENTION

Phi Kappa fraternity will hold its 1937 convention in Memphis June 21-23 and a large attendance is anticipated. The convention was held in Monroe last year and this year a number of members of the local chapter are planning to attend.

Two young women from Monroe will attend as sponsors. They are Miss Libby Haynes and Miss Virginia Husted. Bill Haynes, Monroe, is chairman of the executive committee.

Cities besides Monroe in which chapters of this fraternity are maintained are Hattiesburg, Meridian, Laurel and Gulfport, Miss.; Minden and Alexandria, La.; El Paso, Tex., Mobile, Ala., and Memphis, Tenn.

Two national officers will attend, and there will be four dances, three at night and one tea dance with banquet and barbecue.

Grew Worse Each Day Until Gly-Cas

Mr. Jensen Could Hardly Get About So Crippled With Rheumatism, Unable To Work The Past Few Years; "Given A New Lease On Life By Gly-Cas," He Declares.

"Gly-Cas accomplished what all else failed to do in my case—it gave me back my health," said Mr. John Jensen, 109 Gray street, Lake Charles, La. "For the past four years rheumatism had settled in my right hip and knee, crippling me until I could hardly get around and for the past few years I had been unable to do any work. My kidneys were badly affected which caused almost continual pains in the small of my back. My entire system was filled with poisons due to many years of constipation. It was difficult for me to get a restful night's sleep and with the pains throughout my body I felt worn-out completely, lacked the energy to do anything it seemed. I endured terrible dizzy spells, head would swim and even my eyesight was blurred. I took many different kinds of medicine to get relief but met only with repeated failure. Then Gly-Cas was recommended as being different and I found it just that.

"Little did I realize any medicine could give the good results of this new Gly-Cas," he continued. "My bowels were regulated almost at once and my kidneys soon functioned properly. My backache soon disappeared and I began to get a restful night's sleep. I am so improved today that I seldom feel any rheumatic trouble at all. I no longer have any need for my walking cane, dizzy spells are over, even have my former energy and really Gly-Cas has given me a new lease on life."

Gly-Cas is sold by Phoenix Drug Co., 348 DeSiard street, and by all leading drug stores in surrounding towns. (Adv.)

Use Of Resilient Material Noted On New Walls

There is an unmistakable trend toward the increased application of resilient flooring materials to wall decoration. Walls covered with linoleum, or other resilient material, are rapidly gaining favor with architects, decorators and home builders as a distinctively beautiful and practical method of wall decoration.

Lobbies and corridors of office buildings, hotels and apartment houses find this form of wall decoration protective, economical and easy to keep in order. Resilient floor materials may be used effectively in restaurants, bars, night clubs and theaters. In the home resilient-covered walls are especially suitable for bathrooms and kitchens, with wood paneling effects proving popular for living room or library wall decoration.

The federal housing administration insures mortgages made on homes by private financial institutions.

REPLICA OF MODEL HOME CONSTRUCTED

NEWARK, N. J.—A replica of the cottage to be exhibited at the National Home Show here will be built at the Quarter Acres development in Westfield and will be open to the public simultaneously with the model home at the Armory. The second house is being built to show how the house will appear on a plot of ground surrounded by other homes. It will also have a cellar and complete plumbing and heating equipment, which the Home Show model will not possess.

FLAT PAINT HAS GOOD DECORATIVE QUALITIES

Flat paint is desirable from a decorative standpoint in achieving a soft, pleasing effect, and applied to wall and ceiling surfaces it gives a glareless reflection of light.

Private financial institutions insured by the federal housing administration advance funds for the painting and decoration of homes.

Ideal Kitchen Can Be Planned For Equipment

The ideally convenient kitchen should be arranged from a carefully-thought-out set of plans, made before any equipment of any sort is placed in the room. Spacing should be allowed for each piece of working machinery. Light and ventilation should be planned so that the room is always cheerful and comfortable.

A kitchen that suits the exact needs of a family may be worked out with the architect when a new home is being planned. The federal housing administration insures mortgages up to 80 per cent of the appraised value of the property. Rent-like payments include the amortization of the mortgage, interest, taxes, service charge, and all other fixed charges.

DICK TRACY

WELL, MINTWORTH, YOU'VE SEEN ALL THE EVIDENCE - NOW AREN'T YOU CONVINCED YOUR FORMER FIANCEE WAS A PERFUME THIEF AND SHOPLIFTER?

YES - YES, TRACY, YOU'VE CONVINCED ME.

by CHESTER GOULD

THANK HEAVENS! I DISCOVERED IT BEFORE SHE HAD A CHANCE TO MAKE A SAP OUT OF ME.

BEFORE SHE HAD A CHANCE?

YES - YOU SEE I HAD SPENT ONLY ABOUT SIX THOUSAND DOLLARS ON HER. I BOUGHT HER A MINK COAT AND A FEW OTHER TRINKETS.

ISN'T THAT BEING SAP ENOUGH? WHY EVERYBODY THINKS YOU'RE NUTS.

LISTEN, OLD FELLOW, YOU'VE BEEN A BRICK. WHAT SAY- TRACY - LET'S GO OVER TO TONY'S PLACE AND SPEND A COUPLE OF DAYS DROWNING OUR SORROWS? THE PARTY WILL BE ON ME.

NO THANKS, MINTWORTH! YOU'RE GOING HOME TO MOTHER!

OLIO

WHAT YOU NEED IS A BATH WITH GOOD STRONG SOAP AND A NICE LONG REST IN YOUR BEDDY-BEDDY.

YOU'RE MAKING YOURSELF A LITTLE BIT OBNOXIOUS, DETECTIVE.

SAY, JOHNNY, YOU PACK A FAIR WALLOP FOR A CABARET COWBOY, AT THAT.

TWENTY MINUTES LATER IN THE PALATIAL MINTWORTH MANSION.

IT'S MR. MINTWORTH WITH A GENTLEMAN FRIEND, M'AM.

SHOW THEM IN HERE, PEYNTEN.

NEWS

JOHNNY! MY POOR-POOR BOY.

THIS IS DETECTIVE TRACY, MOTHER.

EVERYONE - JUST EVERYONE TRIES TO TAKE ADVANTAGE OF HIM, MR. TRACY. AND HE ISN'T WELL, YOU KNOW.

I UNDERSTAND.

NOW, MY ADVICE, MRS. MINTWORTH, WOULD BE -

OH, BY THE WAY, MOTHER, TODAY'S THE DAY YOU PROMISED ME THAT CHECK FOR THREE THOUSAND TO MAKE THE LAST PAYMENT ON MY NEW DEWSEN-TWELVE COUPE.

SO I DID, SO I DID! OH, BY THE WAY, MR. TRACY, HAVE YOU EVER RIDDEN IN A DEWSEN-TWELVE?

NO - I WALK! - AND I'M TAKING A WALK NOW! - AS I WAS ABOUT TO SAY - STICK YOUR SON UP A DRAIN PIPE SOMEWHERE AND LEAVE HIM THERE. HE NEEDS TO BE ALONE!

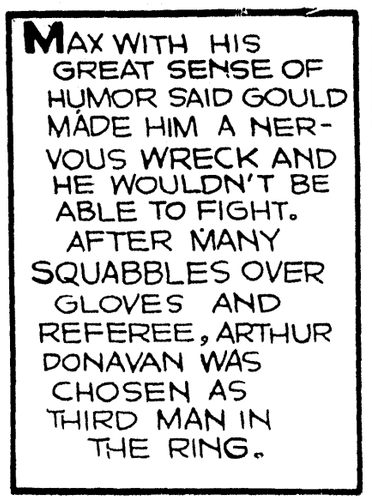
AT THE WEIGHING IN THERE WAS A LOT OF CONFUSION. AS MAX BAER EXTENDED HIS HAND AND WISHED BRADDOCK GOOD LUCK, LITTLE JOE GOULD JUMPED IN BETWEEN.



MAX WITH HIS GREAT SENSE OF HUMOR SAID GOULD MADE HIM A NERVOUS WRECK AND HE WOULDN'T BE ABLE TO FIGHT. AFTER MANY SQUABBLES OVER GLOVES AND REFEREE, ARTHUR DONAVAN WAS CHOSEN AS THIRD MAN IN THE RING.

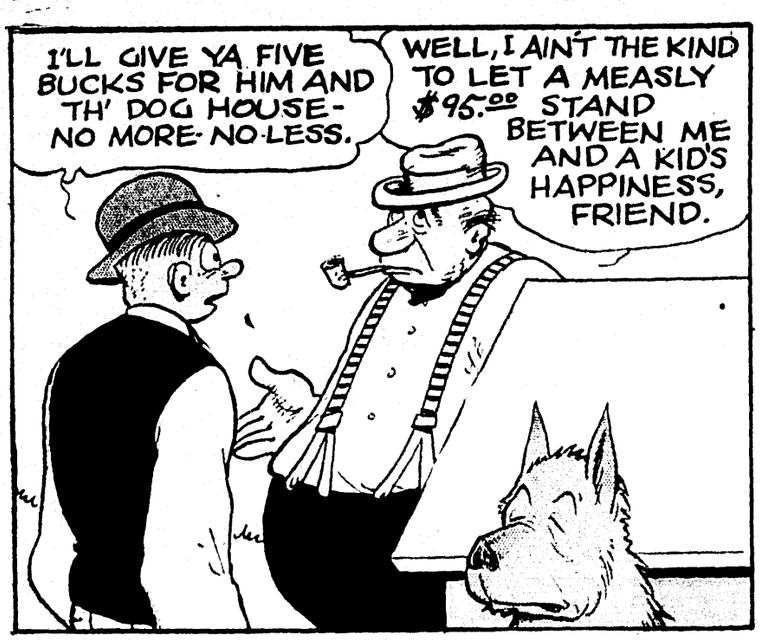
GEE! I WISHT I HAD ENOUGH DOUGH TO HIRE ME A GOOD, TOUGH PRIZE FIGHTER FOR A DAY OR TWO.
NOW JEST WHAT'D YOU DO WITH A GUY LIKE THAT, ANYWAY, KAYO?

I GUESS IT'D BE CHEAPER TO BUY ME A POLICE DOG AT THAT- THEN WHEN THAT PESTY MR. BUNGSTARTER STARTS ANYTHING WITH ME OR YOU, JEST LET NATURE TAKE IT'S COURSE.
KAYO, YOU DO HAVE IDEAS.



I'LL GIVE YA FIVE BUCKS FOR HIM AND TH' DOG HOUSE- NO MORE- NO LESS.
WELL, I AIN'T THE KIND TO LET A MEASLY $95.00 STAND BETWEEN ME AND A KID'S HAPPINESS, FRIEND.

KITTY HIGGINS

THANKS, KITTY. NOW WHERE IS THE CHANGE FROM THE DOLLAR I GAVE YOU?
THERE WASN'T ANY CHANGE. THE MAN SAID THEY WERE TWELVE PAIR FOR A DOLLAR.

POOR HIGGINS MUST NOT BE DOING SO WELL
KITTY!
SHOE STRINGS! WHO WANTS SHOE STRINGS, FOLKS? ONLY A DIME, TEN CENTS A PAIR!

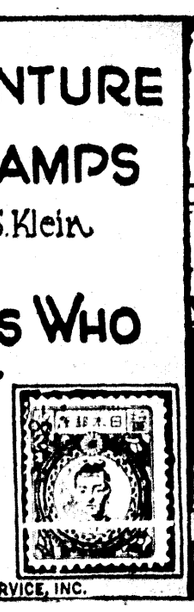
EMPRESS WHO FOUGHT LIKE A MAN



COPR. 1937 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

EMPEROR CHIUAI of Japan, in 200 A. D., climbed to the summit of a lofty mountain and looked westward for a land which the gods had told his empress in prayer was richer and greater than the country her husband sought to conquer. The emperor saw no such land, failed to heed the gods' advice, and so the deities wrought revenge by having him killed in battle, when subjects rose against him.

To avenge her husband's death, the Empress Jingo took command of the army, defeated the rebel enemy and then laid plans to conquer the promised land which the gods had revealed to her. She ordered ships to be built, a large army to be recruited, and the following year all was ready for the conquest.

In man's uniform, the Empress Jingo led her army across the Japanese Sea to Korea. She was about to give birth to a child, but the gods decreed that the birth be delayed until after the new land was conquered. With the sun, the stars and the birds as their guides, the valiant Japanese landed in Korea, conquered the land and made Japan an empire.

On her return the empress gave birth to a son, Ojim, and dedicated him to the spirit of war. Thus has "Jingo" to this day been allied with imperialism, and in the same spirit has Ojim been deified in Japan as the god of war. In shrines throughout Japan he is worshiped, especially by soldiers.

As for Jingo, her memory is retained on stamps issued by Japan in 1908 and 1925.

PROFESSOR, HOW FAR ARE WE FROM EARTH NOW?
ABOUT FIVE MILLION MILES
FIVE MILLION MILES FROM MY WIFE
SWELL! SHE WON'T HENPECK ME FOR A LONG TIME
I GET A KICK OUT OF OLD SAPPO— HA! HA!
YEAH, HE KEEPS ASKING ME HOW FAR AWAY WE ARE FROM HIS WIFE— AND THE FARTHER WE GO THE HAPPIER HE GETS
I'M GETTING TIRED OF HIDING AWAY— I'M GOING OUT WITH THE MEN— AND I'M HUNGRY, TOO
HOW FAR AM I AWAY FROM MY WIFE NOW?
ABOUT TWO INCHES, YOU WORM!!
